Man Succumbs in Brooklyn 10 Hours After Transplant

NEW YORK (AP) — Louis Block, the world's fifth heart transplant recipient, died today just 10 hours after a surgical team had implanted a much smaller woman's heart into the 170-pound man.

Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn said the death occurred at 4:35 a.m. and attributed it to the "pumping capacity of the transplanted heart and the poor condition of the lungs due to the patient's long standing heart disease."

A hospital statement said, "It is with a deep sense of regret that we must report the loss of our heart transplant patient. He was a brave and courageous man whose only real opportunity for life was through this procedure."

Block, a 57-year-old retired fireman, was put on the hospital's critical list at 12:40 a.m. when the hospital noted doctors were having "difficulty in maintaining his blood pressure." He was reported in "reasonably satisfactory condition" shortly after the surgery.

The hospital released word of the death shortly after 6 a'm. Its statement said, "It was an invaluable effort by the medical team" headed by Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz—the second transplant the team has performed.

'Great Hope'

It was the fifth such operation in 37 days. "Much has been learned from this experience and we still hold out great hope for this procedure in patients with severe heart disease," said the statement.

Kantrowitz, speaking to newsmen after the 8-hour-and-20-minute operation, indicated that the relative size of the two hearts—donor's and recipient's—could cause difficulty. "We have had some problems," he said.

The heart of the donor, Miss Helen Krouch of East Peterson, N.J., was "rather small—about half of the size we would have thought best," he said. She weighed less than 100 pounds, he said.

Because of this, the heart could not maintain the body's circulation by itself, Kantrowitz said, and an auxiliary pump was brought into use. The doctors thus performed two bold procedures in the same operation.

Meanwhile, preparations for another heart transplant operation were under way at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Oklahoma

Kasperak Critical But 'Improving'

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — The world's fourth heart transplant patient, Mike Kasperak, has been able to sit up and dangle his legs over the edge of his bed at Stanford Medical Center, doctors said today.

They advised the exercise to maintain circulation.

Kasperak's condition was listed as critical "but improving" on the fourth day after his operation, following complications and a setback.

The 59-year-old steelworker's condition had been considered satisfactory until Monday, when internal bleeding developed. Physicians said six pints of blood were transfused.

"Gastro-intestinal bleeding has stopped, and liver and kidney functions have slightly improved," the bulletin said.

Mrs. White Buried

Meanwhile the body of Mrs. Virginia White, 43, donor of the heart transplanted to Kasperak, was buried in Palo Alto.

"This was a humble yet famous thing, a history-making event," said the Rev. Watten R. Cheatham of the Church of Christ to 250 persons in a funeral home chapel.

"Around the world people now know of the willingness of the White family."

Mrs. White's husband Charles 'Bill" White, 43, told a crowded news conference how that willingness came about. Sitting with his two children, Judy, 18, and Rickey, 12, in their brown and white stucco home in Santa Clara, White said the heart transplant was not his idea.

His wife suffered a massive brain hemorrhage, he related, and after he got her to the hospital doctors told him there was no hope of saving her life.

He said he learned later that

Nine Die in Gas Blast in Pennsylvania

READING, Pa. (AP) — An explosion shattered two houses Tuesday night, killing nine persons.

Firemen, working all night, pulled the bodies from the tangled, blackened wreckage Some were burned beyond recognition.

Authorities tentatively identified the victims as Mrs. Frank Stanislaw, her children, Robert 17, and Linda, 12, occupants of one house, and Robert Geiser, his wife, Shirley, his mother, Ethel, 64, and three children, Robert, 15, Bonnie 5, and Karen, 3.

The only resident of the attached houses who escaped was Frank Stanislaw. He was walking home from a garage, where he had taken the family car, when the explosion rocked the neighborhood. Stanislaw, 48, was treated for shock at Community General Hospital.

Fire Chief Russell Bowers said a two-man city water crew had been digging in the front of the houses. Bowers said he was checking to see if they could have hit a gas line. The men, who had earlier been served coffee by Mrs. Stanislaw, were still working in the excavation when the explosion occurred.

A neighbor, Edgar M. Reidel Jr., said he had just gone to bed when he heard the blast and children screaming. He raced outside and bumped into Stanislaw, who was running toward home.

Reidel said the house interiors were blown apart and the upper floors were sinking into the lower floors. A sinking bed bore the woman, who cried out for help, neighbors said.

Reidel and another neighbor, Ervin Lindinger, tried to pull her out, but were driven back by flames.

Pentagon to Increase Army Draftee Quota

Communists Taking New War Offense

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON (AP) — Vietnam's Communist high command has committed its military forces to a burgeoning, nationwide offensive in the first days of 1968. It has two major objectives, the most experienced observers believe.

One is to undermine rural people's confidence in the Saigon government, particularly in regions where pacification has been a priority.

The second objective is the severe punishment of allied forces, testing their morale and writing headlines in the world's press. Three times more Americans were killed in the first week of 1968 than in the first week of 1967.

The objective of punishing allied forces was sought and partly gained by the Communists in the vicious border fighting at Dak To, Loc Ninh and at the demilitarized zone in the closing months of 1967.

Continue Strategy

This strategy has been continued into 1968 with a series of violent Communist actions against allied troops along the central coast where three North Vietnamese divisions are conducting forays into the rich coastal valleys. An omen came with the savage attack on two South Vietnamese marine battalions by the Viet Cong just 10 minutes after the new year began.

Allied commanders expected the regimental-size assaults along the Cambodian border in November and December. They had plenty of intelligence on the enemy intentions.

Allied field commanders did not expect the resurgence of North Vietnamese divisions thought to have been destroyed earlier in the year along the central coast, and the sudden appearance of locally recruited hard-core Viet Cong battalions that had been lying low through 1967 and appeared to have disintegrated.

Two of these local battalions occupied the provincial capital of Hau Nghia, west of Saigon, Monday morning and raised the red and gold Communist flag on a building. Another battalion overran the district town of Tuy Phuoc, near Qui Nhon, reputedly the most pacified district in the country. The Communists dragged the district chief from his house and killed him.

Back to Life

Other battalions long thought dead bounced back to life in the central highlands and the Mekong Delta.

Senior U.S. officers have described the past week as one of the most intense of the war.

Communist forces have taken heavy losses, particularly in the border battles. American forces generally dish out much more than they get, and while some U.S. units have been severely punished, morale remains high

The Communists have had more success in undermining the confidence of the population in the central government. This was particularly obvious in the villages around Tan Uyen, the district town occupied north of Bien Hoa, and at Hau Nghia, the provincial capital similarly occupied.

People in both these areas were sullen and worried Shop owners started sleeping nights in Saigon. Chiefs of hamlets stayed away from their villages

The effect of a large enemy force entering a pacified region was nowhere more pronounced than in Tuy Phuoc, the cradle of pacification in Vietnam, a region which serves as a pilot project for the revolutionary development programs all over Vietnam.

Government Control

This district, just north of Qui Nhon on the central coast, had 100 of its 114 villages not only under government control but actively defending themselves with locally recruited home guardsmen.

Then a North Vietnamese battalion moved in in late October. Soon came a local Viet Cong battalion that had hidden on the outskirts of the district for three years.

Within one month Tuy Phuoc began slipping from the Saigon government's grasp, according to U.S. advisers based there. The district town was overrun

39,000 to Be Inducted For March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources say the 39,000-man draft call announced for March is a sign of things to come this spring and summer—with monthly manpower requests of about 40,000 or more likely in April, May and June

Last year's draft summons in the same four-month period averaged only about 15,300 per month

As one manpower planner put it in describing the upswing: "We're dealing entirely with mechanics here."

The mechanics are that the Army is now in the midst of what the Pentagon calls a major replacement cycle involving the rotation out of service of thousands of men drafted when the Southeast Asia buildup was launched.

Really Soaring

By August replacement needs will really be soaring. The reason: In August 1966, when U.S. manpower for the war was escalated, 36,600 men were ordered to duty, followed by 37,300 in September, 49,200 in October and 37,600 in November.

Those men will be ending their two-year tours this fall, and the Pentagon has to allow about five months for the induction process and training in lining up ready replacements. Thus, March inductees actually will be August replacements.

Pentagon planners say it would be somewhat misleading to try to project 1968's April, May and June manpower needs simply by looking at the draft calls of September, October and November 1967 This is because enlistments and re-enlistments—over which the Pentagon has no control—help determine replacement needs and because the overall planned level of the armed forces must be considered

The Army strength stood at 1 47 million at the last accounting Nov 30 A new force level may be set for the fiscal year beginning July 1

The Pentagon declined to predict officially monthly draft calls for 1968's second quarter, but said in response to questions, "We can expect a relatively high level of draft calls to be required during the balance of the current fiscal year" ending June 30.

Tapering Off

After that there could be a tapering off in Pentagon requests to the Selective Service System. This would reflect the dip in December 1966 to 12,100 inductions and average monthly inductions in 1967 of only 18,200.

The 39,000-man call for March —second highest of the Vietnam war— compares with January's 34,000 and February's 23,300.

Calls in the Vietnam war reached a high of 49,200 in October 1966. Actually, 50,576 men were drafted then—there is always a difference between manpower request and the number brought in—making it the biggest month for inductions since 54,981 men were put in uniform in May 1953 near the end of the Korean War.

Rocket Has Close Call, Lands Safely on Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Narrowly missing a dangerous rock with what a space official called "divine guidance," Surveyor 7 settled down gently on the moon Tuesday night and televised the wildest scene yet found by U.S. lunar probes.

The three-legged craft, last of a $500-million series which has already certified four equatorial sites as safe for astronaut landing, was on a purely scientific mission to the 15,000-foot crater Tycho near the south-central edge of the lunar disc.

Given at best a 43 per cent chance of success, the unmanned Surveyor 7 surprised scientists by making an almost flat landing on a crater-pocked, boulder-strewn plateau not far from a ragged ridge 18 miles north of Tycho's rim.

Desolate Scene

Between the craft and the rim was a desolate scene, reminiscent of the crater Copernicus photographed earlier by lunar orbiters.

Pictures televised shortly after touchdown showed a landscape littered with rocks ejected from miles deep when the 50-mile wide Tycho was formed by a meteor impact ages ago.

One of the craft's three padded feet was only a fraction of an inch from a rock six to eight inches in diameter—big enough to have broken the skeletal metal leg.

Lee Shearer, assistant director of the U.S. space agency's lunar program, told a news conference: "The final 13 feet of the quarter-million mile flight was under divine guidance." That was the height from which Surveyor 7 dropped free after breaking rockets slowed its 6,000-mile-an-hour plunge toward the surface.

The rugged site was chosen deliberately by scientists hoping to determine whether there is any geological difference between the highlands where Surveyor 7 came down and the plains where manned landings are planned as early as next year.

Surveyor 7, launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Sunday, carries a small scoop to dig trenches as deep as 18 inches and a device to analyze lunar soil.

Flight controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said these probably would go into operation sometime today.

Dr. Barnard May Practice in U.S.

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard, who headed the South African team that performed the world's first human heart transplant, was reported today considering an offer to practice in the United States.

The London Evening Standard reported Barnard said in a telephone interview from Cape Town that he has had "quite a few" offers of jobs from the United States since the Dec. 3 heart transplant on Louis Washkansky. On Jan. 2 Barnard's 30-member team made a second heart transplant on Dr. Philip Blaiberg.

"There is one particular one which I am interested in," Barnard said. He did not elaborate beyond saying the offer was for himself and as many members of his medical team as he wanted to take along.

But Barnard stressed that he was not actively trying to leave South Africa, the newspaper said "The trouble is," he said, "that out here you are a little isolated For instance if there is a problem that you want to discuss with other experts in your field you have to contact London or the United States."

Barnard disclosed that he was rejected for a London hospital post four months before the historic operation.

The surgeon said an application he made last July for the post of consultant surgeon at the National Heart Hospital in London was turned down

He said he cabled his application because he heard of the vacancy at the last minute.

A spokesman for the National Heart Hospital commented: "We did receive a cable from Dr Barnard, but it arrived only 10 minutes before an advisory committee on appointments was due to sit The post had been advertized since June 24, and this was July 28 The cable ended, 'letter following,' but no letter has followed from Chris Barnard."

Questioned about this by the Evening Standard's Peter Fairley, Barnard said, "I did not send a followup letter because I was told that my application had been unsuccessful and that the post had been filled. There seemed little point in sending a letter after that."

Killed in Action

Miniskirts in Cold Weather

Freezy Kneesies

BY DINITIA SMITH
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — How're you gonna keep her cozy and warm, after she's bared her knees? A chick, that is, in a miniskirt amidst a cold wave.

"I run," confessed Kathe Graham, discussing the problem of freezy kneesies on New York's windswept avenues when the temperature flirts with zero.

"My legs don't even get cold," insisted Judith Christian, 21, a secretary. "If I don't think about it I'm not cold. Besides, my boy friend doesn't think about how cold it is, just how it looks."

Madi Heller, 25, defies the elements on a considerably higher level than some girls. She said: "I always wear bikini underwear and so do all my friends."

A brunette model claims to find comfort in a "warm sweater." Another lass borrows her brother's heavy sweat socks. Neither seemed too coherent about the relationship, if any, with knees.

"I wore levis to work this morning under my miniskirt," explained Ruth Pennesch, 24.

A school girl, Joan Grabel, 17, with knee socks and little else for some distance above assured an interviewer: "The cold doesn't bother me really. One teacher told me I'll get arthritis when I get old because my knees will get cold."

Miniskirted Marjorie Brenn, 22, won't wear woolen underwear because "it itches." Her solution, instead, is to ride rather than walk in cold weather. She said: "I depend on my boy friends to take care of me with transportation. But you have to choose your boy friends discriminately."

"I like to show my knees," said one unmarried 25-year-old, impervious to the cold and unwilling to give her name.

Summing it up for the girls was Patricia Fedas, 24, who declared: "After all, you can't lengthen your skirt because of the weather."

Summing it up for the boys was a girl watcher on Fifth Avenue, who observed with delight: "Crazy, man, crazy!"

Accused in Nigeria

Artist, Photographer Escape Execution

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — "Take them outside and shoot them," a Nigerian army major ordered, but American artist Larry Rivers and French movie photographer Pierre Gaisseau escaped death when Gaisseau persuaded the major to change his mind.

Rivers and Gaisseau, at first accused by the officer of being mercenaries fighting for breakaway Biafra in Nigeria's civil war, were to get their passports back today and planned to leave the country when they recover 10 rolls of film confiscated by police.

Rivers, 44, of Southampton, N.Y., whose pop paintings of such subjects as cigarette packages sell for $5,000 and up, arrived with Gaisseau Dec. 29 to film scenes for an African television documentary.

Search Ordered

Rivers said they were filming artists last week in Benin, a city 200 miles east of Lagos known for its bronzes. The major approached them in a hotel, accused them of being mercenaries and ordered them searched.

The search turned up a map of Africa that the artist had sketched.

Rivers said he lowered his arms and the major slapped him twice, declaring: "You move and I will shoot you, white man." Then he ordered his men to shoot the two.

Gaisseau started talking to the major and discovered they shared memories of the Left Bank in Paris.

After sleeping two nights on desks at the Benin police station, Rivers and Gaisseau spent two days in prison in Lagos, but the American and French Embassies persuaded authorities to release them Monday.

Rivers said the authorities took his sketch of the sacrificial altar of the Palace of Oba at Benin.

"I could get $900 for that," he said.

Lynda Named to Best Dressed List

NEW YORK (AP) — Lynda Bird Robb is named on the "best-dressed" list for 1967, maintaining White House representation as her mother, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, was dropped from the annual roster.

Lynda was voted No. 9 on the list—just ahead of another newcomer, Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of the California governor—in the balloting by some 2,000 persons connected with the fashion industry.

First place went to Mrs. Wyatt Cooper, the former Gloria Vanderbilt, who took over the spot held by Princess Lee Radziwill, Mrs. John F. Kennedy's sister, in the 1966 list.

Mrs. Kennedy was "promoted" to the Fashion Hall of Fame in 1965 and has not appeared on the list since. Neither has Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower since she left the White House.

The list, which has no official standing, is drawn up by publicist Eleanor Lambert. The announcement said Mrs. Robb "replaced" her mother who was first named on the list in 1967.

With Mrs. Cooper in first place, the list follows:

2. Mrs. Carter A. Burden, New York socialite.

3. Mrs. Charlotte Ford Niarchos of the automobile family.

4. Mrs. Harilaos Theodoracopulos, wife of a Greek shipping magnate.

5. Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke, wife of the American ambassador to Spain.

6. Princess Radziwill.

7. Lauren Bacall, the actress.

8. Mrs. Henry Ford II, second wife of the auto heir.

9. Mrs. Charles Spittal Robb (Lynda Bird Johnson).

10. Mrs. Ronald Reagan.

11. The Hon. Mrs. Angus Ogilvy (Princess Alexandra of Kent).

12. Faye Dunaway, actress.

Maximum Effort Wasn't Enough

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Officials at the suburban Whitesboro Central School did their best to keep the school open Tuesday when temperatures plummeted to 22 below zero, but it wasn't enough.

The fleet of school buses serving the school had been kept running through the night, to assure their readiness in the morning.

The effort failed, however, when 17 bus drivers reported they couldn't get their automobiles started and were unable to get to work. Classes were canceled.

Balloonists Take Path Of Jacques Blanchard

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Balloonists Francis L. Shields and Peter Pelegrino left midtown Philadelphia in their balloon Tuesday for Woodbury, N.J. Seventy-five years ago another balloonist, Jacques Pierre Blanchard, made the same trip.

Shields, president of the Balloon Club of America and Pelegrino, a member, landed in the Delanco, N.J. city dump, 20 miles from their destination.

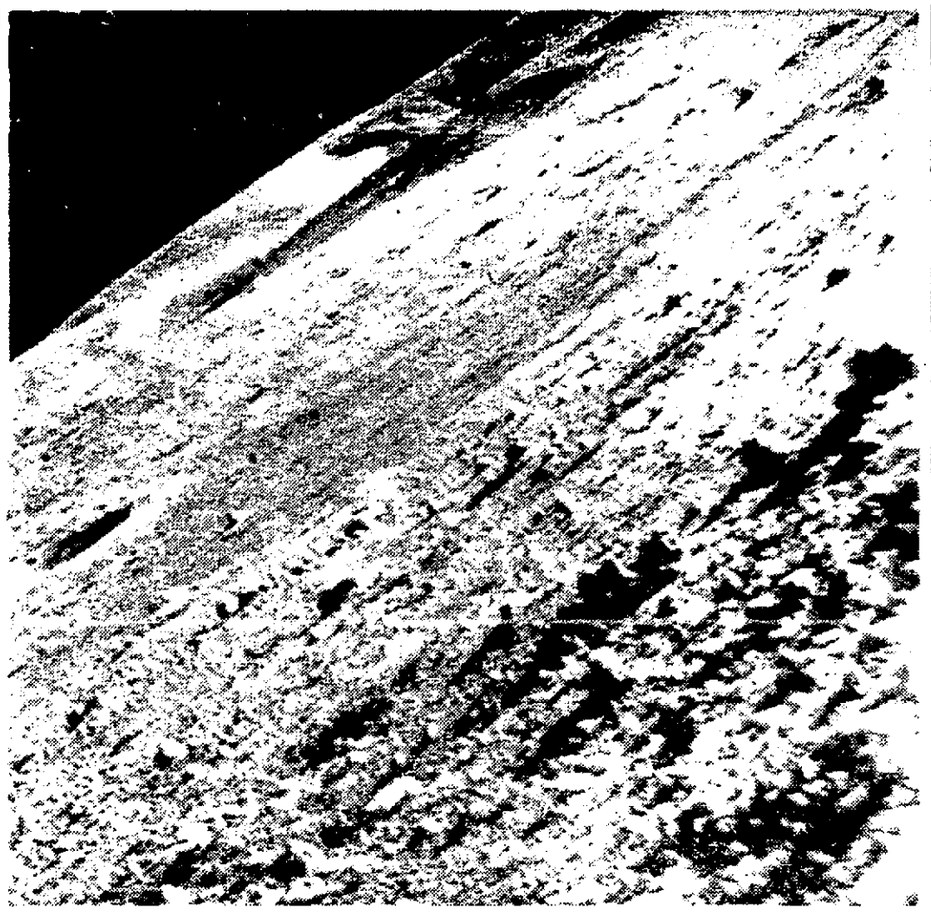
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A 20-year-old man was arrested after his vehicle crashed into an air conditioning unit and the side of a building.

The charge: Drunken driving while operating a bulldozer.



A Cluster of Rocks near the Surveyor 7 landing site was photographed by the moon craft's wide-angle television camera shortly after its landing Tuesday night. '67 Ends With Record Employment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employment continued rising in December, rounding out 1967 with a record high average of 74.4 million Americans at work.

At the same time, the unemployment rate dropped back down last month to 3.7 per cent of the civilian labor force and wound up the year with a 3.8 per cent jobless average.

This matched last year's 13-year low unemployment figure.

"After some months of hesitation, there is a continued strength in the employment situation," said Asst. Commissioner Harold Goldstein of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Goldstein said a number of factors indicate a continued strong employment picture in 1968. These include pay raises for federal employes and an increase in the federal minimum wage from $1.40 to $1.60 an hour which goes into effect Feb. 1.

The additional money in the economy should increase demand for goods and services and create more jobs, Goldstein said.

Outage Leaves 35 Counties Temporarily Without Power

By DEAN MEADORS
Associated Press Writer

MADISON (AP)— Large portions of southern and central Wisconsin suffered a temporary power blackout Tuesday as officials of two major power firms worked rapidly to restore faltering electricity to the stricken areas.

They finally placed the blame for the 90-minute blackout on a faulty 138,000-volt transmission line owned by the Wisconsin Electric Power Co. of Milwaukee.

Most severely affected, however, was the 35-county area served by Wisconsin Power and Light Co. of Madison. The defective line caused overloads over major portions of the Madison system.

During Afternoon

The blackout occurred at 1:25 p.m. Almost immediately, the Madison offices of Wisconsin Power and Light were deluged with reports of the failure.

Some areas were without electricity for only 10 minutes, while others were barely affected. Customers in the areas of Sheboygan, Beloit and Fond du Lac were aided by nearby generators which continued normal operations.

Eugene Young, director of public information for Wisconsin Power and Light, said the faulty line was isolated until the exact location of the trouble can be determined and necessary repairs made.

He said workers would be patroling the line during the night.

Power Assist

Young said that when the power line stopped working, six substations of the Wisconsin Electric Power Co. threw their loads on the Madison system, bringing the total burden to 131,000 kilowatts.

"This severe jolt to the Wisconsin Power and Light system," Young said, "resulted in generators at the company's Nelson Dewey generating plant being disconnected from the system by protective devices."

"It also caused the Madison Gas and Electric generating plant in Madison to become disconnected from the system," he said. "Wisconsin Power and Light sustained outages of 10 minutes to slightly over one hour on large portions of its system."

Young added that engineers of Wisconsin Electric Power Co. expected to find the trouble in the line somewhere north of Milwaukee between Saukville and Slinger.

The Wisconsin Power and Light Co. serves 600,000 persons in 422 cities and villages spread over 15,000 square miles.

Young credited "quick action by systems engineers of both companies" with preventing a more serious power failure.

He said outages were reported lasting from 16 minutes in Janesville to an hour and 25 minutes in Tomah.

He said major cities in the W.P. & L's 35 county area affected by the blackout were Janesville, Lake Geneva, Mineral Point, Darlington, Dodgeville, Prairie du Chien, Baraboo, Portage, Tomah, Mauston, Ripon, Beaver Dam and Berlin.

'Slipup' Blamed as Ted Kennedy Fails To Keep Appointment

SAIGON (AP) — An "administrative slipup" was blamed for the failure of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to show up for appointments today with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Premier Nguyen Van Loc.

An official said somehow word of the appointments didn't get to Kennedy, and he flew to Vung Tau, 40 miles southeast of Saigon, to visit the training center for pacification workers.

Kennedy is scheduled to meet Thursday with President Nguyen Van Thieu and to leave South Vietnam Friday after a 12-day visit studying refugee and civilian health problems.

Rainbow Around Light May be Glaucoma Sign

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: At night the street and car lights have a rainbow around them. What would this indicate? Would one of the new antibiotics help?—B.M.

This may be one of the warning signs of glaucoma developing. I do not say it is a positive sign of that — but glaucoma is such a dangerous ailment if not treated, that you should by all means be examined by an eye specialist at once. If it is glaucoma, it requires immediate treatment to avert the threat of blindness. I doubt if any antibiotic would help, but that is beside the point. The important goal is for you to find out at once what is causing these halos around lights.

Dear Dr. Molner: When I was 11 I had a sore on my ankle which did not heal readily so the doctor gave me X - ray treatments for a number of months.

I also work in a hospital and am sometimes exposed to patients who have radium inserted. I am now 22 and worried what effect this would have in children I have later. How much risk is there that they would be defective?—G.R.

Probably very little risk. The X-ray treatment of your ankle, I would presume, was used with proper shielding so the rays were limited to your ankle, and did not reach your reproductive organs.

As to patients with implanted radium, I wouldn't think you would be in frequent or prolonged contact, and it is my impression that the amount of radiation reaching you would be quite small anyway. The purpose of implanting radium is to place a small amount of radium (and its radiation) very close to the exact area where it is needed, thus avoiding the intense radiation needed if it has to penetrate the body.

For your peace of mind, you might tell one of the doctors in the radiology department what is worrying you. He might provide one of those badges, containing photographic film, which are worn by people who work near any substantial amount of radiation. The density of the film, developed after due time, indicates how much radiation the person has encountered. Wearing such a badge might well prove to you how little radiation you are encountering.

Dear Dr. Molner: Our 4-month-old grandson has a navel hernia. When and why were the old fashioned "belly bands" discontinued? Is surgery performed for this, and when? Does this condition correct itself?—Mrs. R.E.R.

The old belly bands didn't, in fact, serve any real purpose so they went out of fashion. I don't known exactly when but it's been years since I've seen one.

Navel (belly button) or umbilical hernia is not unusual in babies, and as a rule it corrects itself in a few months, or a year or so. It's the only type of hernia which does correct itself.

Often no treatment is necessary. In some cases a flat object (a 50-cent piece has been used) is kept taped over the navel for a few weeks. If the hernia does not show signs of returning to normal, occasionally surgery is required, but it is nothing to fear. The only way to know when surgery is advisable, if at all, is to let the doctor decide for you.

Note to Mrs. H. W.: Freezing will not make pork safe, unless the temperature is carried to a much lower point than is possible without special equipment. Thorough cooking is the only certain way of destroying the trichina or pork worm.

To learn of new treatment for this cruel and painful disease, write for Dr. Molner's booklet, "Gout — The Modern Way to Stop It." To receive a copy, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Coverage Widened by Social Security Change

BY MARTIN E. SEGAL
Nationally Known Authority on Retirement for The Associated Press

The new Social Security law is much more realistic than previous laws. We have already touched on new provisions that recognized the reality of disabled widows, of industrial blindness, of actual earnings as opposed to taxable earnings. In this vein, too, is one dealing with the employment of a parent by a child.

Until now, the employment of a parent by an adult child as a domestic was not covered by Social Security, regardless of how necessary the work might be.

The new law extends Social Security coverage to such domestic service if there is need for it. The need is demonstrated if the adult child for whom the parent works is widowed or divorced and if he has a child in his home who is under 18 or so disabled as to need the care of an adult. This coverage is also extended if the mother of the minor or disabled child is present in the home but is unable to care for her child.

This is a not uncommon situation. A widowed or divorced father often must have someone in the house to care for minor children. Why not let the grandparents of the children care for them instead of a stranger — and treat this as true employment in either case? The new law does just that.

The actual dollar earnings of members of the Armed Forces are not comparable to civilian earnings. In addition to their base pay, servicemen also get food, shelter, uniforms (or uniform allowances), and other prerequisites. But since a serviceman pays Social Security taxes only on his base pay, his wage credits are appreciably less than those of civilian employes.

The new Social Security law recognizes this discrepancy and provides an adjustment. Starting this month, servicemen's Social Security wage credits will be assumed to be $300 more per quarter than the base pay on which he pays Social Security taxes.

If a serviceman earns $100 or less in a quarter, the additional wage credit will be $100. If he earns between $100 and $200 in a quarter, his extra wage credit will be $200. Over $200 earnings, the additional wage credit will be $300.

In order to qualify for a widow's (or widower's) Social Security benefits under the previous law, a widow must have been married to her deceased husband for at least one year prior to his death. The new law cuts this time down to nine months. If the deceased husband dies in line of duty in the Armed Forces, or dies as a result of an accident, the widow will, in general, be entitled to benefits if the marriage was at least three months old at the time of death.

About 100,000 persons not previously eligible for Social Security benefits are now eligible under a new clause covering workers disabled before reaching age 31.

Regular disability benefits require that the disabled person have at least five years of covered employment during the last 10 years before becoming disabled. Young people permanently disabled sometimes have had no opportunity to acquire so much coverage. The new law recognizes this and changes the provisions.

Now, any person between the ages of 24 and 31 will be eligible for disability benefits if he has at least half as many quarters of Social Security coverage as there are total quarters between his 21st birthday and the time he becomes disabled. For example, if he becomes disabled at age 28, he will need 14 quarters of coverage to be eligible for benefits.

Young people under age 24 will be eligible for disability benefits if they have at least six quarters of coverage earned during the three years immediately preceding their disability.

The best systems breaks down now and then, so we've had many letters complaining about undue delays in getting Social Security benefits. The new law sets up a formal method to get payments started.

In cases where Social Security payments have not begun 90 days after the last documents requested by Social Security are submitted, a claimant will be able to file a written request for payment. If payments are due, they must be made within 15 days after filing this request.

Where payments are interrupted — as when a wife's benefit changes to a widow's benefit — the written request can be filed on the 15th of the month following the month the payment was due.

This new complaint, and action, procedure begins July 1, 1968.

Elderly Farmer Killed During Bull's Rampage

MONKTON, Vt. (AP) — A bull being led outside for watering knocked a 77-year-old farmer to the ground and then trampled and butted him to death in the barnyard.

A medical examiner said Frederick Weisenbach suffered a crushed chest and bruises of the face and neck in the accident Saturday night.

Weisenbach's son, Charles, who had been helping him finish farm chores, carried his father to the kitchen of his home where the man died.

Cold Spell Changes Young Ladies' Fashions

READING, Mass. (AP) — Winter's chill may change schoolgirl fashions here from miniskirts to slacks.

School Supt. Robert F. Wells, the School Committee and school principals agreed Monday night to permit girls to wear slacks to school for the duration of the extreme cold.

The action came after reports of frostbite cases among junior high school girls Monday. Wells said he had heard of five.

Task Force Hears Gas Tax Proposal

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A one-cent hike in the Wisconsin gasoline tax, but no change in the present rebate formula to cities, towns and villages, was recommended today by a lobbyist for the Wisconsin Towns Association.

Ben A. Hanneman, Wisconsin Rapids, the organization's executive secretary, predicted it would raise an additional $17 million in revenue when he appeared before the Tarr Task Force.

The Task Force, appointed earlier in the year by the Legislature to study local government organization and finance, opened two days of public hearings at the Appleton City Hall with more than 100 persons in attendance.

Rural Testimony

Wisconsin presently has an 8-cent a gallon tax on gas. It was one of several recommendations and observations made at the opening session dominated by testimony from rural interests, including suburbanized towns.

In other developments:

—Roland Kampo, chairman of the highly-industrialized Town of Menasha, charged that cities were propagandizing that towns were not paying their own way, and said it was the most economical and efficient form of government because of its closeness to the people.

—Several Task Force members questioned statistical data and statements by Kampo during the early phase of his testimony, resulting in the town chairman contradicting previous statements on what happens as communities and governments grow.

Not Typical Town

—Dr. Curtis Tarr, chairman of the blue ribbon panel and president of Lawrence University, said the group doubted whether the Town of Menasha represented a typical town, adding that the panel would make judgements on typical town governments as a whole.

—There was agreement — with some qualification later on Kampo's part — that as towns grow in population and tax base, government gets bigger and becomes less efficient. The recognized maximum and minimum populations for town government to function were suggested as 13,000 and 500, respectively.

—State Tax Commissioner James Morgan, posed the question whether the use of highways — rather than the amount of land in terms of mileage in a given community — should be the dominant factor in distributing school systems.

No Official Stand

—The Appleton League of Women Voters — pointing to sharp increases in tax rates and educational needs — questioned whether the property tax could continue to do the job it has, such as operating cities and highway aids.

—Mrs. Arch Hoffmann, Appleton, said while the League had not taken an official position, several members felt there are serious inequities in assessment policies which the state should make uniform: town governments are doing little in the way of public health and anti-air and water pollution; and a solution might be elimination of counties and substituting a metropolitan government concept.

In the audience were some state legislators, including Assemblyman David Martin (R-Neenah) and Senator William Draheim (R-Neenah). Representatives of cities and taxpayers

Ehricke Enters March Primary Race for Mayor

Welfare Director Reveals Candidacy In Formal Statement

City Welfare Director Merten P. Ehricke, 42, today became the fourth Appleton resident to announce his candidacy for mayor in the March primary election.

Merton Ehricke

Ehricke, who lives at 1501 E. Taft St., made his announcement to newsmen in his office during mid-morning. It had been rumored in recent weeks he would seek the four-year term which pays $15,000 annually.

"Nearing completion of my seventh year of service to the City of Appleton, and having been exposed continually to the political climate at city hall during these years, I am convinced that the citizens of Appleton deserve a candidate for the highest city office with a record of public service beyond

Catlin Will be Candidate for County Judge

Two Man Race Is Assured for Post Held by Judge Keller

At least a two-way battle for Outagamie County Judge took shape today with the announcement by long-time Appleton attorney Mark Catlin that he will oppose Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer for the Branch 2 job that will open with the retirement of Judge Gustave J. Keller.

Mark Catlin

Schaefer, district attorney since 1960, began circulating nomination papers Jan. 2, while Catlin began today.

An Appleton native, Catlin, 57, graduated from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 1933 and shortly after began a law practice here with his father, who died in 1956. He is a member of the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Outagamie County bar associations.

While at the University, Catlin played varsity football from 1929 through 1931.

Served in Legislature

The Appleton attorney served 14 years in the State Legislature. He was majority floor leader for 10 years and was speaker of the Assembly during the 1955-56 session.

From 1960 to 1966, Catlin was a member of the Outagamie County Board, representing Appleton's 7th Ward. While on the board, he served a time as chairman of the influential Airport Committee.

Catlin presently is the 7th Ward alderman on the City Council, having been elected by councilmen earlier this year to fill a vacancy.

Catlin enlisted in the Marines in February, 1943, and was called to active duty the following July. He served 2½ years, including 21 months overseas, and was discharged as a major in January 1946.

The latest judge candidate is a member of the Elks and Moose lodges. The father of three children, Catlin lives at 1614 S. Connell St.

A successor to Keller, who reaches mandatory retirement age of 70 March 23, will be named at the spring election on April 2. However, Keller could be appointed as a reserve judge to fill out his term which expires Dec. 31.

County judges are elected to six-year terms and as of last July, receive $17,500 annually.

Appleton Woman Hurt As Car Skids on Ice

Jean M. Haese, 22, 1410 W. Washington St., suffered leg injuries about 8:10 p.m. Tuesday when her car skidded and struck a utility pole on W. Washington Street near Outagamie Street.

Police said the woman was westbound on Washington when the car struck several patches of ice.

Discuss Expansion Needs

Board Okays Inquiry on Federal Aid for UW Center

What may be the initial step toward either a new University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center or expansion of the existing facility was taken when Outagamie County supervisors voted Tuesday afternoon to study the possibility of federal funds for construction.

The county board's Health, Education and Institutions Committee, in a tersely-worded resolution supported by a voice vote, stated that a review had been made of federal funds possibly available for supplementary education centers and services. Application would be made through the university's board of regents, supervisors were told.

Under terms of Tuesday's resolution, the committee will proceed with the request through the board of regents for funds "to construct a new university center."

Kaukauna Supv. Russell DeLa Hunt, Education Committee chairman, said that a $3 million facility probably would be needed to accommodate the center enrollment anticipated for 1970.

"Are we willing to proceed or wait until 1970 when the first student is turned away?" DeLa Hunt asked supervisors. He said that projected enrollment figures for 1970 are based on present high school enrollment in the area.

Helps Build Centers

DeLaHunt said that federal aid helped build centers in Waukesha and Janesville.

The Kaukauna supervisor said his committee was bringing the matter to the board now "so supervisors could get in on the ground floor in the discussions" and so that emergency measures can be avoided when the Fox Valley Center reaches full capacity.

Appleton Supv. G. Allen Bubolz said "In some ways, the school (Fox Valley Center) is now busting at the seams." Some of the present facilities at the center are adequate for the enrollment, but some, including the library, are not, he explained.

He said that while Winnebago and Outagamie Counties shared the cost of constructing the facility and share in its maintenance, most of the students there are from Outagamie County. He added that Winnebago County also is reluctant to share in expanding the facility because of the rapidly-growing Wisconsin State University at Oshkosh.

Appleton Supv. Herbert Helble reminded supervisors that if they passed Tuesday's resolution, they were not committing the county to a new building or expansion of the present facility. "It's just a feeler to the Board of Regents to see if federal aid might be available," Helble remarked. If it is, "then we'll come in with step two," he added. He said the project

Joseph Weyers To Relinquish Supervisor Seat

A long-time Outagamie County Board member and former Town of Freedom chairman, Joseph Weyers, route 1, Kaukauna, has indicated he will not seek re-election. He had requested nomination papers from the county clerk's office but then changed his mind.

George Schroeder, route 3, Appleton, present Town of Freedom chairman, took out papers for Weyers' post Tuesday.

A contest is developing in the Town of Oneida, District 42, where Richard A. Peterson, route 2, West De Pere, took out papers to oppose Supv. Norman Austin.

Supv. Jerome Hiler, 1909 N. Charlotte St., Appleton, District 16, also has taken out his nomination papers.

Third Time Around; It Is Dodge Again

Safety Committee Vote Bucks Police Chief's Preference

Reversing itself for the third time — the city council's Public Safety Committee voted Tuesday to purchase 11 new squad cars from R & R Dodge of Appleton.

The firm had been the low bidder on an intermediate type model, submitting a package quote of $17,110 which included allowance for 10 trade-ins.

The last time the committee studied bids it recommended the cars be obtained from Gibson Chevrolet, Appleton, for $18,549 with the explanation the vehicles would be standard size and have a lower maintenance factor.

"I am not recommending what model to buy," said Police Chief Earl O. Wolff, "all I am saying is that moneywise, the Chevrolets represent a better buy."

During the meeting he and a representative of R & R Dodge exchanged words, Wolff claiming the head of the firm had made some false accusations. Wolff said he wanted the record to be set straight.

"All I'm interested in getting is more and better car for the taxpayers' money," commented Ald. Mark Catlin (7th), who favored obtaining the Chevrolet police cruisers.

The R & R spokesman said his firm had met the minimum specifications and could have bid on a larger - sized car, also, and probably at a lower price.

The committee gave no reason for changing its recommendation again.

Ponath Changes Mind

Port Manager Hiring Holds Up Through Lengthy Board Debate

After nearly three hours of debate and argument, the Outagamie County Board confirmed the hiring of Charles Olson as county airport manager.

The vote Tuesday afternoon to sustain the action of the board's Airport Committee was 29-16 with two supervisors absent.

Before the vote came, confusion again reigned in regard to County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath's opinion on the legal rights of the Airport Committee to hire a manager without county board approval.

Under questioning by Supv. Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna, Ponath said that based on past actions of the committee he believed it had the right to hire a manager but advised members to bring in a resolution for board confirmation to eliminate any questions.

Ruling Right

"Nothing transpired today that changes my original ruling," Ponath told the board. "I still maintain my position is right. I condescended to bringing in a resolution today to eliminate the wrangling over contracts."

Olson was introduced to the board after the issue had been settled. "I feel beat, battered and torn," he said, "but I'm ready to go." He promised to work with the Airport Committee and said he believed the Outagamie County Airport would eventually become a regional airport.

Olson added that other businesses are interested in locating facilities at the airport and that in the next 10 years the airport would be the second or third largest in the state.

Petition Read

Prior to the vote, a petition submitted by Supv. Allen Bubolz, Appleton, calling for re-advertising for applicants for the job and for setting job qualifications and duties were read.

Board Chairman Sylvester Esler, sought to rule reading of the petition out of order but consented after Supvs. Marvin Babbitt, Seymour, and Joseph

Optimist Club Asks County Land Lease

The Breakfast Optimist Club of Appleton has requested to lease county-owned land to be maintained by the club for public park and recreational facilities.

Unanimous consent was given by the Outagamie County Board Tuesday for directors of the Optimist Club to meet with the Public Property and Insurance and Park committees to attempt to work out a lease agreement.

Supv. John Schreiter, Appleton, a member of the Optimist Club, said that by February they would know the specific piece of land they would want and also the type of lease. It would not involve any cost to the county, Schreiter said.

Supv. Walter Frederick, chairman of the Public Property Committee, said he did not know of any county-owned land suitable for park purposes but that he would be happy to meet with the club and study its proposal.

Circuit Agenda Crowded

Judges Board to Seek Amendment Support

OSHKOSH — The Board of Circuit judges voted unanimously Tuesday afternoon to enlist public support for a constitutional amendment that would increase the pool of reserve judges available to ease the burden of crowded Circuit Court calendars across the state.

The board composed of all state circuit judges, met here at the Pioneer Inn as part of the four-day Wisconsin Judiciary Conference.

The board also decided to assess each of its members $100. Part of the money will be used to buy newspaper advertising space to urge the public to vote "Yes." The State Bar Association will be asked to provide literature for the same purpose.

Voters in the April election will be asked to consider an amendment that would allow any person who has served eight years as a Supreme Court Justice or circuit judge to be appointed temporarily as a judge of a circuit court.

Current Reserve Requirements

As the constitution now reads, a judge is not eligible for reserve status unless he serves until the compulsory retirement age of 70.

If the amendment is adopted, a judge could retire from his bench at age 65, for example, and qualify for reserve appointments so long as he had served the minimum eight years.

The only objection to the amendment at Tuesday's meeting was offered by a member who asked whether it was right for a judge, defeated for re-election, to continue serving on a reserve basis. He later withdrew his "No" vote and voted with the majority.

Could Save Money

Sponsors of the amendment believe that, by increasing the pool of reserve judges, the state could save money. Adoption would provide an alternative to the more costly creation of new judgeships to handle the already crowded Circuit calendars around the state.

The board also voted, again unanimously, to support an amendment that would provide a uniform retirement date of July 31 for Supreme Court justices and circuit judges. Present law requires that a judge retire from the bench on the last day of the month in which he reaches age 70.

This change would allow time for calling an April election for choosing a successor. The newly-elected judge would assume office the following summer.

Rock 'n' Roll Band Member

No Haircut-Leaves School

KAUKAUNA — A 17-year-old senior at Kaukauna High School was granted permission by the board of education Tuesday night to complete his first semester of studies this year and undertake a program of independent outside study for the second semester after he refused to have a haircut which would conform with policy set up by the board.

The youth, a member of a rock and roll band, claimed his long hair was part of his trademark as a band member and was important to his work. He did not feel that long hair was detrimental to school work or interfered with normal school operation.

School administrators agreed the youth was always on the B-honor list and had exceptional ability and talent. They said he was no trouble in school and if they could have a school of 1,300 students like him, long hair would be no problem.

Parents Agree

The youth, accompanied by his parents and his band booking agent, felt some school board policies were outmoded and created rather than solved problems. His parents spoke highly of the boy and felt, since he was no problem at home and his hair was in no way affecting his schoolwork or behavior, they would agree with him on his independent stand in refusing to have the hair cut.

Board members attempted to point out the rules were adopted for the welfare of the entire school body and any special favors allowed would lead to considerable problems. An element, completely opposed to the type of student in question, would take advantage of the situation and could disrupt the educational system for all students, they pointed out.

The youth stood firm, indicating he could understand the reason for rules by the board and was readily acceptive to the independent study plan. When his father attempted to claim others in the school had hair longer, he was challenged by

Petitions May Bring Menasha Re-Evaluation

Property Owners To Start Seeking Signatures Soon

MENASHA — Petitions seeking a general re-evaluation of the city for property tax purposes may begin circulating by the end of this week.

Two property owners obtained a copy of the petition form from Mayor Kenneth Holmes Tuesday and one of them said today they intend to act promptly seeking signatures.

The mayor had been given the petition form by a state tax official who was here during a hearing on a recent appeal by a taxpayer of his property assessment.

George W. Wiegand, 1105 Calder St., and Larry Kempinger, 961 Grove St., met with the mayor Tuesday in his office and asked for the petition forms.

Requirements

Wiegand said state statutes require signatures of persons owning 5 per cent of the city's property, at assessed value. In Menasha, this would mean signatures representing some $2.5 million assessed valuation.

Wiegand said it was hoped they could begin circulating the petitions as soon as Thursday. He said at present he and Kempinger are having copies of the petition form made. He said they were undecided about some details of the way they would circulate the petition, but assumed some form of door-to-door campaign would be needed.

Reason Why

The young homeowner said an important stimulant to his interest in a re-evaluation was the recent arrival of city property tax bills. While he said he could understand the increases, he was disturbed by apparent inequality in the way the taxes were being distributed.

He said he compared the taxes on his home with those on an older home he believes would bring about the same price, and found that the taxes had risen much less on the older home than on his own.

One effect of a re-evaluation would be to bring the city's records of property values up to date, which would mean older homes would probably be given higher valuations and newer homes would be relieved of some of the share they currently bear of the tax load.

William Herziger, Right, chairman of the Fox Valley Human Rights Council, pages through some of the material to be discussed at Tuesday's PTA session at Clovis Grove School in Menasha. The panel included Herziger, chairman of the social studies department at Menasha High School; V. I. Minahan, center, publisher of The Post-Crescent, and Prof. Vernon Roelofs, historian at Lawrence University.

Panel Addresses Clovis PTA

Laws Plus Conscience Needed to Pave Way for Minorities Arrival

MENASHA — Strong laws plus "individual consciences" and a sense of "civic and personal responsibility" will pave the way for an orderly transition of minority groups in the Fox Valley, members of the Clovis Grove PTA were told Tuesday.

A three-man panel from the Fox Valley Human Rights Council, including William Herziger, V. I. Minahan and Vernon Roelofs, explored legislation education, housing and employment problems.

"The time is rather short to prepare" for the movement of Negroes into the Valley, Minahan stated, adding that there was "no question" that the area wouldn't remain "all-white" for long. The publisher of The Post-Crescent called for a state-wide open housing law but noted that in the absence of action by the legislature, local communities could pass their own housing laws.

Retailer

Minahan took issue with the "home is my castle" approach, pointing out that zoning and health standards make that issue less "absolute." He added that when a person decides to sell his home, he is acting as a retailer and laws are now on the books to prevent discrimination in those areas.

When asked why a community should adopt an open housing law when there were no minority groups in the area, Minahan stated it was better to have the law than to try to "catch up" once Negroes reach the area.

He said that such a law would "announce in advance" that there would be no discrimination in housing.

Minahan said a smooth transition and the absence of ghettos depended in part on the leadership of the community. If opportunities, "They would have a strong influence." On the other hand, he said, prejudiced leadership could receive a widespread following.

Herziger

Herziger, chairman of the Fox Valley Human Rights Council as well as head of the social studies department at Menasha High School, said education would play a large part in developing attitudes in the community.

He said school programs should give attention to minority groups "to help remove the picture of the stereotyped" Negro.

Herziger also called for the hiring of minority-group teachers in the schools to develop attitudes prior to the arrival of Negroes and other races in the community.

Roelofs, a history professor at Lawrence University, objected to the "nihilistic" attitudes of some Negroes but said laws and "guidelines" should be tempered with "understanding."

"They have no sense of belonging and are failing out blindly," he said. "We can't permit lawlessness but we have to make allowances for the frustrations of the Negroes."

"We have to make personal sacrifices," Roelofs stated. "We have to be willing to make amends for 300 years of wrongs toward Negroes."

The professor said a civic and personal responsibility was needed to "prevent ghettos from coming into being."

Valley Police Preparing for Negotiations

Series of Studies Gets Underway on Salaries, Conditions

MENASHA — Representatives of police departments from Appleton to Fond du Lac met here Tuesday in the first of a series of joint studies of salaries, hours and working conditions to prepare for next year's negotiation sessions throughout the Valley.

The bargaining units from Appleton, Menasha, Neenah, Oshkosh and Fond du Lac discussed "common problems" and exchanged information on wage scales to help eliminate independent research on comparative figures when salary negotiations begin with city councils later in the year.

A spokesman for the Professional Policeman's Association said the city councils were exchanging information on contracts and felt the police groups should also be informed of what the conditions were in neighboring cities.

Neenah Absenteeism Runs About Average

NEENAH — The absenteeism records in the public schools this week show about half as many out of school as the week before Christmas recess.

Supt. Donald Scott reported that the number absent on Monday, following the close of schools last Thursday and Friday as a precautionary measure by the city's health and welfare committee, was 5.5 per cent.

Pollak to Show Revisions in Menasha Plan

MENASHA — The city's master planner is prepared to describe revised plans for renovating the downtown business area, with changes based on an economist's estimate of what the local trade can support.

Jerry Pollak, of Victor Gruen Associates, has included an explanation of the downtown plans in a lengthy agenda of matters he wants to take up next Monday and Tuesday when he and the economist meet again with local officials.

Also involved in the sessions, which are to include a meeting with the common council at its committee of the whole session Monday night, will be developers who have expressed an interest in investing here.

Pollak's agenda was in the form of a letter to Al J. Karetski, of the State Department of Resource Development in Madison, which is also scheduled to be represented at the sessions.

Appleton Police Check Two Broken Windows

Appleton police are investigating two broken window complaints that they believe may be related.

Police said that vandals threw golf balls through two 12 by 18 inch windows at Lawrence University's Alexander Gymnasium. The golf balls were found in a hallway.

A window also was broken on a construction shack at the new Congregational Church site on E. South River Street. Police said it appeared that golf balls could have been used to break that window.

COG, HEW Plan to Study Waste Request

Representatives of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) will meet with Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) officials Jan. 16 to evaluate the request for a federal grant for a solid waste disposal study in the Fox Cities.

The representatives are Steven Levy, Cincinnati, who will present the Fox Cities request to the national board in February, and William Kerr, of the HEW Chicago regional office.

Among the COG officials meeting with them will be Wayne Bryan, Neenah, Director of Public Works and chairman of the COG sub-committee on public works, and Donahue and Associates, the Sheboygan engineering firm which is handling the solid wastes study.

COG requested $25,580 from HEW in early December for the solid waste disposal study. This is two-thirds of the total cost of the study.

Comprehensive Program

The solid waste disposal study is part of the $208,000 comprehensive planning program, which also includes a land use study with economic and populations projections, expected to cost about $170,000.

COG also requested two-thirds federal support from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in mid-December. The request is being evaluated.

Eugene Franchett, COG executive director, indicated that the HEW representatives may request to tour Fox Cities solid waste facilities during their visit.

Kaukauna City Council Meets

KAUKAUNA — A special meeting of the Common Council has been called for 6:45 tonight to consider the elimination from the official city map of a portion of Hendricks Avenue extending from an alley south of Tenth Street to an alley south of Eleventh Street, and to consider rezoning this porperty from Class B to Class C residential.

The meeting is being called by Mayor Gilbert Anderson to facilitate action on the public housing program.

The rezoning and elimination of the street from the city map would permit construction of a multi-unit housing complex, should federal government approval be given to the program.

State Order Result Of Hangar Checks At Air Wisconsin

Outagamie County has been ordered by the state to install a forced ventilation system in the Air Wisconsin hangar or face a daily penalty fee for violation of state building codes.

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler, Appleton, told the board Tuesday that state inspectors gave the county 24 hours to submit plans for the ventilation system or face violation penalties.

The order apparently stems from state orders prohibiting the parking of vehicles other than aircraft in the hangar unless a forced ventilation system was installed.

Esler said three unannounced inspections of the hangar were made recently and that in each case automobiles were found to be parked in the hangar. The order for compliance was apparently issued Monday afternoon and the county given until this morning to submit plans for the work to be done.

Esler did not indicate the estimated cost of the work.

Appleton Man Faces Charge of Taking Car Without Permission

Raymond Zuhlke, 19, 1108 N. Richmond St., appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Tuesday on a charge of taking a car owned by Yvonne Kazik of Appleton, without her consent.

Miss Kazik, who filed the complaint which resulted in the formal charge, contended that Zuhlke took her 1962 auto on Dec. 23, while she was out of the city.

Judge Gustave J. Keller continued the case to Thursday morning and released Zuhlke to the custody of state probation and parole agents.

Early Dismissal

Classes at Einstein Junior High School will be dismissed early the afternoons of Monday, Tuesday, Jan. 23, 24, 29 and 30 so the faculty can prepare for parent conferences, scheduled during the month.

Humane Society Fund Plea OK'd By County Board

A plea for funds by the Outagamie County Humane Society was heeded by the Outagamie County Board Tuesday as supervisers approved taking $1,000 from the contingency fund to help the society maintain its shelter.

In a letter to the board, the humane society asked for $500 because of the drain on its resources resulting from last week's frigid weather. In a two-day period during the cold spell, 52 dogs were taken to the shelter.

Supv. Eugene Kloes, Appleton, long a supporter of the humane society cause, suggested raising the amount to $1,000 and received unanimous support from the board.

School Officials May Seek New Bus Programs

Taking Private School Pupils Out of District Is Major Problem

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Wisconsin Association of School Boards may ask the Legislature to modify the new law that requires public school bus transportation programs to carry private and parochial school children to their non-public schools outside the school district when they are asked to do so.

The Association delegates at their convention in Milwaukee January 24 will consider a proposal of the group's resolutions committee asking that such transportation be optional, rather than mandatory as under the law enacted by the 1967 Legislature following the amendment of the state constitution which permitted the extension of transportation service to non-public school pupils.

According to the authors of the resolution asking for a change in the law "student transportation to private schools outside the public school district may become much more costly and confusing than that limited to the area within the district."

The proposal of the Association would continue to require such transportation of private school pupils to their schools within the boundaries of the public school district, but allow, without requiring, the public districts to contract with the private schools for such transportation outside the district with the contracting private school paying the costs for such service outside the public school district boundaries.

Provides State Aids

State law provides state aids, on a scale graduated according to distances involved, for such outside transportation, but the school officials evidently believe they will fall considerably short of their probably costs in many instances.

The Association committee report will explain to members that its surveys following the 1967 enactment indicate that the obligatory transportation service outside school districts "will be very difficult to arrange and administer."

The resolution if adopted, officials said, would convey to a legislative interim committee the wishes of the public school officers on the problem.

When the Legislature enacted the 1967 broadening of the school transportation law, it anticipated the need for future amendments and directed the standing committees on public welfare of the two houses to consider any problems and to report their recommendations to the next Legislature which will convene a year hence.

Two Harrison Supervisors to Seek Re-Election

SHERWOOD — Both incumbent Calumet County Board supervisors from the Town of Harrison have indicated they will seek re-election in the April 2 balloting.

George A. Schwalbach, route 4, Appleton, is circulating nomination papers and Julius Schmidt, Sherwood, though he hasn't taken out papers, says he also will be seeking re-election. Candidates have until 5 p.m. Jan. 30 to file nomination papers with the county clerk, Donald Schwobe.

Harrison is the only town in Calumet County allowed two supervisors under the recent reapportionment.

Truck Damaged In County Mishap

Damage was estimated at more than $5,000 in the crash late Monday afternoon of a milk tank truck and a car on Linsmeyer Road near Outagamie County Trunk Y, four miles northeast of Seymour.

County police said that Gerald J. Woodke, 26, 1211 E. Hoover St., Little Chute, driver of the truck, suffered a neck whiplash. He was eastbound on Linsmeyer Road when a car driven by Louis W. Schoessow, 71, route 3, Seymour, pulled in front of him from a driveway. Schoessow told police he did not see the approaching truck.

Flying Gravel From Spinning Wheels Ends In Bad Conduct Fine

Kenneth Deninger, 19, Minong, Wis., was fined $40 and costs or 20 days in jail Tuesday after he changed his plea to no contest and was found guilty of disorderly conduct.

Mrs Catherine Schmitz of Kaukauna, who brought the charge, complained that Deninger, while driving his car from a parking lot at a Combined Locks restaurant July 12, sprayed gravel that struck her, two autos, and a motorcycle. He then drove away, according to the court complaint.

Deninger pleaded innocent July 14, and trial was scheduled for Tuesday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. Deninger, who was not present in court, was represented by an attorney

Dates Set for School Children Hearing Tests

KAUKAUNA — Audiometric screening of all high school juniors will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the nurse's office at the school under the direction of Mrs Mary Yingling, city nurse.

Students are to use free time or lunch hour to take advantage of the hearing test. Mothers assisting with the program will be Mrs Harold Feller, Mrs Donald Kettner, Mrs Robert Wieseler, Mrs. Ruben Van Lanen and Mrs. Robert Flynn.

Tests at Holy Cross Grade School are scheduled Friday, at St. Mary's on Monday, Electa Quinney School Tuesday and St. Aloysius on Wednesday. Tests at Park and Nicolet schools were held prior to the holidays. An audiometrist from the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction will recheck children who do not pass the screening test An otologist will examine those with a significant hearing loss at a clinic to determine a cause and recommend treatment.

Airport Lease, ILS Okayed by Board

Contract With Kimberly-Clark Expected to be Signed Today

Only the formality of adding the signatures remained today as the Outagamie County Board Tuesday voted 38-5 to approve the lease with Kimberly-Clark Corp. for the firm to move its corporate aircraft to the Outagamie County Airport from the Winnebago County field.

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler, Appleton, said it was possible the lease would be signed today Corporation Counsel A W Ponath said Tuesday he had a letter from Kimberly-Clark accepting the lease terms.

The signing would culminate several months of negotiations between the county and Kimberly-Clark during which time the name of the firm was one of the more loosely guarded secrets in the county

In a companion resolution, the board unanimously gave the go-ahead on the purchase and installation of an instrument landing system (ILS) at a cost of approximately $125,000, a figure somewhat lower than first had been estimated. Esler again assured the board the project could be financed through existing available funds and that further appropriations would not be necessary.

Supv. Eugene Kloes, Appleton, criticized some of the provisions of the lease as putting the county at a disadvantage, particularly provisions for maintenance of the hangar building.

Kloes said he understood the lease calls for the county being responsible for all exterior maintenance, all interior maintenance in excess of $200 and maintenance of underground facilities in excess of $200, including fuel storage tanks

Ponath and County Executive Secretary Alvin Woehler said the maintenance provisions only pertained to the hangar building proper and did not include the underground storage tanks. Kloes, however, contended this was not spelled out in the lease.

Esler asked Kloes, "Do you think Kimberly-Clark is out to beat us?" Kloes said "no," but that he felt they should be responsible for all maintenance.

Joining Kloes in voting against the lease were Supvs. Norman Austin, Emil Diestler, Ralph Schwartz and Clayton Van Dyke

Exact Cost Undetermined

Esler said the exact cost would not be known until the second bid is received on the project. Only two companies manufacture the type recommended for installation. One firm has submitted a bid and the second firm is scheduled to inspect the airport today and then submit its bid.

Supv John Dietz, Appleton, a member of the Airport Committee, said Outagamie County is the only county in the country which has been given approval by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) to install its own ILS. After the system is installed, the FAA will take it over for maintenance and operation.

Dietz added that the ILS was not only for Kimberly-Clark but would also greatly benefit Air Wisconsin by permitting it to complete a higher percentage of its flights and would help aviation in general at the airport.

Chancellor Sets Day-Long FVC Visit

University of Wisconsin-Green Bay Chancellor Edward W. Weidner will make a daylong visit to the UW Fox Valley Center Thursday as the first in a series of "chancellor-in-residence" trips.

Future visits will take him to the Marinette and Manitowoc UW Centers, which, along with Fox Valley, will become campuses of the new UWGB on July 1.

"We are a university trying to relate higher education to the northern Great Lages region," Weidner said. "Location at four different campuses will bring us much closer to the problems of the total region than would be possible for a single institution in one location" in one location."

"I look forward to these visits and the part they can play in making a multi-campus university a reality," he added.

During his Thursday visit, Weidner will address a faculty meeting, meet with the Center Student Senate and UWGB student planning committee and confer with individual students and faculty members.

The second chancellor-in-residence visit will be at the Marinette County Center Feb. 15. Weidner plans to make at least one more day-long visit to the Fox Valley Center before the end of the spring semester.

Gault Decision Case

Menasha Youth Freed Of Earlier Conviction

OSHKOSH — A 17-year-old Menasha youth, who was released from the Wisconsin State Reformatory at Green Bay last October on the Supreme Court's Gault decision, was exonerated Tuesday of the charge which sent him to the boys school more than three years ago.

Judge Herbert Mueller, acting juvenile judge at Tuesday's trial, dismissed the charge of stealing a mini-bike. Mueller was presiding when the youth was sent to the State School for Boys at Wales when he was 14 years old.

The judge, terming the case the "most difficult I have had to decide," said the testimony from witnesses Tuesday was "vague" and didn't prove guilt "beyond a reasonable doubt."

Judged on Evidence

He said he felt the youth was guilty of the offense, based on the trial in 1964. He said he had to judge the case on the evidence presented at the new trial.

The youth is one of two Twin City boys who have been released from the Green Bay reformatory on the Gault Decision, which holds that juveniles are entitled to the same constitutional rights provided to adults by the Miranda and Escobedo decisions.

The same youth will face a charge of robbing an elderly Menasha man of $1,000 in Judge James Sarres' court Feb. 28 in Oshkosh.

Alleged Robbery

He allegedly robbed Louis W Reinke, 76, 205 Garfield Ave., at the retired man's home on May 2. The youth has pleaded innocent to the charge.

Judge Mueller had presided at the original hearing for the boy on April 27, 1964. He then found the boy guilty of stealing the mini-bike and sent him to Wales. After serving time at Wales, he returned to the Twin Cities. Last summer he was returned to Wales for violating his parole and when he ran away from the school, he was sentenced to the Green Bay Reformatory.

When it was found he hadn't been informed of his constitutional rights at the trial in 1964, the youth was released and referred back to Judge Mueller.

No Hair Cut So Will Study On His Own

Walter Schmidt, principal, and Gerald Kroll, assistant principal and guidance director, to come to the school and point out one student who had hair comparable in length to that of his son.

Independent Study

The youth informed the board prior to making any statement that he wanted it understood, he would absolutely not have his hair cut. Board members were equally sure that special privileges could not be granted and after considerable discussion, the idea of independent study was proposed to which both sides appeared receptive.

Another youth, involved with the planting of a gasoline-match bomb in the school, was expelled for the remainder of the school year with his admission to be studied again prior to the 1968-69 school years. In the action, board members recommended clinical observation of the youth for a period of at least 30 days with findings of the observers to be made available to the board when considering re-admission.

are expected to dominate the hearing on Thursday.

Members of the Tarr Committee, which has conducted two previous hearings in Milwaukee and Rice Lake, engaged in extensive questioning, and at one point the observation was made that statistics "can be distorted to prove any point".

No Clashes

However, there were no clashes of opinion as witnesses and committee members engaged in some verbal shadowboxing for the purpose of extracting facts.

VTE Board to Make Two Appointments at Meeting Monday Night

The area board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education District 12 (VTE-12) will have its regular monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at the Appleton Vocational School.

The agenda includes the appointments of a business manager and assistant director of instructional services, and the opening of bids for an engine lathe and hobbing machine for the machine shop.

The board also will fill the position of a young and adult farmer instructor-coordinator to serve Waupaca County.

Projected staff needs for the 1968-69 school year will be presented and the progress of the appraisal of equipment at the various facilities discussed.

reproach — a proven one which has resulted in economy, not just a promise of economy," Ehricke said.

Under Two Members

He has served under Mayors Clarence Mitchell and George Buckley

"The time has come when our citizens demand progressive action — not political promises," Ehricke declared in his prepared statement.

Ehricke said the time has come for the city to move forward with sound businesslike administration with all city departments, elected and appointed officials coordinating their talents and combined efforts "towards a continuing progress of our city."

Ehricke said he was running on his record as an administrator of the municipal welfare department, and cited it was a good record.

No Commitments

"I come before you with no commitments or deals with anyone," Ehricke said, addressing himself to the voters, adding that he was seeking the mayor's post to "serve Appleton with sincerity, integrity, honesty and dedication"

Ehricke is a native of Wausau and attended public schools there before entering Marquette University School of Business administration

He served in the U. S. Navy during World War II and the Korean conflict, receiving his discharge as a chief petty officer.

Before coming to Appleton, Ehricke was employed in the personnel division of Rex Chain Belt Corp. in Milwaukee. Coming here in March of 1961, he assumed the appointive post of welfare director

Ehricke said he was making his first bid for an elective post.

Should he not be successful, Ehricke indicated he intended to stay on as welfare director Ehricke said he would campaign during after-office hours time.

In reply to a question, Ehricke said a precedent had been set for an appointed administrative official to seek elective office when Sealer Roger La Berge was a candidate in 1966 for the position of city clerk.

Outagamie Eyes Federal Funds For UW Center

would require about $500,000 in aid.

Although discussion on the education committee proposal was relatively short, Supv. Emmett Root of rural Hortonville said he did not believe Outagamie County taxpayers wanted to "foot the bill" for another university, when plans are already being made for an area vocational, technical and adult University of Wisconsin campus at Green Bay. He said that the university at Oshkosh could relieve some of the student load from this area.

Outagamie County officials recently proposed purchasing Winnebago County's half of the Fox Valley Center. The proposal included selling the school to Vocational, Technical and Adult Education District 12 (VTE-12) and building a new university center in Outagamie County. The Fox Valley Center is located in Winnebago County.

DeBruin, Town of Buchanan, backed Bubolz.

After the petition was read, Babbitt commented, "Now make up your minds and vote."

An earlier motion by Supv. Herbert Helble, Appleton, to limit further debate on the issue had lost in a voice vote.

Olson's contract calls for renegotiation of salary and other conditions at the end of each year. The contract also will continue "from year to year according to the desire of the parties unless cancelled by giving 60-day written notice before Jan. 1, 1969, or following by either party."

Ponath had earlier ruled that state statutes prohibited the county from entering into personnel contracts that extended beyond two years and that the contract with former airport manager Max Sagunsky was improper because it contained an automatic renewal clause.

Vote Tallied

The vote on the resolution endorsing the hiring of Olson automatically killed a resolution submitted by former Supv. Mark Catlin which sought to have the hiring voided.

Voting to hire Olson were Supvs. Norman Austin, Marvin Babbitt, Henry Bartz, Ervin Conradt, Russell DeLaHunt, Emil Diestler, John Dietz, Stanley Gillespie, Irving Grunwaldt, Herbert Helble, Jerome Hiler, Merritt Kavanaugh, Eugene Kloes, Kurt Koletzke, George Kroes, Sylvester Lenz, Patrick Mares, Emmett Root, Carl Runte, John Schreiter, Edward Spierings, Mrs. Barbara Steger, Bernard Tillman, R. Clayton Van Dyke, Matt Verfurth, Robert Weyenberg, Joseph Weyers Daniel Williams and Sylvester Esler.

Opposing the action were Supvs. Henry Breiting, G. Allen Bubolz, Joseph DeBruin, Walter Fredericks, George Griesch, Patrick Heenan, Arthur Hoolihan, Theodore Jens, Andrew Jimos, Theodore Kemps, Waldemar Klein, Paul Kostka, Clarence Miller, Stanley Perkins, Ralph Schwartz, and Arnold Welch.

Absent were Supvs. Chris Roepke and Paul Wussow

Thilmany Official Given High Honor

E. R. Sutherland Gets Silver Knight Award by National Group

KAUKAUNA — E. R. Sutherland, board chairman of the Thilmany Pulp & Paper Company, received the Silver Knight of Management Award, Monday at the monthly meeting of the Thilmany Management Club.

The award is presented to outstanding business and civic leaders by the National Management Association (NMA) in cooperation with member clubs. It is the highest award that can be given on the local level.

Sutherland joined Thilmany in 1940 as chief accountant. A graduate of the University of Wisconsin, C.P.A., he was elected assistant treasurer in 1943. He was promoted to the post of secretary-treasurer in 1945 and made a director of the firm in 1946. In 1966 he was named board chairman succeeding the late C. L. Dostal.

Active in both industry and community affairs, he has served as President, Wisconsin Paper and Pulp Manufacturers Traffic Association; President, Appleton Memorial Hospital Board of Directors; Director, American Pulpwood Association; Director, Boston Manufacturers Mutual Insurance Company, and Director, Association of Pulp Consumers Inc., and Pulp Consumers Division of the American Paper Institute.

Install Officers

On hand for the presentation was Fred Hauf, first vice president of the NMA and Ed Reid, NMA director. Hauf, who is secretary and treasurer of the Lakeside Bridge and Steel Company, Milwaukee, also conducted installation of new officers.

They include Reuben Rutter, president; Raymond Schommer, vice president; Carl Lindwall, secretary, and Vince Baeten, treasurer. Members of the board of control are Clayton Kiffe, Clayton McCabe, William Swan, Norbert Gevers and Marvin Siebers.

Members learned the local club was one of 13 chapters honored recently at the Presidents' Luncheon, held in conjunction with the NMA annual convention in Cleveland, for having received an excellent award 10 or more times.

The awards are given to member clubs based on club attendance, management development programs and quality and frequency of meetings.

Esler, Outagamie County board chairman, who discussed county board issues and conducted a question and answer program. Guest speaker was Sylvester

Plan Letter Each Month

Program Speedup Demands Frequent Progress Reports

Newsletters of the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission will be published monthly, instead of quarterly, as the complexity and deadlines of programs become more pronounced William Morris, executive director, said today.

He anticipated printing an issue late in January and then moving to a monthly schedule in early February.

The newsletter, which was started about two years ago, is geared to keep persons in the nine member counties informed on the commission's activities.

About 900 copies are sent to county, city and town officials to brief them on the current and continuing programs.

The monthly issue will deal in more detail with the programs which are important at the time, Morris said.

The quarterly newsletter was an 11½ by 16-inch pamphlet of four or five pages printed on both sides. The monthly issue will be about half that size, Morris said.

Appleton Pair Hurt In New Year's Mishap Is Out of Hospital

KAUKAUNA — Two Appleton residents, injured in an accident at 2:30 a.m on Jan. 1, have been released from the Kaukauna Community Hospital after treatment.

Injured were William Peotter, 54, 2528 Viola Ave., and Mrs Norbert McDonald, 1842 S. Telulah Ave. Examined and released on the night of the accident were Mrs. Peotter and Mr. McDonald. The driver of the second car was not injured, but was fined for reckless driving.

One-Year-Old Dies of Respiratory Infection

Michael J. Hopfensperger, 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hopfensperger, 717 N. Meade St., was found dead in his bed shortly before noon Tuesday.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said the boy died of acute respiratory infection. The baby had been ill with a cold, according to his parents.

The body was released to the Wichmann Funeral Home.

Kimberly Man Suffers Cut on Head in Mishap

KIMBERLY — James Ver Voort, 31, 305 S. John St., Kimberly, suffered scalp lacerations and was taken to Appleton's St. Elizabeth Hospital in a police car following an accident on W Kimberly Avenue about 1:15 a.m Tuesday.

Los Angeles County Adds to Population

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Since the 1960 census 1,020,330 people have been added to Los Angeles County's population

The Regional Planning Commission said today the county's population as of last Oct. 1 was 7,073,030. The increase since 1960 averages 375 people a day for the 7½ years.

The City of Los Angeles included an estimated 2,818,692 residents by October.

Sihanouk, Bowles Hold First Talks in Frank Atmosphere

Use of Cambodian Territory as Red Refuge Thought to be Topic

PHNOM PENH (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles conferred with Prince Norodom Sihanouk for the first time today. Cambodian officials said the talk was "frank and cordial" and "useful points of view were exchanged."

No details of the one-hour meeting were disclosed. Bowles arrived in Phnom Penh Monday to discuss Communist use of Cambodian territory as a refuge from U.S. and South Vietnamese troops in the Vietnam war.

The conversation took place in the prince's modernistic Chamcar Mon Palace, set amid luxuriant tropical gardens. Informants said Sihanouk spoke to Bowles in English and expressed the Cambodian position with his "habitual affability."

No Pursuit

President Johnson sent Bowles, the U.S. ambassador to India, to talk with the neutralist ruler after Sihanouk said he would welcome an American envoy to Phnom Penh. However, Sihanouk has said he cannot cooperate with the Americans by letting them pursue the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese into Cambodia.

Others attending the conference between the prince and Bowles were Penn Nouth, Sihanouk's private counselor; Premier Son Sann, Gen. Duoung Sam Ol, the defense minister, and Australian Ambassador Sinclair Deschamps, who represents American diplomatic interests in Phnom Penh.

An informed source said Bowles probably will confer with Sihanouk again Thursday and will leave Phnom Penh Friday.

Helicopters Offered

The Foreign Ministry announced that it is favorable to an American offer of two helicopters to assist the International Control Commission set up by the 1954 Geneva conference to supervise the operation of the agreements ending French rule in Indochina.

However, a Cambodian note to the Australian Embassy said the final decision on the U.S. offer must be made by the commission as well as by the British and Soviet foreign ministers, who are cochairmen of the Geneva conference.

Prince Sihanouk has often said that he favors strengthening of the three-nation ICC but that the Soviet Union is opposed. The commission in recent years has investigated frequent Cambodian allegations that U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have violated the Cambodian frontier during clashes with Communist forces in the border area.

The U.S. government offered the helicopters in the hope that the commission could patrol the border as a deterrent to Communist use of Cambodian territory.

Presidential Envoy Chester Bowles listens as Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia gestures and comments today at the state palace in Phnom Penh before their talks on the use of Cambodian territory. (AP Wirephoto)

Computer Used As Weapon

Lawmen Hope to Combat Growth of Security Thefts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government, wielding a computer as its weapon, is activating a plan aimed at thwarting a growing multimillion-dollar racket in stolen securities.

Serial numbers and other information on about 50,000 stolen securities are being fed into a computer that can deliver the information within minutes to thousands of banks and police agencies across the nation.

The computer is part of the National Crime Information Center and is operated by the FBI.

Although no government or private agency could supply any figures on the value of the securities stolen annually, Justice Department sources said Tuesday that even a single theft could net more than a million dollars.

Used As Collateral

Many stolen securities wind up in banks as collateral for loans. The banks do not learn the collateral has been stolen until months after granting the loan when, having received no payments, they try to sell the security.

The government is a big loser too. Justice Department figures show the government alone sustains about 2,000 losses a month, mostly in savings bonds.

The Secret Service, which investigates stolen government securities—but only after they have been cashed—says the value of bonds reported stolen now stands at about $20 million.

A Secret Service official told The Associated Press these thefts "are a real concern to us. Years ago burglers would throw these bonds away. But now they are being fenced in rather large quantities through underworld channels. They come to our attention in large amounts."

He said some criminals use elaborate schemes to dispose of stolen securities.

Sometimes they rent a store in a shopping center as a front. They go to a nearby branch bank and say they need money quickly because they are about to open a new business. They may offer what later prove to be stolen savings bonds and ask for cash.

The Secret Service official said the bank usually complies and added, "We have had as much as $40,000 cashed in a day in this way."

Claim of Innocence Repeated

Death Preferable to Life in Prison, Attorney Convicted of Murder Says

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I prefer death to spending the rest of my life in prison," Jack Kirschke told jurors trying to decide his penalty for two killings.

Kirschke, a former deputy district attorney who once was in line for a judgeship, appeared gaunt Tuesday as he went before the jury that convicted him of murdering his wife and her alleged lover.

Speaking slowly, he dared the panel to impose death—one of the only two possible verdicts under California law for first-degree murder.

"I did not shoot my wife and I did not shoot Bill Drankhan," the 46-year-old Kirschke declared. "And I am willing to bet my life on that—that is about as far as you can go.

Own Plea

The jury of six men and six women, before whom Kirschke declined to appear during his four-month trial, deliberated slightly more than an hour after Kirschke finished his appeal. In the hushed courtroom was Albert C.S. Ramsey, his defense attorney whom Kirschke dismissed in order to make his penalty plea during the penalty phase of his trial.

Kirschke's statement, in which he said he had been wrongly convicted, was interrupted frequently by Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris who urged it be restricted to the subject of the penalty hearing.

Former Prosecutor

Kirschke was a prosecutor for 11 years before being convicted Dec. 19 of shooting to death his dress designer wife Elaine, 43, and her friend, Orville William Drankhan, 43, while they were in bed in the Kirschkes' Long Beach apartment last April.

Close to tears, Kirschke told the jury that if he was given life in prison instead of death "people will think that when you got down to the nitty gritty, down to the $64 question, you blinked; that if you had the courage of your convictions you'd have followed through."

"If this be construed, as it undoubtedly will, as throwing down the gauntlet, so be it . . . so be it," he said.

Quicker Appeals

By giving him a death sentence, Kirschke said, he might be assured quicker action by appellate courts and it would ensure that he wouldn't be killed in a prison yard someday by a convict because he was once a prosecutor of the law.

Added Kirschke:

"I don't mind dying, if it's the will of the jury and if all the courts way up the chain of command including the nine men back in Washington say, 'Yeah, Jack, that's it'."

When he finished, Judge Kathleen Parker asked Harris if he had anything further to say. Replied Harris: "The people submit, your honor."

The judge turned to Kirschke. Inaudibly, Kirschke said: "Submit it," meaning the decision would be put to the jury.

County Removes Ban on Cigarette Sales in Hospital

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Dade County Commission, which voted in December to ban cigarette sales in county-operated Jackson Memorial Hospital, reversed its action Tuesday.

The board acted after County Manager Porter Homer reported the commission would have to pay—if the ban remained in effect—the vendor $11,500 for improvements carried out under a five-year contract, and would lose $8,600 a year in income from the cigarette sales.

Homer said the vendor took in more than $31,000 from cigarettes during a seven-month period ending in December.

Florida to Start Tattooing Pups

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Dogs with Social Security numbers will be chasing cats around Florida soon.

Owners' numbers will be tattooed on pups to prevent dognaping under a program sponsored by Florida Canine Protection, Inc., and Dade County 4-H clubs.

'Soul Brothers' Hail Powell

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hundreds of Negroes mobbed him. "Fight together!" urged Adam Clayton Powell—and they roared back with cheers, whistles and applause.

Then Powell took a three-mile walk Tuesday through riot scarred Watts, besieged by admirers and calling everywhere, "keep the faith."

Here from self-imposed exile in the Bahamas, Powell gives today at UCLA the first of 14 lectures at colleges and universities on what he calls the black revolution.

"I've come here," he said Tuesday, "to talk to my soul brothers and soul sisters. One day, history is going to record that the second civil war and the beginning of the black revolution was born here."

Five days of fiery rioting in August 1965 left 34 white and Negro dead and $40 million property damage in a 46½-square mile southside area including Watts.

From a pickup truck before starting his walk, Powell told the crowd: "The eyes of black Africa, brown Asia and even white Europe are focused upon people like us. We are the salt of the earth.

"Don't be ashamed of anything that has happened, and don't be afraid of anyone. Stand up and speak out boldly in God's name."

Referring to his expulsion from Congress last March, Powell said:

"You see what they're trying to do to me? If they can do that to me"—he turned to a member of the crowd—"they can do it to you, John Jones."

On his walk, puffing a thin cigar, the shirtsleeved, 59-yearold Powell strode swiftly, escorted by members of the Black Students Association. He beamed, waved and called repeatedly, "keep the faith, baby"—or "soul brother."

A crowd chanted "We Want Powell!" An exuberant youth flung himself at him in a flying tackle, embracing him, kissing him on the check and crying, "this is my brother!"

Somebody asked, "Do you think the poverty program's doing anything down here?" "No," Powell snapped. His opinion of California's Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan? "A nice actor." Powell is a Democrat.

Auto caravans more than a block long followed him at times. Briefly he mounted a red panel truck, but 35 or 40 Negro youngsters also crowded aboard—on top, running boards and rear step—and Powell continued on foot.

On Watts' main business street, East 103rd, called "Charcoal Alley" after the rioting left lots vacant where business buildings were burned, Powell paused.

"I'd like everybody to be quiet for just a minute," he said. "I'd like to bow our heads—whether you believe in Allah, Yahweh or no God—in silent prayer in memory of our soul brothers and soul sisters who died here."

Momentarily there was comparative quiet. Then Powell, driven in a hard top convertible that maneuvered slowly through jammed traffic, was gone.

"I'm happy now," a man said. "I saw him."

Time Right for Courageous Heart Transplant Experimen

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Deliberately one Sunday morning, surgeons cut out the sick but still-beating heart of a human being—and put a healthy human heart in its place.

That audacious surgery—first performed Dec. 3—now has been repeated four times more in 37 days.

Three highly skilled teams of surgeons, nurses, anesthetists, pathologists and other specialists, in three cities, have pioneered this new era of surgery.

They were all ready, all long trained, for just this step. And more such teams, similarly honed, likely will perform human heart transplants before the year's end.

Right Time

The time was ripe, the preparations made, the confidence was building—all through 1967 and even earlier—that hearts could be exchanged, a healthy for an ailing one.

Where the first operation occurred depended upon fortuitous circumstances, plus reasoned boldness.

All three teams had done their preparation work well and successfully with dogs—that of Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard in Groote Schuur Hospital in Cape Town, South Africa; Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz at Maimonides Hospital in New York; Dr. Norman E. Shumway in Stanford, Calif., at Stanford University School of Medicine.

One nagging unknown was whether a human heart, placed in another breast, would survive and support life.

Dr. Barnard answered that question with his first operation on Dec. 3. Louis Washkansky lived for 18 days with the heart taken from a young woman. The borrowed heart functioned powerfully and well, with Washkansky dying of pneumonia, not from heart trouble that had narrowly numbered his days with his own heart.

Dr. Kantrowitz had received go-ahead permission from his hospital for human heart transplantation as early as mid-1966. Dr. Shumway last fall had predicted that the time now had come.

The essential was the right circumstances—a dying person with a healthy heart and permission of relatives that it be taken soon after death, and second, a person with a heart so severely damaged that life could not long continue.

Use of Drugs

Still to be resolved is the delicate matter of using drugs and/or X-rays to prevent the borrowed heart from being rejected as foreign tissue, while not suppressing the body's normal immune reactions that ordinary diseases could invade and kill the recipient.

Medical scientists are gaining confidence this can be done.

Unless this rejection problem appears too formidable stigma from the first handful of patients—the year probably will bring a series of heart transplant operations, including some by other experienced surgical teams in other medical centers.

The surgeons have been ready. The time was ripe. The need will continue desperate.

Pair Accused of Trying To Get Liquor Into Jail

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — A Louisiana man and woman were charged Tuesday with furnishing a prisoner with alcoholic beverages—oranges shot full of vodka.

Sheriff Bryan Clemmons said the prisoner's friends showed up on Christmas Eve. A police sergeant at the jail noticed tiny needle holes punched in each orange and sent them to the crime lab for analysis.

Signs of Cultural Revolution's End Seen in Inaction of Mao's Wife

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Mao Tse-tung's fourth wife, Chiang Ching, has dropped from public view in Communist China. This, along with other developments, hints that the ferocity of the "Great Proletarian Cultural Revolution" is on the wane.

Mao Tse-tung now is 74. If his grip on the reins of power loosens, and, at the same time, the cultural revolution gradually fades away, it is possible that moderate elements will command more influence, even to the point of making Peking more approachable by other nations.

Just a year ago this month the political upheaval reached its peak of violence in what was called "the January revolution." Revolutionary rebels and teen-age Red Guards were instructed to "seize the power from the handful of party persons in authority who have taken the capitalist road."

Restore Order

The Chinese Communist press is renewing an appeal to Mao's supporters to "wage struggle by reasoning and not by force." Official press comment suggests an effort is being made to restore some order to the educational system, disrupted since August 1966 by the cultural revolution movement which kept youngsters out of schools and turned them against their teachers.

The movement probably will continue in one form or another for some time. But a year and a half has been a long time even for the most fanatic to keep up a full head of steam.

The failure of Mao's wife to appear at public functions could be significant. A Canton newspaper has said that "arduos struggle (in the cultural revolution) has impaired Comrade Chiang Ching's health." But Russian commentators brushed this aside as unlikely.

Chou Revelation

"Foreign observers," said a Moscow broadcast in Chinese to China last week, "feel that Chiang Ching's illness was due to outside pressure . . . What is interesting is that it was Chou En-lai who disclosed that Chiang Ching was ill."

Premier Chou is credited by some China-watchers with being a voice of moderation in the Mao camp. His conduct of government affairs, by his own account, has been seriously hampered by cultural revolution uproar.

Though holding the upper hand, the Mao faction by its own admission has failed to destroy its enemies. The official press still denounces "China's Khrushchev," but still cannot criticize President Liu Shao-chi by name. The Mao group may lack sufficient strength to call a party congress which could legally remove Liu from the chairmanship of the government.

Outcome in Doubt

In propaganda and education, the outcome remains in doubt. The press admits many "renegades" remain in authority and "some have even regained ranking positions."

It would be no surprise, should Mao's influence slip, if the contending sides in the struggle reached some form of compromise.

Chiang Ching's fadeout could mean that some in high places, even in Mao's camp, have had enough of the former actress and her ambitions. The report of her illness fails to explain the fact that "the masses" are not being exhorted these days to study her speeches and follow her leadership.

Time of Purge

Chiang Ching reached her peak of power and influence in September, when she was purging ministers and provincial party functionaries, and even getting rid of high military figures, in her capacity as "cultural revolution adviser" to the army and deputy chief of the party's "cultural revolution group."

Moscow speculates that Chiang Ching's disappearance may herald the downfall of other powerful figures such as Chen Po-ta, cultural revolution chief and former private secretary to Mao, and Kang Sheng, the secret police boss.

This may be wishful thinking on Moscow's part. But it is true that Kang and Chen both were close allies of Mao's wife. Loss of power by Chiang Ching could mean that her chief supporters also would be downgraded.

Catholic Students To Use Public School

FROSTBURG, Md. (AP) — Members of the Allegany County Board of Education agreed Monday to allow 345 Catholic pupils to use temporarily the empty Beall Elementary School in Frostburg. Two separate fires Saturday and Sunday made St. Michael's parochial school unusable. There were no injuries in the fires.

ADA Urges $4,160 as Basic Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) urged the government Tuesday to guarantee a basic income of $4,160 for a family of four.

This was one of several legislative proposals the liberal organization outlined for the new session of Congress which begins Jan. 15.

ADA asked for "a national commitment to end unemployment, raise the incomes of the poor, build livable communities and eliminate racial discrimination."

These, and not war, are top priorities, it said.

"No longer will inadequate federal funds for summer programs pass as solutions," the ADA said in statement. "The piecemeal approach will not suffice."

The ADA did not estimate the cost to the government of a guaranteed income.

Lesson Taught in Human Relations

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Richard McCoon, 42, a member of the Los Angeles County Human Relations Commission, encountered a shotgun-armed bandit who robbed him of $8 and tied him up.

After the robber escaped Monday, McCoon commented: "I looked at that shotgun and thought nothing I know about human relations was quite so convincing."

Two Possible Sites

Board Seeks Architect For Kaukauna School

KAUKAUNA — Satisfactory soil test borings on two possible school sites prompted the board of education Tuesday night to seek action on hiring an architect to start plans for a northside elementary school.

The board agreed to recommend the action to the city council.

A representative of a soil analysis firm reported both sites satisfactory, but felt an architect should be consulted because it will be necessary to study land contours and other features in the school's design.

He felt further borings should be taken after the architect lays out plans to be sure the soil is suitable. Board members are hesitant about purchasing one of the sites because much of it is a marsh. The soil analyist felt the architect could help insure purchase of a site which would be most advantageous to the community.

Custodians Hired

Approval was given to the hiring of Richard Dix as new custodian, who will assume duties as soon as possible. He is a native of Marshfield, who now resides in the school district with his wife and three children. He is presently employed at the Neenah Foundry.

Two snowblowers were purchased from Cease's Radiator and small Engine Service, Little Chute, at a cost of $641.50 per unit. The only other bid received was $676 per unit.

The school calendar for 1968-69 was accepted calling for a total of 190 days with 181 teaching days. Classes will start Aug 28, 1968 and end June 6. A 2-day Thanksgiving recess, a 13-day Christmas holiday and a 7-day Easter vacation is planned.

The bord adopted a policy for selection and use of instructional materials for the school system. Individual teachers shall have the primary responsibility for selecting materials, appropriateness for age level and reading esperience.

Conflicting Parties

Any objections to materials will be referred to the teacher responsible. The administrator will attempt to bring conflicting parties together. In event the complaining party and classroom teacher cannot reach a decision, a written complaint may be filed with an eight-member review board set up to resolve the problem.

The review board will be composed of two members each from two closely related departments, two board of education members and two laymen. Both the complainant and teacher involved will be permitted to present their opinions before the review board. The review board will make the final decision on use of materials.

Teachers having a complaint about materials are to follow the procedures.

Fourth Alderman to Seek Re-election

KAUKAUNA — A fourth incumbent alderman took out nomination papers at the city clerk's office Tuesday leaving only one yet to announce intention of seeking re-election.

Clayton Blumreich, 231 Taylor St., will be seeking his second term as First Ward alderman.

Slippery Roads Cause Combined Locks Crash

COMBINED LOCKS — Extensive damage resulted to a car owned by Steven Vander Loop, 33, 323 Grant St., Little Chute, about 11:45 a.m. Tuesday when he lost control of his car on icy roads while traveling west on Prospect Street and struck a small tree.

The car went off the right side of the road, down a sharp embankment and came to rest against the tree. Had the tree not stopped the vehicle, the auto could have continued further down the steep incline into a home. Vander Loop was uninjured.

Former Policemen

Extradition Delayed In Little Chute Case

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer and Little Chute Police Chief Robert Nechodom said today that extradition proceedings against a former Little Chute policeman are being held in abeyance by Arizona authorities pending his willingness to comply with a court order for support.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller signed a warrant last month for the arrest of George LeNoble, Phoenix, Ariz., who allegedly deserted his wife and five children more than two years ago. Judge Keller signed the warrant and started extradition proceedings after hearing testimony by LeNoble's wife alleged to have occurred as long as he complied with the court-ordered payments.

However, LeNoble refused to waive extradition and the proceedings then were switched to the offices of governors of Arizona and Wisconsin.

Can Be Immune

Schaefer said today that the Arizona governor's office notified him that under a reciprocal enforcement of support act in that state, a person charged with desertion or non-support can get relief from extradition by complying with a court order for support payments. He would be immune from extradition to the state where the offense is alleged to have occurred as long

Retired Salesman Leaves $556,986

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Archibald W. MacDonald kept pretty much to himself. The retired mattress salesman drove an eight-year-old car and lived in a $12,500 home. When he died last July at 89, his personal effects were worth $320.

But Tuesday, it was disclosed in his will filed in the Register of Wills Office that MacDonald left $556,986 in stocks and bank accounts.

Schaefer said he was told the matter of extradition would be reviewed in six months and action then would depend on LeNoble's compliance with the order for support of his family, which is still in Little Chute.

Scramble for Taxes Goes on Everywhere

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Never has there been a government scramble for taxes to the equal what is now going on in the U.S., not even at the peak of World War II in the 1940s.

It's coming at us from the states, the cities, the counties, the towns, and from Washington. It's taking the form of both direct and indirect taxes, of both outright and hidden levies. It's involving just about every type of tax so far conceived at federal, state and local levels, meaning taxes and surtaxes on personal and corporation incomes, taxes and surtaxes on sales and property.

Federal income tax rates have been higher than they are today, but in this era, federal tax rates are only one aspect of the story. What's new is the breadth and variety of the tax scramble, the pervasiveness of the tax pinch.

Porter

Social Security

Social Security taxes have been going up steadily to new peaks, and if you earn more than $6,600, your tax contribution will increase again this year. The new maximum for all of us who earn $7,800 or more is $343.20, up $52.80 over 1967.

Federal income tax rates were cut in 1964 but as your income has increased, the progressive nature of our income tax has increased your total tax contribution to new highs. Now comes renewed debate over a federal surtax, and if this is passed, your federal tax payment will be hiked further.

At the state and local levels, the tax pressure is relentless. There are about 80,000 taxing jurisdictions in the U.S. and many of them raise taxes almost automatically every year.

During this decade to date the 50 states have enacted about 200 increases in the rates of their major taxes and imposed 15 new taxes, including 8 new retail sales taxes.

New Income Taxes

In 1967, Michigan and Nebraska enacted new personal income taxes, raising the number of states taxing personal incomes to 38; Michigan, Nebraska and West Virginia also enacted new corporation income taxes, raising the number of states taxing corporation earnings to 40.

A full 44 states have general sales taxes. All states tax gasoline and year after year, raise the rates; all states except North Carolina tax cigarettes and here too, the pattern is for yearly increases. Property taxes go in only one direction — up. On top of all these are business taxes, fees and charges in a host of guises and disguises.

In New York, we've been given our news. A $500 million state tax increase in 1968 is considered "inevitable" with proposals including a 20 per cent surcharge on the state income tax, plus increases in business, liquor and gasoline taxes. New York City is in its customary budget panic.

California Hike Biggest

In California, 1967 saw the biggest tax increase ever passed by a state, despite Governor Reagan's pledge to curtail spending, and reports are that 1968 will see further tax hikes to cover an anticipated deficit.

Taxes on top of taxes, and no end is in sight. This is scheduled to be an off year for legislative sessions (only 27 legislatures are meeting against 48 in 1967), but the Tax Foundation expects "tax legislation to be very strong for an off year." State and local spending has more than quadrupled in the past 20 years and the Tax Foundation foresees it almost doubling again by 1975.

In a little noticed recent analysis, the President's just resigned chief economic adviser, Gardner Ackley, put the prospect matter-of-factly: "at the state and local levels, there is little reason to expect any substantial deviation from recent trends, and the common expectation of an $8 to $9 billion increase in spending in 1968 seems quite safe."

At the height of World War II, taxes took about 25 cents of every $1 of our total output of goods and services. In 1968, taxes probably will take 30 cents of every $1 of output. And there is no way out for any of us as long as spending trends continue as they are.

Youth Center to Show Film of Unwed Mother

"Phoebe" a sensitive film recording the thoughts of a pregnant and unwed teenager is the next in a series of films for youth to be presented at 9 p.m. Saturday at the Shangri-la Coffee House.

Made for anyone 15 years of age and older, the film is a series of flashbacks to the home life of the girl, her relationship with her mother and the young father.

A discussion of the film, headed by an adult leader, is carried on after the showing.

Appleton Dentist in American Academy

Dr. Donn N. Kleinschmit, Appleton dentist, recently was voted into the American Academy of Implant Dentistry. The Academy has a national membership of 110 and associate and supporting memberships from three continents.

Membership is obtained by placing and maintaining dental implants, passing an examination and receiving the unanimous vote of the Academy. Dr. Kleinschmit was in Washington, D.C. at the time of his admittance.

Milwaukee's North High '5' First in Poll

Racine Park Rated Second, Manitowoc Third by the AP

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Powerful Milwaukee North ran away with top place in the first Associated Press Wisconsin high school "Big Ten" basketball poll of the 1967-68 season.

North (9-0) piled up 126 points in the poll. Racine Park (7-1) was a distant second with 73.

In the "Little Ten," Kohler (9-0), a football power in the fall, polled 52 points for first place in a much closer race that has Port Edwards (9-0) second with 47 points.

Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for each first place vote, nine for each second place, etc., in the balloting by Wisconsin sports writers.

North did not rank in the final poll last season, but Racine Park wound up third. Rounding out the "Big Ten" are Manitowoc (9-0), Eau Claire Memorial KAUKAUNA — Turning a 5-point halftime deficit into a 13-point lead after three quarters Neenah High School tumbled Kaukauna, 77-57, for its fifth straight Mid-Eastern-Conference win Tuesday night.

The verdict was the seventh straight for the Rockets and their 21st in a row against league opposition dating back to the 1965-66 campaign.

In addition to dropping the Ghosts to 2-3 — three games off the Rockets' pace — the defeat spoiled Coach Ken Vander Velden's birthday. He was presented with a birthday cake before the opening tipoff.

Roll Up 25 Points

Coach Doug Martin's forces played almost a flawless third stanza which saw them roll up 25 points while halting the Ghosts at seven.

They worked the ball around well, frequently getting it to Dan Jankowski, who responded by dumping in five baskets and two free throws. He had only taken five shots in the first two quarters, making one.

The same period also saw the Twin Citians regain control of the boards, which they had lost in Kaukauna's excellent second period, and they turned the ball over only one time on a violation.

35-30 at Halftime

The orange and black-clad Ghosts had trailed, 17-13, after an initial period of action but outscored the visitors, 22-13, in the second segment for a 35-30 halftime advantage. They had rebound superiority, sometimes getting three or four tips, and on three occasions owned leads of five points.

Kaukauna managed 37-32 and 39-34 advantages early in the third frame but then its troubles began and only three points fell through the rim the rest of the period.

Neenah hit four straight points to come within a free throw of the lead. Then Mark Eastwood was fouled and although he missed the free throw, a Kaukauna boy stepped into the lane too soon. Eastwood received another chance, but didn't miss this time, tying the score.

Jankowski drove in for two layups and Jankowski jammed in a jump shot to complete a string of 11 points before Dick

Starr and Lamonica Much Alike, Williams Of Raiders, Advises

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Howie Williams, former Green Bay Packer, now is a defensive back for the Oakland Raiders. Asked how he and his colleagues feel about Sunday's Super Bowl collision, the lean, soft-spoken Howard University product responded with the party line.

"It represents the culmination of a good season," Williams, relaxing in his room at Boca Raton's somewhat isolated University Inn Tuesday, said. "To us, it's the world series of football."

"We've worked hard to get here and, of course, we expect to represent the AFL and ourselves in a fitting manner Sunday . . . and I'm sure the best team will win." He was equally down-the-middle in his evaluation of the Packers. "They always have impressed me," said Howie, who was a member of Green Bay's repeating National Football League champions in 1962 before being sent to the San Francisco 49ers via waivers in mid-season of 1963.

Great Respect

"We think a lot of them," he added. "I personally always had a great deal of respect for them. And I know my teammates do, too . . . anybody that can win five championships in such a short period of time has to be admired."

Does he find the feeling on the Raider squad comparable to that he knew with the Packers? "Quite comparable, I would say. This is a very prideful team. It has a winning attitude, pretty much like the Packers."

Williams, now in his fourth year with the Raiders after being released by the 49ers just prior to the 1964 season, also rates rival quarterbacks Bart Starr and Daryle Lamonica, a one time Packer draftee, as "very, very much alike."

I think personally Lamonica is a little more enthusiastic," he observed. "He's a very confident quarterback and that confidence spreads through the whole team.

Very Much Alike

"They are very, very much alike. They're both great students of the game — they both spend a lot of time studying it. They are both diligent, industrious workers.

And the caliber of AFL football, does he, after playing in both leagues, feel it is now on a par with that of the older NFL?

"I think that's for the fans to decide," was the somewhat guarded reply. "It's hard for me to say . . . I would say they're about equal."

Does he find any difference in approach? "No, not really — it's all football.

In frequent demand in training camp as a performer while a Packer because of his vocal talents, Howie says he is made no attempt to pursue a professional career. Williams, an off-season electrical engineer in San Francisco, "It's just a hobby," he informed. "I never turned it into money."

Manitowoc 76, Sheboygan North 71.

After that particular outcome last Friday night, some Fox River Valley Conference observers may have written off the 1967-68 league basketball crown as belonging to the victorious and still unbeaten Shipbuilders.

North, supposedly, was one of the very few teams capable of knocking off the powerful Manty quint.

Since the Golden Raiders suffered their second loss of the season and won't get another shot at Manitowoc the rest of the way, the Ships would appear to have a smooth course ahead.

That little bit of logic may appeal to a good share of the fans around the Valley, but don't try to sell it to either Appleton West Coach Dick Emanuel or Appleton East mentor Bill Morse. They aren't buying.

"Too Early"

"I don't think a race is over until it's clinched," Emanuel said firmly Tuesday night. "It's too early to tell . . . It's still to be determined what happens in the rest of the ball games." Emanuel's Terrors are currently riding in second place with a 6-1 record, their only defeat an 85-48 lacing by Manitowoc in the season opener.

Morse, whose East High Patriots sport a 4-2 mark and hold down fourth place, has high praise for the Ships, calling them "certainly of state championship caliber." "But," he asserts, "they can be beaten. It wouldn't shock me if Appleton East beat them. And it wouldn't shock me if some club like Green Bay West came up and beat them."

Thus, with positive outlooks in mind, the two Appleton strategists are busy preparing for Friday's conference matches.

Emanuel takes his Appleton West cagers to Green Bay West to tangle with the disappointing Wildcats, while Morse and his Appleton East club inaugurate the Pats' new gymnasium with a contest against Green Bay East's Red Devils.

Other Friday games find Oshkosh challenging Manitowoc on the Ships' floor, Sheboygan North visiting winless Preble, and Green Bay Southwest visiting Fond du Lac.

Physical Status

Both Appleton coaches have reasons for concern about the physical status of their teams.

Green Bay Packer action is portrayed by Oshkosh artist Westcott Fletcher for Super Bowl week. Two pictures of Fletcher's "1966 Champions Series", on display in the Pioneer Motel, are shown above. The upper one shows Bart Starr (15) throwing over the outstretched arms of Kansas City's Buck Buchanan in last year's Super Bowl. Elijah Pitts is No. 22. This pass was caught by Max McGee (not shown) and went for a touchdown. The bottom picture shows Carroll Dale (84) beating Dallas' Cornell Green to grab a scoring pass in last year's NFL title game.

Nicklaus Will Defend Crown

Starts Thursday; Barry to Play Crosby Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Two young champions making their first appearances in the Bing Crosby Pro-Am Golf Tournament will share the spotlight the next four days with such perennial stars as Jack Nicklaus, Bill Casper and Arnold Palmer.

They are Bob Dickson of Muskogee, Okla., only the third man ever to win the British and U.S. Amateur titles in the same year, and Rick Barry, scoring champion of the National Basketball Association last season.

Dickson is paired with Casper, who is seeking his third Crosby victory and is favored to win or finish high in both the pro and pro-am division. First money is $16,000 and $2,700, respectively.

Pairs With Floyd

Barry, who has been shooting in the 70s and low 80s while under a court order not to play with any team except the San Francisco Warriors before his option expires, will pair with young Ray Floyd, former International Jaycee Amateur champion.

The $104,500 tournament, the 27th in Bing's series, pairs 168 pros with 168 amateurs. They will rotate the first three days over three courses: Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and new Spyglass Hill, a Crosby site only a second year. Each is par 72.

Sunday, those who survive the cut will play the final 18 holes over exacting and often windswept Pebble Beach.

Nicklaus will defend the crown he won last year with 284. Casper was runner-up with 289 and Palmer third with 291.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Wisconsin was cold and Rick Mount was hot, very hot, Tuesday night as Purdue trimmed the Badgers 99-79 in Big Ten Conference basketball.

Mount, a sophomore 6-4 guard, hit his collegiate high of 40 points to pace the Boilermakers, now 1-1 in the conference along with Wisconsin.

He started practicing last week without a steel inner sole in his shoe, a device doctors had prescribed after he had fractured his foot in October. He collected 24 points in the first half which ended with Purdue ahead 52-33.

Wisconsin closed the margin to 10 points midway in the second half but Purdue got its fast breaking game moving again and zoomed to a 17 point advantage and won in a breeze.

Joe Franklin topped the Badgers with 24 points, one more than netted by teammate Chuck Nagle.

Wisconsin was outgoaled by 39 baskets to 30 and was successful on only 19 of 32 attempts from the free throw line. The Boilermakers sank 21 of 26 such efforts.

The game began with indications of a see-saw clash. Purdue had leads of six points a couple times. Then Wisconsin forged ahead on the strength of 10 straight points for a six-point cushion.

The score was knotted three times before Mount poured in five points in a row to start the Badgers' downfall.

Wisconsin, 7-4 for the season, meets Marquette in a return match at the Milwaukee Arena Thursday night and then plays a dozen Big Ten games.

Packers 'A Little Sluggish' in Drill

Bay Receivers' Size Impresses Raiders

By HAL BOCK

MIAMI, Fla (AP) — Lonely Willie Brown figures to have plenty of company in Oakland's defensive secondary once Green Bay quarterback Bart Starr goes to work in Sunday's Super Bowl game.

But Starr won't throw aimlessly with Brown and Kent McCloughan manning Oakland's cornerback slots.

"Their defensive films indicate great over-all quickness," said Starr Tuesday as the National Football League champion Packers settled down to serious work for Sunday's big one against the Raiders, champions in the American Football League.

"They have quick tackles, linebackers and backs," Starr continued. "They seem to work very well as an 11-man unit."

Return the Compliment

If Starr admires the Raider defenders, they're quick to return the compliment.

"The biggest thing about the Green Bay receivers is the very good timing they have with the quarterback," said Brown. "Starr seems to throw on the break. He seems to know when they're going to break."

How then do the Raiders plan to defend against Starr's passes?

"At Oakland we play it man-to-man," said Brown.

"I think we're the only two in either league," he said of himself and McCloughan. "That play it strictly man-to-man without much help. Sometimes you feel pretty lonesome out there."

McCloughan is impressed by the size of Green Bay's primary receivers, Boyd Dowler and Carroll Dale.

"Both of them are bigger men than we are used to," he said. "I've never played against any that big. They have the size of tight ends but they have better speed than tight end speed."

Dale is 6-foot-2, 200 pounds and Dowler 6-foot-5, 225.

On Both Sides

Dale, who often switches sides when he lines up, will be running patterns on both sides of the field and facing both Brown and McCloughan.

"They certainly are not patsies," he said. "Both of them have made the All-League team in the past and it looks to me like they are mighty quick. Oakland seems to mix things pretty well on defense. Sometimes man-for-man, sometimes combination, sometimes tight, sometimes loose."

Dale's observations of the Raiders like McCloughan's and Brown's reactions to the Packers, are based on films of the last three games which the teams exchanged. It was a swap that left Packer Coach Vince Lombardi less than delighted.

"Since Oakland had it clinched early," said Lombardi, "that is not what I wanted. Why did I agree then? If I hadn't agreed, I guess I'd be what they accuse me of being."

That, of course, is pro football's most difficult man to please. Lombardi wasn't awfully pleased after the Packers' Tuesday workout.

"We had a hard contact drill," looked a little sluggish," the Packer coach said. "They tried hard but were just a little sluggish, particularly the offense. But that will be corrected."

From the way he said it, you get the impression it will.

Bonduel Cagers Edge Phantoms In NEW, 44-42

BONDUEL — Staving off a West De Pere rally in the closing minutes, Bonduel High School scored a narrow 44-42 basketball victory over the Phantoms Tuesday night.

The win boosted the Bears record to 6-2 in the Northeastern Wisconsin Conference while West DePere now has a 3-5 mark.

The Bears had a 9-point lead at one point in the final period, but the Phantoms fought back. A pair of key tip-in baskets by John Dussling helped Bonduel in the stretch.

Tom Betzner was high-point-man for the winners with 18 markers while Bob DeVos and Bob Kocken each had 10 for West DePere.

Alice Patterson had a 515 set to round out scoring in the Early Bird loop.

In the Hit and Miss League at the 41 Bowl Tuesday Ruth Zittlow set the pace with a 218 game and 530 series. Marla Thoma had a 504 set, Lynn Cartwright fired a 192 game and Jan Dorschner had a 191 line.

Jane Kampf's 209 game and Betty Cutler's 522 series paced the Ten Pin Toilers League at Hahn's Lanes Tuesday. Jane finished with a 514 series while Betty had games of 192 and 198. Anna Knaus came through with a 193 line and 512 series while Lou Schlender had a 190 game.

Phyllis Suehring and Ione Hanson shared honors in the Tag-a-Long League at the 41 Bowl Tuesday as the former hit a 207 game and the latter had a 513 series.

Chell Jacobs had a 203 singleton to lead the Rolling Pin League at the Twin City Bowl Tuesday.

Kay Larson's 194 game was the only honor score in the South Side Ladies League at the 41 Bowl Monday.

Indiana Tips Illinois, 61-60, In Overtime

Payne's Basket Ices Verdict for Defending Champs

CHICAGO (AP) — Indiana's Hoosiers are back to their old tricks of winning the close ones away from home.

That's what they did last season to climb from last place to share the title with Michigan State and that's what they did Tuesday night to take over the Big Ten basketball lead.

Indiana dumped Illinois 61-60 on a clutch basket by Vern Payne with 28 seconds left in overtime to record its second straight Big Ten triumph.

Purdue, having lost its opener at Ohio State Saturday, throttled Wisconsin 99-79 in the only other conference game Tuesday.

Indiana trailed Illinois through the first half which found the Illini ahead 32-25. Illinois opened up a 34-25 lead in the second half before Indiana whittled away to take a 45-44 lead on a basket by Ken Johnson.

The Hoosiers pulled ahead to a 55-51 lead with two minutes to play, but a basket by Les Busboom and two free throws by Jodie Harrison tied the game and sent it into overtime.

Baskets by Dave Scholz, the game's leading scorer with 19 points, and Harrison gave Illinois a four-point lead in overtime but a pair of free throws by Earl Schneider and two baskets by Payne lifted the Hoosiers to victory. Payne topped Indiana with 14 points.

Las Vegas Picks Packers by 13 1/2

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Oddsmakers quoted the Green Bay Packers Tuesday as a 13½-point favorite over the Oakland Raiders in the Super Bowl.

The Packers of the National Football League and the Raiders of American Football League clash Sunday in Miami.

Canadian Girl Cops Slalom Title

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP) — Canada's Nancy Greene won the first giant slalom event of the ladies international ski races today according to unofficial results. She was timed in 1:23.29.

Second was Marielle Goitschel, France, 1:23.89, and Fernande Bochatay, Switzerland, was third in 1:24.13.

Two Americans placed among the top 10 in the unofficial listings. Penny McCoy of Bishop, Calif., finished seventh in 1:25.76 and Wendy Allen of San Pedro, Calif., was 10th in 1:26.47.

Teamsters Still Trying to Represent NFL Player Unit

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Teamster union organizers may have a few plays to go in efforts to bring professional football players onto their team, but representatives of players from both leagues dodged the teamster blitz by asking that their league associations be certified as unions.

The American Football League Players Association voted Tuesday to ask that the National Labor Relations Board declare the group is official spokesman for the players.

The National Football League Players Association took similar action Monday and followed up Tuesday with a wire to Art Modell, president of the NFL, asking for immediate negotiations.

But the early move by the teamsters may have stalled immediate recognition. A telegram to league officials, team owners and the NLRB from Harold J. Gibbons, vice president of the Teamsters International, said an affiliate union had an interest in representing the players in collective bargaining.

Gibbons said the notice by the affiliate, the American Federation of Professional Athletes, would legally block the teams and leagues from entering into agreements with associations.

"If the owners fail to recognize voluntarily that we represent a majority," Gibbons said, "We will then proceed to file for a representation election under the NLRB."

The new AFL president, Jack Kemp, quarterback for the Buffalo Bills, said the football business is based on individual and team competition which "precludes the type of traditional union organization which doesn't recognize these aspects of the business."

game lead in the Milwaukee City Conference

Racine Park has only one blemish on its record, a loss in a non-conference game with Milwaukee North

Manitowoc kept its unbeaten string alive and grabbed third place with a 76-71 victory of over Sheboygan North last week.

Eau Claire Memorial had an easy time Saturday whipping Superior 66-33, to get fourth place in the poll with 50 points But, even with two losses, Beloit is only one point behind in fifth

The top three choices in the "Little Ten" were not mentioned in last year's final poll

Kohler and Port Edwards both walked off with easy victories last week Kohler scored 106 points in stopping Elkhart Lake

Alma, last year's top team, started the new poll in eighth, followed by Mishicot and Onalaska

Jankowski hammered in a rebound made an accompanying free throw and came through with another lavup for a 10-point difference at 50 40

Ron Vock connected on a long shot but Neenah made the last five points of the quarter to take a 55-42 edge into the fourth

Keep Pressure on

The defending champions kept the pressure on by rolling in eight of the first 10 points in quarter No 4 and they were in front by from 16 to 20 the rest of the way

Jankowski, with 17 points in the second half, finished with 21 to tie Kaukauna's Dennis Spice for games honors

Spice's total gave him the conference scoring lead with 101 points Jankowski now has 97 for second with Carstens third on 96 The latter with 15 points was the only other Kaukauna player to reach the double numerals

Patriots Will Inaugurate New Gym

but while Morse is cheered by the prospect of the return of regular Bob Meyer to action Emanuel is holding his breath over the possibility of facing Green Bay West without one and maybe two starters — including the standout Tom Hintz

"We just don't know he hasn't practiced yet Emanuel said in reference to Hintz who suffered a sprained ankle in the last 1:12 minutes of the Preble victory last week It doesn't look too promising The ankle is weak and sore We won't know if he can play until Friday night

Emanuel was also worried about Mark Catlin who missed practice Tuesday possibly due to an injured hip If Hintz and or Catlin are missing Friday Emanuel would look to see Wally Day Steve Carlson or Mike Simon to fill the gaps

Emanuel sees GBW as a big tough, experienced team and adds emphatically I don't care what their record is West is real good Why they're 2-4 is hard to figure out I guess it's just a matter of time before they get rolling and they did last week against Oshkosh

The Terrors head man also labeled the Wildcats Jerry Tagge as one of the finest ball players in the state Tagge hit 37 points against the Indians 22 in the first period as he hit his first 10 shots

Morse went to Cliff Tierney to replace Meyer in last week's come from behind win over Southwest Meyer sat out with a "locked knee," a result of a fall on ice that aggravated a previous injury to the joint

Of Tierney's performance Morse said "He gave us a shot in the arm out there later in the ball game" Tierney hit three baskets But Morse is anxious to have his regular back in the lineup because of his steadying ability to the club in pressure situations

Team Over-Cautious

Reflecting on the contest with Southwest which saw the Pats rally from a 13 point deficit to win 55-51 Morse recalled We got to the point where I was desperate to get us aggressive We were over cautious in every area of the game rebounding defense loose ball the whole works

What finally changed the game around? A combination of presses a full court zone and a full court zone Morse revealed

The kid showed a lot of courage he went on they could have folded up and quit

Looking toward Green Bay East Morse is wary of the Devils heavyset front line that averages around 6-3 East also has two swift guards in Kelly and Brauner They're real tough on the boards and they run a lot he concluded

Will the Packers, having won "it all" once, find their second visit to the Super Bowl less of a challenge?

This would seem a reasonably logical assumption at first consideration, particularly in view of the fact Vince Lombardi's athletes dispatched the Kansas City Chiefs with great facility, 35-10, in last year's baptismal world championship game at Los Angeles.

Such, however, is not the case, the Pack's brawny Dave Robinson emphatically assures in assessing Sunday's match with the American Football League champion Oakland Raiders at Miami's Orange Bowl.

'More at Stake'

"This year," he declares, "we have more at stake than we did last year . . . There's more tradition."

"We have to win this year," the voluble Penn State alumnus continued. Then, pondering this point for a moment, Robbie admitted, "we had to win last year, too, of course."

"But," the 245-pound Mt. Holly, N.J., native observed, "It's compounded by the fact that we did win a year ago . . . If we lose this one, it would be worse."

And, Robbie fears, the task at hand is likely to prove somewhat stickier than the '67 assignment against the Chiefs. "I think this team has more overall balance than Kansas City," he says, then proceeded to document his point.

"They have the top offensive team, passing and running, in their league. And their defense is the strongest against both the pass and the rush, in the league."

'Hurt You More Ways'

"They can hurt you more ways than Kansas City. And remember, they've got the AFL's most valuable player in their quarterback, Daryle Lamonica."

"And those two backs, Dixon (Hewritt) and Banaszak (Pete) are big and strong . . . they have real good speed. And they have got good blocking."

How about the triple champion Packers, compared to a year ago at this point? Are they as strong as they were when they met the brashly confident Chiefs?

"We have a lot more injuries than we had last year," Robbie noted in obvious reference to the mid-season loss of backfield starters Elijah Pitts and Jim Grabowski, who have not returned.

He didn't mention it, but the Packers also were, for all intents and purposes, missing one of their premier runners, Paul Hornung, in the '67 classic. Hornung, troubled with a potentially grave neck injury, suited up but did not play.

Analyzing the task ahead, Robinson said, "I think the big thing is going to be execution --and whether we're prepared. We're not prepared now, but of course we're just getting to the meat of it. The main thing is whether or not we will be prepared by Jan. 14."

"Your physical condition," the 1963 All-American continued, "is secondary. Overall, the secret of execution. Of course, Robbie added with a dry chuckle, "If you lost your whole front line in addition to the backs, you obviously would be in trouble."

Although he was accorded all-NFL honors for the second consecutive year (he was named to the Sporting News defensive team a year ago and to the AP and UPI all-star units this season), the 26-year-old easterner is not entirely happy with his 1967 performance.

A relentless perfectionist, he says, "I thought I tailed off at the end of the year."

Ralph Metcalfe Blasts Proposed Olympic Boycott

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ralph Metcalfe, former Marquette and Olympic track star, said Tuesday that a proposed boycott of Olympic games by Negroes would be "ill timed, ill conceived and very unwise."

Metcalfe, a 57-year-old Negro who competed in the 1932 and 1936 Olympics, told the West Allis Lions Club, "While I admire any Negro who is fighting for equal acceptance, you have to pick areas to fight in where he isn't accepted. The Olympics certainly are not guilty of that. Sports opened the doors earlier and more widely to the Negro than any other area."

He is a Chicago alderman and chairman of his city council's building and zoning committee.

Major Hockey League Opens Play Tonight

The Appleton Recreation Department's Major Hockey League opens play tonight with a pair of games at Jones park.

At 7 p.m. Little Chute (managed by Chuck Van Zeeland) meets Lawrence (Jeff Gardner). At 8:15 p.m. Shiocton (Ken Overmeyer) takes on Log Cabin (Ken Vandenberg).

Games are scheduled for Wednesday and Monday nights.

May Refine Helmet

OK Study of Grid Head, Neck Injuries

NEW YORK (AP) — Proposals to study and try to eliminate head and neck injuries in college football have been approved at the annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Carl Blyth of the NCAA's joint commission on competitive safeguards and medical aspects of sports announced Tuesday that two studies would be made in the coming year.

The possibility of refining the football helmet to "insure the ultimate protection of football players" will be undertaken at the University of Michigan, Blyth said. Recommendations are also to be made of techniques to reduce head and spinal injuries.

Evaluate Collar

A study at Maryville, Tenn., College will be undertaken to evaluate the neck collar currently in use in college football to see if it is doing the job it is supposed to, Blyth said. To date, he added, no research has been made in that area.

In other action taken at the convention, Abe Martin, former head coach and now athletic director at Texas Christian, was named winner of the Amos Alonzo Stagg award for service to football by the trustees of the American Football Coaches Association.

Also on the award front, former Massachusetts Senator Leverett Saltonstall was given the Theodore Roosevelt Award at the NCAA's annual honors award luncheon.

Cites Devotion

The award cited Saltonstall's "devotion to intercollegiate athletics as an undergraduate and his continuing dedication to higher athletics."

The finals of the 1970 NCAA basketball tournament were awarded to the University of Maryland and will be played March 19-21. The format for that year and 1969 will be changed to have the semifinal games played on Thursday night and the finals on Saturday afternoon.

East Team Scores 126-120 Win in ABA All-Star Tilt

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Big Mel Daniels, his Minnesota teammate Don Freeman and hometown favorite Louie Dampier generated the East rebounding and scoring punch right on cue.

The result was a 126-120 victory over the West in the first American Basketball Association All-Star game Tuesday night. A crowd of 10,872 watched the game which was televised to the league's other 10 cities and Los Angeles and New York.

Daniels, who scored only eight points the first half, came back with 14 in the second half—including three baskets and two free throws in the last 3½ minutes. He also grabbed 15 rebounds, a category in which he leads the ABA.

Freeman hit four points and Dampier, a Kentucky Colonel, had two in that final charge. Freeman finished with 20 points, and Dampier 18.

Three members of the New Orleans Buccaneers played key roles in leading an unsuccessful rally in the fourth quarter.

Larry Brown, 5-foot-9, and James Jones scored all of the West's last 17 points.

Brown, the league's smallest player who was named to the West team as a substitute for Army-bound Bob Verga, was named the game's Most Valuable Player. He scored 17 points, tying for team top honors with New Orleans' teammate Doug Moe.

Bays Have no Weak Spots, Says Rauc h

Super Bowl Foes Avoid Intemperate Remarks

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The strategy of both the Green Bay Packers and the Oakland Raiders is not to come up with any intemperate statements that might rile up the other guys in the Super Bowl football game.

Coach Vince Lombardi of the Packers, National Football League champs, praised the Raiders Tuesday as a team with "excellent speed, agile linebackers, small but very quick linemen and very fast defensive backs."

Coach Johnny Rauch of the Raiders, American Football League winners, said the Packers were "fantastic."

In the first Super Bowl game at Los Angeles, some Kansas City Chiefs made bold, even disparaging remarks about the Packers and are still eating the words. Green Bay clobbered the Chiefs 35-10.

Rauch had nothing but praise for the Packers.

"They don't have a weak spot," he said. "There's no doubt there's a certain mystique about them—the result of their winning record, their pride, their being the best in the game. I hope this doesn't bother us."

Lombardi said the Raiders could match the Packers in defensive speed.

"If there is one difference between the defensive teams," he said, "it's that the Green Bay line backers are a little bigger."

In reply to questions at his daily news conference, Lombardi said he had no intention of turning the punting chores over to Don Chandler, in view of the fact that Donny Anderson's average of 36.3 was the second lowest in the league.

"Anderson could punt deeper but he would lose height," Lombardi said. "The way we figure it, the quicker the ball gets to the receiver, the quicker it comes back. We think Donny has done an excellent job and we have given no consideration to replacing him."

Fans' Poll Favors Keep NFL Title Tilt Site as Is

CHICAGO (AP) — Shifting the National Football League championship game to a neutral, warm-weather city was strongly opposed Tuesday in a poll of fans by Chicago's American.

Of 922 ballots received, 746 favored keeping the game in an involved city; 176 favored a warm-weather spot.

Some NFL officials believe the game should be played where it is warm so it could be held under ideal conditions.

GRIN AND BEAR IT BY LICHTY

"You mean there's no defense plan against a foreign aggressor's attempt to topple the dollar?. . . War is one thing, General, but money is serious!"

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers

Q — I don't have a maid anymore but you're still sending me the Social Security tax form I used to fill out for her. How can I get this stopped?

A — If you do not expect to be paying any taxable wages to household help in the future write "final return" on the bottom of the Form 942 you received in the mail and send it back Your name will then be removed from the mailing list

Q — I've been renting a house to my parents at less than I usually would get Can I deduct as a loss on my tax return the difference between what they pay me and what I would otherwise receive?

A — No The difference is really a contribution to your parents' support and is not deductible In addition, depreciation and other expenses of property rented to a relative or friend at less than fair rental value may only be deducted to the extent of the rent received

The contribution you are making to your parents in the form of reduced rental can be counted as a contribution to their support. If you provide over half their support for the year, and other tests are met, you may claim them as dependents for tax purposes.

Q — I'm a recent widow. Is there any change I should make in my withholding?

A — No You need not make any change in your withholding in the year of your husband's death However, if your husband was claiming withholding exemptions for you, your dependents (if any) and himself, you may file a new Form W-4, claiming such withholding exemptions yourself. Of course, you may not claim a withholding exemption for your husband after the year of his death Furthermore, for withholding purposes if you qualify as a surviving spouse, for the two years after your husband's death the tax will be withheld at the same rates as for married persons.

Q — Is there any penalty for not paying your estimated tax?

A — Yes There will be a charge of 6 per cent per year on the unpaid amount of any installment.

Q — Our church is having a special offering this Thanksgiving and is asking for contributions in food as well as money Will either be tax deductible?

A — Yes, contributions of food or money to a qualified organization such as a church will be deductible Gifts to individuals are not deductible

Q — My return was audited and the agent wouldn't accept checks made out to cash as proof of some of my deductions Why?

A — To substantiate a deductible expense your records must indicate, among other things, the purpose of the expense, and to whom paid, as well as the amount

A check made out to cash or to yourself gives no indication by itself of the nature of the expense This kind of check must be supported by other records, such as receipts, to be useful in proving any deductions you claim

A check made out to a specific organization or person, a charity or a doctor for example, may well be sufficient to establish that a deductible expenditure has been made.

Q — I'm working part-time to earn some extra spending money this Christmas. Can I stop Social Security withholding on the second job since my regular employer already withholds the full amount?

A — No Each employer is required to withhold Social Security taxes on the first $6,600 of income paid each employee during 1967

If, as you say, more than $290 40 is withheld from your wages for Social Security in 1967, because you worked for two or more employers, then the excess should be taken as a tax credit on your 1967 income tax return

Q — I was left some property by an uncle Is there any federal income tax on this?

A — There is no Federal income tax on gifts, bequests, or inheritances However, if property so received later produces income of a taxable nature, interest, dividends or rentals, for example, the income is taxable to you.

Director to Discuss COG At Parley

Eugene Franchett To Address State C of C Conference

Eugene Franchett, Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) executive director, will discuss the COG movement at the Mid-Winter Conference of Wisconsin Chamber of Commerce Executives at the Park Motor Inn in Madison Saturday

On Jan 19, he will speak at the Regional Data Library and Decision-Making Process Conference in Oshkosh.

Following talks by Franchett and Anugs Crawford, Oshkosh city manager, at the all-day conference at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh library, a special panel will present its reaction to the speeches.

The conference is in regard to the consideration of locating a regional data library at the university

Members of the reaction panel are Walter Rasmussen, Appleton City Planner, Myron Medin, Fond du Lac City Manager, H L Morrisette, Winnebago County auditor, and Al Wochler, Outagamie County Executive secretary.

Lawrence Professor to Speak in St. Louis on Architectural Design

Carl F Ritter, professor of art at Lawrence University, will speak on architectural decoration in the Middle East at a joint meeting of the College Art Association of America and the Society of Architectural Historians scheduled Jan. 25-27 at St. Louis, Mo

His paper on "Interchange of Techniques in Persian and Turkish Architectural Decoration, 11th through 14th Centuries" will be one of four in the field of decorative arts.

Prof Ritter will discuss the crafts, treatment of surfaces, themes, use of color and characteristic designs of Iran and Turkey and will illustrate his talk with photographs taken during several trips to the Middle East.

Menasha Youth Freed On Speeding Charge

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J Keller Monday afternoon dismissed a speeding charge against James A. Fritsch, 20, 1463 Appleton Road, Menasha

Appleton police arrested the youth for allegedly speeding 62 miles per hour in a 25 zone on S. Waller Avenue about 10 p m Sept. 12.

Buffalo Coming Back From Near Extinction

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One out of every six Americans is now on a diet, either in the hope of achieving better health or a more acceptable silhouette.

The American buffalo is making a comeback. An estimated 60 million bison ranged the continent before fur and meat hunters almost exterminated them in the 19th century. Now some 23,000 of the shaggy beasts exist in protected government or private herds.

Prosperity note: One person on relief can cost the government $100,000 or more during his lifetime.

Artificial Heart

Live heart transplants are new, but an artificial heart was developed at the Rockefeller Institute here back in 1935 by the late Dr. Alexis Carrel. He was assisted by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. But the use of metal plates to replace other injured body parts dates back at least to the Incas of South America, who flourished before Columbus voyaged to the New World.

Looking for something unusual to do to make 1968 memorable? Why not climb the Washington Monument? If you're in good shape—and better not try it if you're not—you should be able to toil up the 898 steps in 30 minutes or less.

Quotable notables: "I don't believe one grows older. I think that what happens early on in life is that at a certain age one stands still and stagnates."—T. S. Eliot on his 70th birthday.

Ate a Mule

The good old days: No charge is too nonsensical to be made during a U.S. presidential campaign. In 1856 when Republican John Charles Fremont of California made an unsuccessful bid for the White House, his enemies circulated a report that he had once eaten a mule. It was also claimed that the mule wasn't his.

Test Tube Perils: The men in white who seek disease cures lead risky lives. Studies show that over the years U.S. laboratory workers suffered at least 2,700 infections and 107 fatalities in the line of duty. The maladies they picked up in the laboratory ranged from encephalitis to Nairobi sheep disease.

Mystery: Explaining the death of President John F. Kennedy has become something of a major literary industry. "Six Seconds in Dallas," by philosophy professor Josiah Thompson, is the 47th book on the subject published in the four years since the assassination.

Fear of Children

Panic in the home: Many parents today are actually afraid of their own kids. If this is true of you, you are suffering from what psychiatrists call pedophobia, or the fear of children.

Dream Worlds: Handicapped people are sometimes handicapped even in their dreams. A man who has lost his legs may dream of walking about as he once did, but anyone born blind does not see in his dreams. He dreams only in terms of sound and touch. And a person born mute often talks in his dreams by moving his fingers in language signs.

Worth remembering: "You can't fool all the people all the time, but it isn't necessary. A majority will do."

Folk Tales

Folklore: Black pepper in a ball of cotton will help cure the toothache, and wearing a sprig of parsley around the neck will prevent one. If you fold money toward you, you will get more money. If you fold it away from you, the money you have will leave you quickly.

Tidbits from the new Reader's Digest Almanac: An oyster can live 80 years. Retail sales taxes are now assessed in 45 of the 50 states. There are five physicians in the 90th Congress. If you're the thrifty type, don't throw away your 1968 calendar—it'll be good again in 1996.

Who Should Decide When To Tell Son of Adoption

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR DR. JONES: I was appalled by your answer to the question of whether to tell a child he's adopted

This question of "to tell or not to tell" is a long debated one, and one that faced my husband and me when we adopted our only child, a boy at age 17 months.

The adoption agency recommended it, and many, many other sources advised the same. Needless to say, we read and discussed this a great deal, and before going any further, I might add that I'm aware that this knowledge of adoption has been a source of much emotional illness.

Now I'll tell you why I'm for "telling," (and from the very beginning). What do women talk about when they have the mutual bond of little children in the house? Their children, pregnancy, labor pains. How many pounds? Teething! Formulas! Even a casual encounter in the park may spark such conversations

Now, Dr. Jones, tell me what do you do — do you spend your time listening, fabricating, hiding the truth? What does this do to the personality of the parents? Even if you're 2,000 miles from the nearest relative or close friends who know, I repeat — it is most unnatural to invent statistics on the spur of the moment. No, m'am, I'll take my chances with the 50 per cent statistics you quoted — knowing that my being intact and guiltless may help my son later on if he does develop problems.

Then there's that inevitable question from your own adopted child? "Mom, did I come out of your tummy?" How could you possibly lie about that! The whole business is unthinkable.

Will you think it over and write some more in your column on this subject? Thank you. MRS. A. C.

Yours is probably the most original reason I have ever run into, but surely you aren't serious in suggesting that a parent willingly discomfort her child simply to make certain she has something to talk about when other women engage in the foolish game of "Let me tell you how much I suffered"!

As for the question every child raises about birth itself, the easiest way to deal with this is to answer it accurately: "Honey, women have a special place just between their hips called a uterus where a baby lives for nine months before he comes out through the vagina. So when you were ready to be born, you came right out through the vagina, the same way all other babies do." None of the adoptive parents I have interviewed have reported that their children ask which specific woman they were born from once they are informed about the important fact they're really asking when they ask if they were once in a stomach.

Italians Urge U.S. To Halt Bombing

ROME (AP) — Italy's Socialist Party urged the government Tuesday to step up efforts to convince the United States to stop bombing North Vietnam.

A party statement issued after a central committee meeting said it would be "very serious if the United States let the opportunity pass for a decisive gesture (of peace)," in view of the possibility that Hanoi has softened its conditions for talks.

Italy's Christian Democrat-Socialist coalition government has been asking for a suspension of the North Vietnam bombings since last April.

what kind of coffeemaker do you use?

It really doesn't matter.
Any coffeemaker can give you a good cup of coffee, providing you use a fine fresh coffee that is ground exactly right for your coffeemaker.

We've always known that the correct grind is important to coffee flavor.
That's why, years ago, we developed Custom-Grinding.
That's why we don't have just one or two grinds
but seven different grinds... to fit any coffeemaker, including electric percolators, of course,
(Ask for medium-fine grind for electrics).

Custom-Grinding means a little extra work for us and a little extra time for you.
(It takes 15 seconds to grind a pound).
But what a difference in flavor those few seconds make!

You know, there's only one reason we insist on selling custom-ground bean coffees... WE CARE.

New Bridge a Time-Consuming Project

Appleton aldermen arrived at a wise decision in authorizing a downtown bridge study to obtain recommendations from the experts on where and when a high level bridge should be constructed across the Fox River, representing another main artery to and from the central part of the city.

Perhaps some have been unnecessarily apprehensive over the timing for such a feasibility study because of the fact that millions of dollars will be involved if and when the city actually decides to undertake construction, and that won't be until after 1970 at least.

But while the estimated dollar signs on the proposed package may seem frightening now, prudence and sound long-range planning dictate that the right-of-way for such a span be positively delineated so the required property can be purchased without the municipality having to pay highly inflated prices three or four years from now.

It must be remembered that the city's comprehensive plan, prepared with the aid of an $85,000 federal grant, points out explicitly that another bridge is needed over the Fox River to tie in with the city's future traffic flow and street construction plans. It is also envisioned that some day the Oneida Street hill will be eliminated and the bottleneck at Oneida and Lawrence streets eradicated.

Projects of this scope cannot become reality overnight because of their complex nature and financial requirements. This the Common Council weighed in its deliberations and then made a laudible decision to get all engineering data and information possible upon which to base future decisions.

It would be naive, indeed, to believe reconstruction of the College Avenue business district was the catch-all for solving the problems of this region's central city. It was merely a start and represents a solid base for building on for the future.

Dr. Spock's Arrest

The arrest of the famed baby doctor, Benjamin Spock, may have come as a shock to some of the readers of his book who have not delved much into the doctor's political convictions or recent political activities. But certainly it was no surprise to the doctor and his supporters. They have been actively seeking such an arrest for months.

Dr. Spock and at least 2000 others last fall signed a "Call to Resist Illegitimate Authority" which was really a notification that the signers were conspiring to support and encourage young men to resist the draft. They have taken part in various anti-war demonstrations but their particular purpose at present has been to insist that they should be prosecuted just as much as those who are subject to the draft and have evaded it. This was most definitely no underground conspiracy. The older people who signed the pledge have emphasized that they have been breaking the law which punishes draft dodgers or those who encourage or support them and they wanted to be prosecuted equally.

In part, the move is to protest the law itself and try to determine its constitutionality. There seems little doubt but that the government has authority to conscript. What Dr. Spock and his followers have really hoped to dramatize by their arrest is the morality of conscription and of the Vietnamese war itself. By forcing the Department of Justice to indict them, they are aspiring toward a full-scale debate on the war with the government of the United States on the defensive.

It may be that the war has gone too far for such a debate to be relevant any more. The lines are hardening and President Johnson's efforts to portray all opponents and critics as beatniks, cowards or Communists — have had some effect. It is easier today than a year ago to call dissenters traitors. Opponents of the war now must contend with the nearly 14,000 Americans who have died in the war, too, since some way must be found so that we do not think they died in vain.

But the indictment of Dr. Spock should serve to turn attention once more to what may be an increasing group of people in the United States — those who feel that individual morality and adherence to what one believes is right are more important than obeying laws. This has been argued by Negroes and their supporters in resisting discriminatory statutes. It has also probably been used as an excuse to break laws. But there are many people — especially young people — who are dismayed by hypocrisy in government, the evidence of corruption, and the vast impersonality of business, education and government. The American waging of the war in Vietnam, whether it is right or wrong, is further evidence to many of the immorality of government, the danger of a sellout to the military-industrial complex which the then President Eisenhower warned about, and the apparent differences between stated aims of the United States and its performance.

Whatever the outcome of Dr. Spock's trial, this concern for individual morality will not be settled. But the concern itself is a particular phenomenon of this decade. It is one that our leaders and would-be leaders should carefully observe and not underestimate.

The Other War in Vietnam

When Governor George Romney left Vietnam after his second trip he reported that while our military struggle seemed to be making progress, "the other war" was not. Senator Edward Kennedy is now in Vietnam especially to study the plight of the Vietnamese refugees. Critics contend that our presence is destroying the fabric of Vietnamese life, whatever the outcome of the fight against the Communists may be. And certainly every American visitor to Vietnam has recognized to some extent the appalling conditions of those who for one reason or another have been forced to leave their homes.

Those who suffer most from any war are the non-combatants over whose land the battles rage. This was true in the south during our Civil War, in Europe in both World Wars, in parts of Asia in World War II and in Korea during the United Nations conflict there. Even an army with the best of intentions cannot avoid destruction when the enemy takes refuge in homes. Deliberate destruction of crops and other supplies that could contribute to the assistance of the enemy has also been one of the hard realities of war even though it harms the innocent. Our more "civilized" version of war is far more extensive than in feudal days when peasants and their homes might be excluded from the fray.

But the exact extent of the damage of war to non-combatants in Vietnam is difficult to determine. Even the numbers are vague. Senator Kennedy last November said that two million people had been "taken out of their villages and put under the control of the central government." William Lederer put the number at four million. Those killed are also merely estimations, based to a large extent upon the number admitted to hospitals. Viet Cong executions and terror killings may often not be reported for fear of more reprisals. And families sent to the highly inadequate resettlement camps often gradually drift away, exactly where no one knows.

We are in Vietnam militarily for the noble reason of protecting the Vietnamese from aggression so that they may evolve their own way of life without fear of oppression or tryanny. But whatever may have been the fate of the South Vietnamese had we not decided to get into the war and escalate it, the simple fact of the war being fought over their land has been extremely destructive. The Viet Cong have massacred peasants and shot down women and small children. But today it is the American army which must move in and burn up villages after having removed the villagers. There are now charges in Vietnam that the United States is "deliberately prolonging" the war. And whatever may be the benefits of Western civilization and the really humane characteristics of the majority of the American military — the expansion of bars, brothels and some contempt for the natives does not make for affection and gratitude.

Nations torn by war have recovered. Most of Europe was able to pick up the pieces even after massive destruction and the relocation of millions. Japan never lost the importance of its family life in spite of total defeat and the destruction of the holiness of its emperor. When enough people feel that the cause was just, perhaps even misery itself can be used to rebuild.

But the plight of the people of Vietnam should serve to put on the brakes the next time we decide to go to war. Even in a limited, non-nuclear war today, the extent of destruction is so great that the benefits it is supposed to bring or the threat that it curtails must be tremendous indeed.

Looking Backward

'Grant, Stanton Done Politically'

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Jan. 11, 1868.

The President played off Grant (Ulysses S. Grant) against Stanton (Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton), and the latter has sunk so low in the public contempt because of his double dealing and hypocrisy that no respectable politician of any party now pretends even to apologize for the infamous tyrant.

Gen. Grant's endorsement of Sheridan's official career in Lousiana and Pope's reign of terror in Georgia, coupled with his "here-she-goes-there-she-goes" position between Congress and President Andrew Johnson, have pretty effectively demolished all confidence in his statemanship, if any one was ever foolish enough to award him credit for any capacity in that direction. Not satisfied with his life-office as a General, he is now attempting a sleight-of-hand performance through automatons and dummies to be brought out at a "Peoples," "No-Party," "No-Principles" candidate for the presidency.

It is evident that he (Grant) is getting ready for a stupendous squat; one leg in a radical boot, and the other pointing to a soleless, conservative moccasin.

President Johnson will act wisely if he concludes to remand the Secretary of War (Stanton) back to military duty; and place some man in his stead who has loftier and more patriotic ideas of Liberty and Constitutional Law, Freedom and Union.

25 YEARS AGO
Wednesday, Jan. 6, 1943.

The office of Price Administration (OPA) outlawed all pleasure driving that day for holders of "A", "B", and "C" gasoline ration cards on the Atlantic seaboard. Cancellation of gasoline rations was suggested as the penalty for failure to comply.

Dr. George Washington Carver, son of Negro slaves and one of the nation's greatest scientists in the field of agricultural chemistry, died that day in his home at Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala.

10 YEARS AGO

Appleton Kiwanis Club officers for 1958 were installed Tuesday evening. They were Philip Ottman, president, succeeding Fred Froehlich; Helm Hussner and Robert Chase, vice presidents; Robert Zschaechner, secretary-treasurer. William Griffith Sr. was lieutenant governor, state officer.

New officers of the Southside Athletic Club were Milton Giebisch, president; Bernard Blob, vice president; Norbert Winkler, recording secretary; Joseph Ebenhoe, financial secretary; John Cotton, treasurer, and Otto Sonnleitner, sergeant-at-arms.

Taylor Writes

LBJ Flies Around World, Then Tells Rest of Us to Stay Home

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Wags say Dr. Gallup recently took a poll of the American Indians. Twenty per cent said we should get out of Vietnam. Eighty per cent said we should get out of here. It's not easy to chop the world's greatest nation down to size. But the combination of the Sino-Soviet menace and the Great Society is doing a first-class job of it.

Taylor

Our politicians paint themselves (and the country) into a corner. Then they turn to you and demand: "If you're so smart, what would you do about it?" The justified answer is: "Well, I wouldn't have painted myself into the corner in the first place." And President Johnson's edicts in our balance-of-payments mess is a glaring example.

He asks ordinary Americans to stay home. In a self-respecting country enjoying any kind of management at all why should its citizens have to stay home? Is it only the government fat cats and bureaucrats who are supposed to travel? Mr. Johnson himself pops around in a private (taxpayers') jet that costs as much as 300 Rolls-Royce limousines and costs $2,460 an hour — an hour — to fly. And when Vice-President Humphrey pawed around Africa recently in an identical jet his travel companions totaled 60. Congressional junkets are likewise exempt. A whole parade of them (wives included) are laid on for January and February.

BIG BENDERS COMING

They're scheduled for the biggest benders since the sack of Constantinople.

Mr. Johnson (literally) directs, and asks Congress to confirm, that American enterprises reduce their investments abroad to reduce our foreign deficit. Our annual outflow in foreign investments runs $2.5 billion to $3 billion. The return here from them exceeds $4 billion a year. This great idea is like a surgeon curing you of heart trouble by cutting out your heart and throwing it away.

Moreover, Mr. Johnson is again relying on the public's ignorance when he makes the step sound impressive. Surely, he and the other Washington Robin Hoods of the Red Ink know the score. I find, and the Federal Reserve Board confirms to me, that our private lending abroad is already running about $600 million below the ceiling the board established in the program of voluntary limitations by banks and other financial institutions in 1965.

The last favorable balance of trade we had was in 1957, before the New Frontier-Great Society took over. Since then their balance-of-payments deficits total $16.5 billion. And with these went out gold reserve. President Kennedy inherited a gold stock of $21 billion. He and President Johnson turned a gold problem into a gold crisis, despite all warnings given them across the years. The stock is now $11.9 billion. Their deficits alone exceed our entire remaining gold supply and represent 16 times the amount legally available. For, by law $10.6 billion of the $11.9 billion left is required to cover 25 per cent of the Federal Reserve notes in circulation as of January 1.

DEVALUATION COMING

The legal margin left is only $1.3 billion. So get ready, folks, to hear Mr. Johnson tell us that the legal "cover" behind our currency must be removed. It's coming, and this column has been saying it's coming throughout the past five years. And with it, of course, up will go our cost of living, already at a new all-time high.

The New Frontier-Great Society inherited a Federal debt of $283 billion. Presidents Kennedy and Johnson lifted the legal limit five times. Kennedy Administration Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, glowing like a 150-watt bulb, testifed on June 12, 1961: "A temporary statutory debt limit of $298 billion would give us sufficient elbow room for maximum efficiency of operations." The debt is now $340 billion — Presidents Kennedy and Johnson conveniently calling the debt's dangers a "myth" all the while. And for 1967 we've a $20 billion deficit, again financed by money we haven't got.

Such balance-of-payments pronunciamentos as the President's only muddy the stream of public opinion. Political spenders making hay in inflationary governments are always more willing to curb private spending than to cut their own spending of the public's money. In not a single major instance are the politicians themselves sacrificing anything whatever to stop the dollar's dwindling purchasing power and fortify its international position. Fellow peasants, we're being had.

Fears Hand of CIA In Book on Vietnam

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Is the booklet about Vietnam for which The Post-Crescent has recently carried advertisements one of those being subsidized by government officials with the public moneys, for the purpose of brainwashing citizens of the United States into taking a favorable view of the political inquisition in Vietnam? I would hate to pay for a book that my tax money had already bought especially when it was initially intended for propaganda.

An article by David Wise, "Hidden Hands in Publishing," in the October 21, 1967 issue of the New Republic, explains how $570,850 has been used to subsidize authors and publishers in a caper called the "book development" program, in which contracts between the United States Information Agency and publishers include clauses demanding secrecy.

Director Marks of the USIA, when asked why the American people should not know that these books were government sponsored replied, "It minimizes their value."

Congress refused to pass a lawmaking public funds available for presidential election campaigns. Is the party in power making itself look good with the book development program caper financed with public funds?

Frank N. Trager got $2.500 from the USIA for his manuscript "Why Vietnam." It was badly researched intentionally or unintentionally. Praeger Publishing Company got $5.750 from the same source for 2000 copies of the Trager book. The royalties were extra.

Jay Mallin got $4.946 from USIA for his book "Terror in Vietnam."

He was also commissioned to write on the Dominican Republic operation.

Wisconsin Report

Is New Democratic Chairman Whistling Way Past Cemetery?

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — A favorite aphorism of some of the sophisticated Democrats is that Wisconsin is basically a Republican state, but that the Democrats occasionally manage to win elections, nevertheless, because of the mulishness of their foes and the tendency of the Republicans to make costly mistakes.

Wyngaard

The new Democratic chairman of the state, Richard Cudahy of Milwaukee, might have been reflecting privately in that fashion when he put out a claim the other day that the party will carry the state for president, boot the Republicans out of control of the governor's office and the State Assembly, pick up a congressional seat or two, some state senators, and reelect Gaylord Nelson to the U. S. Senate.

In the most objective view that is possible, scarcely anybody conversant with the current Wisconsin political climate is likely to agree with Mr. Cudahy's optimism. Indeed, his party to all outward appearances has less favorable prospects as the new election year opens than at almost any other time since the "great breakthrough," as its historians like to call it, personified by the upset election of Sen. William Proxmire a little more than ten years ago.

THE SIGNS ARE THERE

Nor is it entirely a matter of reading the pools.

It is widely known that most state and local Democratic candidate, actual and prospective, are worried about the probability that they will run on a ticket headed by President Johnson, whose political prestige has obviously taken a sharp turn downward. Two years ago the Democrats in the Legislature fought desperately to reorganize the form of the state election ballot, to put the national and state tickets together, and to make it easier as a consequence for the individual to vote the straight ticket. At the time it looked like a good strategy. LBJ had carried Wisconsin in a landslide of historic proportions a year earlier and it seemed to his local followers that they might have fared better with a mechanism to make straight ticket voting easier.

In spite of the ardor and energy spent on that objective only two years ago, lately the subject has been ignored entirely. The president's coattails no longer look as attractive as they did in 1965.

DEMOCRATS ARE UNCERTAIN

The uncertainty of the Democratic leadership about purely state issues is indicated in the scatter-shot style of the early attacks, and the unblushing preoccupation with the rumors and gossip about the state of health of Republican Gov. Knowles. Quite obviously they are hoping to benefit from some unpredictable developments, as they scan the horizon in a new electoral decision year.

Nor is such an attitude unnatural. Republicans have shown in the past an unusual capacity for schisms and internal wrangles.

Rarely has the GOP been centered to largely upon the person, the record, and the intentions of a single man as the Wisconsin opposition party is now centered upon Gov. Knowles. Should he decide to retire from the wars, it would be an obvious boon to the Democrats. Republicans would surely face a costly primary struggle, and would probably nominate a candidate less known than the Democratic heir apparent nominee.

HAZARDS IN THE WIND

The spring presidential primary struggle among the Republicans contains hazards of conflict and division for the GOP organization, as the historical record richly shows and as Chairman Ody J. Fish is keenly aware.

Such difficulties are easy to exaggerate. But the practical politician dismisses the danger at his peril. The best example that can be recalled from recent Wisconsin history was the ferocious fight for the senatorial nomination in 1957 that left scars throughout the party and indubitably led to the trail-breaking triumph of Sen. Proxmire. Without the Proxmire precedent, his party probably would not have prospered to the extent that it did during the succeeding decade. As reflective Democrats like to say, this is a Republican state, but...

Strictly Personal

War Is to Society As Cancer Is to Body

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

We say that the aim of life is "self-preservation," if not for the individual, at least for the species. Granted that every organism seeks for self-preservation, does every organism know what is best for its self-preservation?

Harris

Consider cancer cells and non-cancer cells in the human body. The normal cells are "aimed" at reproducing and functioning in a way that is beneficial to the body. Cancer cells, on the other hand, spread in a way that threatens and ultimately destroys the whole body.

Normal cells work harmoniously, because they "know" in a sense, that their preservation depends upon the health of the body they inhabit. While organisms in themselves, they also act as part of a substructure, directed at the good of the whole body.

We might say, metaphorically, that cancer cells do not "know" enough about self-preservation; they are, biologically, more ignorant than normal cells. The aim of cancer cells is to spread throughout the body, to conquer all the normal cells — and when they reach their aim, the body is dead. And so are the cancer cells.

For cancer cells destroy not only all rival cells, in their ruthless biological warfare, but also destroy the larger organization — the body itself — which signs their own suicide warrant.

The same is true of war, especially in the modern world. War is the social cancer of mankind. It is a pernicious form of ignorance, for it destroys not only its "enemies," but also the whole superstructure of which it is a part — and thus eventually it defeats itself.

Nations live in a state of anarchy, not in a state of law. And, like cancer cells nations do not know that their ultimate self-interest lies in preserving the health and harmony of the whole body (that is, the community of man), for if that body is mortally wounded, then no nation can survive and flourish.

If the aim of life is "self-preservation" — for the species as well as for the individual — we must tame or eradicate the cancer cells of war in the social organism. And this can be done only when nations begin to recognize that what may seem to be "in the national interest" cannot be opposed to the common interest of mankind, or both the nation and mankind will die in this "conquest."

The life of every organism depends upon the viability of the system of which it is a member. The cancer cells cannot exist without the body to inhabit, and they must be exterminated if they cannot be "re-educated" to behave like normal cells. At present, their very "success" dooms them to failure — just as a "victorious" war in the atomic age would be an unqualified disaster for the dying winner.

Beef Shepherd's Pie

When It's Cold Outside

Serve Those Hearty Dishes Piping Hot

By Lillian Mackesy
POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

Tabasco Beef Ring

An aromatic, hot and hearty meal is a wondrous thing to come home to when wintry winds are howling or a nippy cold day is on the calendar. Good, substantial dishes that are favorite foods dressed up a bit . . . stuffed, baked, stewed or stacked . . . can be as welcome as the dinner bell.

This is the time for stuffed pork chops or a new and enticing way to serve chopped beef or hamburger. Oftentimes it's the manner in which meals are presented that keep them from being humdrum. Take meat and potatoes, the working man's favorite. Corned Beef and Potato Stacks make a great main dish that's budget based as well . . . yet this is a dish that makes as wonderful a midday meal as a supper dish. Easily prepared, robust slices of canned corned beef are sandwiched with mashed potatoes . . . the instant mashed or homemade. (Only do mix in a bit of onion for a magic flavor touch.)

Then pour over the meat and potatoes a delightfully seasoned canned tomato sauce (maybe the one with mushrooms plus a bit of green pepper). Complete this oven meal with just as easily made Oven-Creamed Vegetables that include peas, carrots and celery in a basil-ascented sour cream sauce. Just a little different from the usual creamed vegetables.

Take Shepherd's Pie, an old favorite that comes from our English cousins. When beef chuck is used for making

Ear Piercing May be Harmful Cause Infection

CHICAGO, Ill. — Do-it-yourself ear-piercing is risky, warns the American Medical Association. It increases the chances of infection and the development of scar tissue. The medical group warns that the small, self-piercing earring loops now being widely promoted are not considered safe.

These devices have sharp points which are supposed to pierce the ears within a few days as they are worn. Infections requiring medical treatment have developed from the use of these devices.

Physicians will not pierce ears having any type of rash or infection or if small cysts are present in the lobe. Persons subject to keloids (scar overgrowth) or who have this tendency in the family, or those allergic to nickel or other metals should not have their ears pierced, the AMA warns.

Sunburst Spareribs bring a touch of summertime inside when the ribs are barbecued in the oven, sending forth an aroma that's heavenly. The ribs are so easily prepared. They're baked for an hour, then basted with a zippy glaze made from canned tomato sauce, brown sugar, wine, vinegar and seasonings. For color and a piquant flavor complement to the sweet-sour sauce, tuck some orange slices (unpeeled) around the ribs.

the American version of this traditional English dish, it's mighty good eating at a budget price Shepherd's Pie is made with cubes of beef chuck Many connoisseurs of beef say the slow, patient cooking of chuck develops best the full, rich flavor of beef

There's no trick to preparing this dish and it's one that can be kept warm for tardy diners. Beef cubes are browned, then slowly baked until almost tender. Then vegetables . . the everyday variety . . are added and cooked until tender This stew-like mixture is then transferred to a shallow casserole, the peas are added, puffs of mashed potatoes are placed around the inner edge of the dish, and the whole thing is popped into the oven until the potato puffs are golden tipped and lightly browned

Still another favorite food . . . that all-American meat, ground beef . . . is prepared quickly and deliciously when teamed with prepared stuffing mix and red pepper seasoning called Tabasco. After a ring mold is made, the center is heaped high with mashed potatoes and the ring is surrounded with a favorite vegetable

Other ideas for main dishes on a blustery day include a New Orleans specialty that combines zesty ripe olives with rosy shrimp and canned tomatoes

Then there's another that's more at home in Wisconsin . sauerkraut and spareribs The recipe featured today is a new one with the added dimension of vitamins in Sunburst Spareribs made flavorful with orange slices baked with their rind along with the meat

So here's for some happy eating, surely.

RIPE OLIVE SHRIMP CREOLE

1 chopped large onion
2 tablespoons butter
1 minced clove garlic
1/2 cup diced green pepper
1/2 cup diced celery
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1/8 teaspoon rosemary
1/4 bay leaf
1 (1-pound) can tomatoes
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 (15-ounce) can tomato sauce
1 (No. 1) tall can pitted ripe olives
1 pound cooked and deveined large shrimp

Cook onion in butter until soft and transparent. Add garlic and cook a minute longer. Add green pepper, celery, salt, pepper, herbs and bay leaf.

Mix two tablespoons juice drained from tomatoes with cornstarch and set aside.

Add remaining tomatoes and tomato sauce to cooked vegetables: cover and simmer 10 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Add cornstarch mixture and cook, stirring, until sauce boils and thickens slightly.

Add well drained ripe olives and shrimp. Heat through. Serve over rice as desired. Recipe makes about six servings.

BEEF SHEPHERD'S PIE

3 pounds boneless beef chuck, cut into 1 1/2 inch cubes
1/4 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons shortening
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup water
2 beef bouillon cubes, optional
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon fines herbes blend
2 cups (1-inch) carrot chunks
8 small white onions
1 cup sliced (1 1/2-inch) celery
1 pkg. (10 ounce) frozen peas, separated
2 cups hot, seasoned, mashed potatoes
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Paprika

Dredge meat in mixture of flour, one teaspoon salt and pepper. Melt shortening over moderate heat in heavy Dutch oven with close-fitting cover and heatproof handles Brown beef in shortening, turning meat as needed to brown evenly. Add chopped onion and cook until tender

Sprinkle any remaining flour mixture over meat, mix Add water, bouillon cubes, Worcestershire sauce and fines herbes. Cover: bake in 325-degree oven one and one-half hours. Add carrots and onions: sprinkle with remaining teaspoon salt. Cover: bake 15 minutes.

Add celery: bake until vegetables are tender, about 15 minutes Fold in peas. Transfer to shallow 2 1/2-quart casserole.

Drop small spoonfuls of potato around edge. Brush potatoes with butter or margarine; sprinkle with paprika. Bake in 400-degree oven (400 degrees F.) until peas are cooked and potatoes warmed and lightly browned, about 15 minutes. Recipe makes eight servings.

TABASCO BEEF RING

2 pounds ground beef
1 cup prepared stuffing mix
1/4 cup milk
2 eggs
1 medium onion, minced
2 teaspoons salt
1 1/4 teaspoons Tabasco

Combine and blend all ingredients Pack into a greased 9-inch ring mold. Bake in 350-degree oven about 25 to 30 minutes. Gently remove meat from mold and place on platter: fill center with mashed potatoes Surround with hot cooked beans and beets. Recipe makes six servings

CORNED BEEF 'N' POTATO STACKS

1 can (12 ozs.) corned beef, chilled
1 cup mashed potatoes
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce with mushrooms
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
Dash pepper

Cut corned beef crosswise into eight slices. Combine potatoes and onion. Top four slices corned beef with potatoes; cover with remaining corned beef slices. Place in shallow baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients: pour over corned beef. Bake in 350-degree over for 20 minutes. Recipe makes four servings

OVEN-CREAMED VEGETABLES

1 pkg. (10 ounces) frozen peas and carrots
2 cups sliced celery
3/4 cup sour cream
1/2 teaspoon basil

Cook peas and carrots and celery together according to directions on frozen package; drain thoroughly. Gently mix in sour cream and basil. Turn into one-quart casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Recipe makes four servings.

SUNBURST SPARERIBS

4 pounds spareribs, cut into serving pieces
1 orange, sliced with peel on
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1/2 cup brown sugar or honey
1/4 cup wine vinegar
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon celery seed, if desired
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon cloves
1/8 teaspoon pepper

Arrange ribs in baking dish and cover loosely with foil; bake at 375 degrees for one hour. Uncover; pour off fat.

Tuck orange slices around ribs and sprinkle with onion. Combine remaining ingredients, pour over ribs, turning to coat both sides.

Bake 25 to 30 minutes longer or until ribs are browned and nicely glazed. Arrange ribs and orange slices sunburst-fashion on round platter. Skim fat from sauce and serve with meat. Recipe makes four servings.

STUFFED PORK CHOPS

8 Thick loin pork chops
1 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
1 package (7 oz.) herb seasoned cube stuffing
1/4 teaspoon each salt, pepper, thyme, sage
1/4 cup snipped parsley

Brown chops lightly in hot fat trimmed from chops. Remove chops from skillet; add onion and celery and cook until tender. Prepare cube stuffing according to package directions. Combine with vegetables and seasonings.

Place a chop, fat edge up, at each end of a 10-inch long loaf pan. Alternate chops and stuffing. Insert skewers through chops. Bake at 325 degrees for one hour, or until done. Garnish with spiced peaches and grapes. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

Your Problems

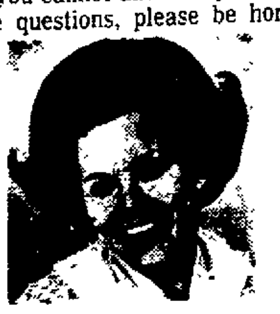
Domestics Flee Their Jobs Because of Shoddy Treatment

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I say a few words to the millions of American housewives who can't seem to find or keep domestic help? As a woman who has worked as a housekeeper for 22 years, I would like to ask these chronic cryers to take a good look at themselves and perhaps they will discover why they are having problems.

Too many women expect household help to work from dawn till dusk with no regard for hours, overtime, holidays or anything else. They also forget that wages ought to go up to keep pace with the cost of living. How many women are paying household help the same wages they were getting six and eight years ago? And, by the way, second-hand clothes, leftover food, and discarded furniture do not take the place of money.

How many women treat a housekeeper like a human being? If she lives on the place, is her room cheerful and attractive? Is she made to feel guilty if she uses the phone or sits down to have a good lunch or a cup of coffee at 3 p.m.? Does she get a vacation with pay, like women who work in business or industry?

If you cannot answer "yes" to these questions, please be honest and admit that perhaps you are largely responsible for the scarcity of domestic help. —Bird's Eye View



Landers

Dear Bird: Thank you for an intelligent answer to a question which I have been handling in the mail daily for the last 12 years. I concur completely.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please rush word to your teen-age readers that you do not endorse "Cool Cat's" suggestion that young lovers go to airports to "discuss life."

The zoo, O.K. Theatre lobbies and public libraries, O.K. Art museums, galleries and parks, fine. But not airports, Ann, please. We in Madison, Wis. don't know where to put our paying customers. Our airline passenger traffic has increased 34 per cent over last year. Except for that, I love your column.—R.B.S., Airport Superintendent

Dear R.B.S.: Consider 'em told. And, incidentally, I love your airport.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband was married to another woman several years ago. They had no children. The marriage was a mistake and it lasted less than 18 months. We would both like to forget it.

We have two children, four and five years of age. Eventually we will tell them that their daddy was married to another woman, but we feel we should wait until they are old enough to understand.

My husband's sister has a family album fairly bursting with pictures of the ex-wife in the midst of family gatherings. She drags out the album whenever we come over and reminisces about how "George and Fran" did this and that.

I feel the pictures should have been removed from the album and that my sister-in-law should not be bringing up the past in the presence of our children. It is not her place to tell them, is it?—Second Wife

Dear Wife: Of course not! So why are you stalling around and letting her do it? Is it because you've been putting off an unpleasant job with the excuse that the children are too young to understand?

A child of four knows what a wife is, so get busy and tell the children that Daddy had another wife before he married Mommy. This will defang your sister-in-law and you will then be able to relax in her presence.

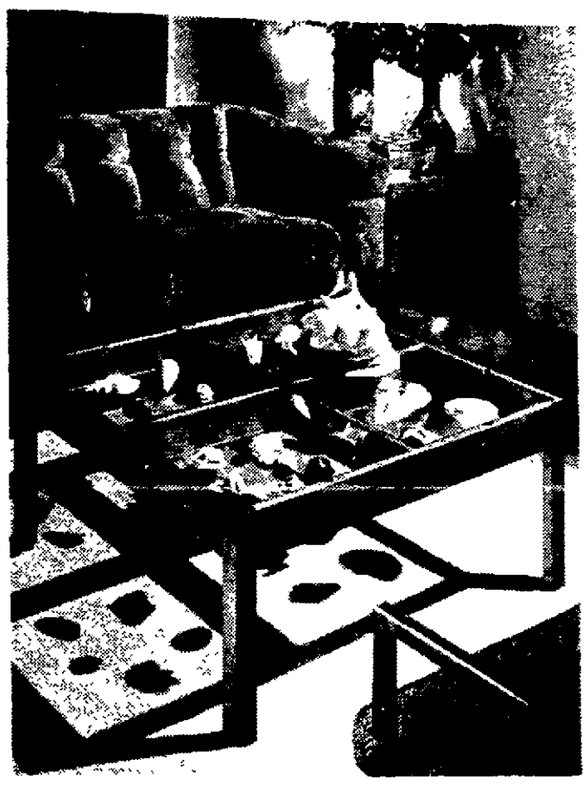
Mod Trend in Furnishings Diminishes



This New Collection of modern seating pieces and and chrome and glass tables, designed by H. Thomas Keller, has the sled base theme carried throughout on the sofa, side chair and the three glass table tops. Use of highly polished chrome on steel is a relatively new material to the home furnishings world, and has been extremely expensive. When buying chrome, check the seams at which the metal is joined for smooth edges and neat weldings.

CHICAGO — There are several noticeable trends at the International Furniture Market this year. The strong "mod" influence of last season has given way to a youthful vitality that livens the scene. The gleam of burnished chrome, silvered glass, see-through tables and chairs, shaggy rugs, indoor-outdoor carpeting, furry throws and pillows are in evidence.

Post-Crescent Women's Department staff writer Carol Hanson is attending the International Home Furnishings Market which began Sunday in Chicago.

Contemporary is a leading style. One of the greatest transformations is found in upholstery where the weltless soft edge is still the unchallenged look. However, the exaggerated puffiness so popular last year is slimming down into more fashionable contours.

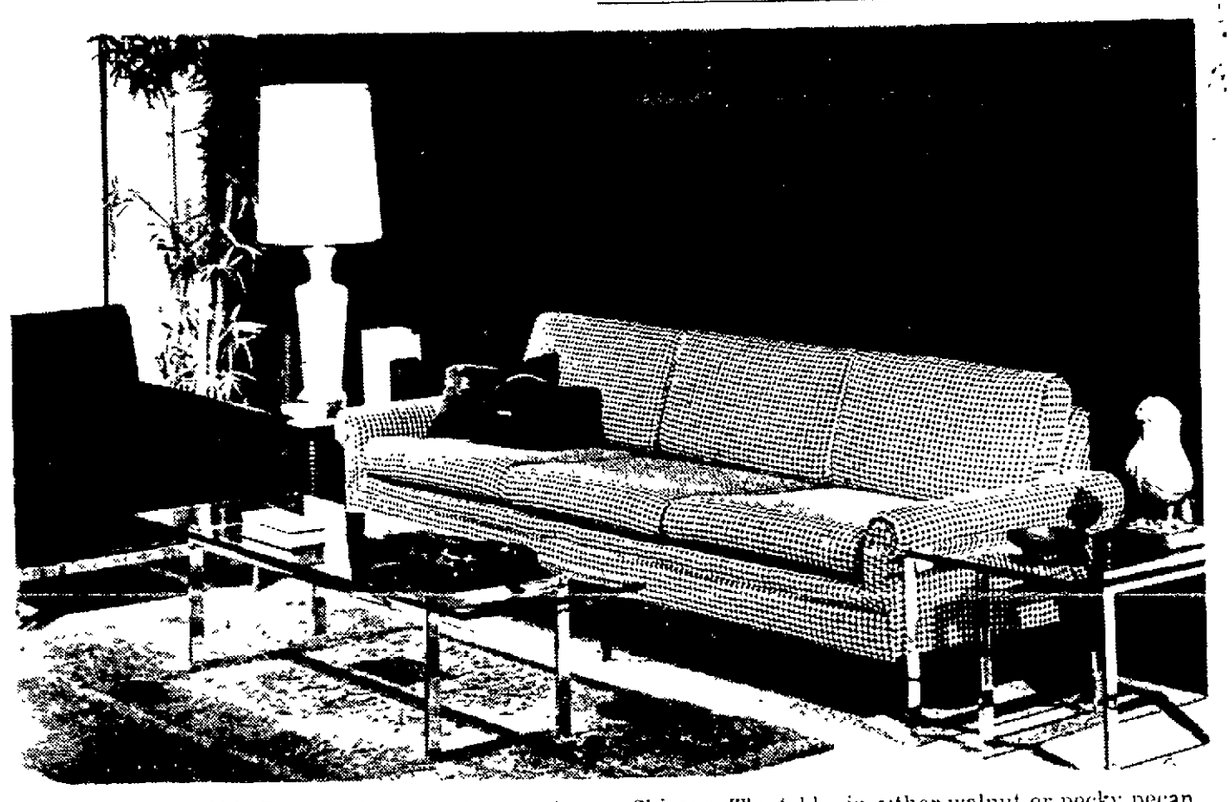
Toned Down Designs

Absent from the scene this year are the shock treatment designs, screaming colors and flashy decorating gimmicks. Some of the excitement remains, but the whole has been toned down into a more modulated, softly romantic mood. Avant garde makes way for sophisticated, played-down elegance.

Fabrics range from soft glove-like leathers and vinyls to the most luxurious velvets. Done in understated tones, the fabrics are of muted yellow, silvery pewter, white, mint green and the "no colors" of grey and beige. These delicately cool colors which were a whispered trend last season, are now a refreshing replacement of the hot, charged-hues and wild prints of last year.

There is a small, exclusive vanguard of "way out" furniture designs that may be in the future. The shape of things to come is more than merely hinted at in these revolutionary new styles that depart almost completely from established furniture construction. New man-made materials, new finishes and a new attitude in living habits account largely for this new kind of modern furniture style.

Outdoor-indoor carpets revolutionize the flooring picture. These sturdy, foam-rubber backed carpets are "paving" the kitchen, basement, bathroom and other areas where there is heavy traffic. Imaginative designs and colors add interest to this fabulous new flooring idea. It is even creeping outdoors as a covering for patios, terraces and breezeways.



Focal Point of This Room is the collector's table, perfect for displaying, and protecting, your collection. It was part of a series introduced this week at the International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago. The table, in either walnut or pecky pecan, performs all the functions of a practical coffee table but with an individual style.

A Colorful accent to any contemporary room is the plush pillow at right that provides instant down - to - earth seating. The white pillow is ornamented with two bold black and brown geometric symbols and four fluffy black tassels. Its tufted top is made of Zefran acrylic and nylon, with a black vinyl underside.

Dangerous Invitation To Slam

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bidding five of a major suit is one way to invite a slam, but it gets you up to a dangerous level. You can't always be sure of scrambling to safety with a combination of good luck and good play, as Harold Ogust did in the recent national tournament in New Orleans.

Opening lead — ♣ 2

East won the first trick with the ace of clubs and returned a diamond, feeling very smug about his two "sure" trump tricks. East kept a good poker face, but his play was a trifle revealing.

With a singleton in the dummy East's normal return was a trump. The fact that East had not returned a trump was an indication (although not a sure proof) that East had the king of spades. Declarer was therefore in no hurry to get to his hand by way of a club ruff to take a trump finesse.

Instead, Ogust cashed the top hearts and ruffed a heart with the eight of spades. West discarded a diamond, and South had the bad news about the trumps. If West couldn't overruff, East surely had the K-J-10 of spades.

Only Three Cards

Ogust cashed the king of diamonds, ruffed a diamond with dummy's low trump and ruffed another heart with the nine of spades. Declarer next led a club to dummy's queen and ruffed a club in his hand.

By this time only three cards were left in each hand. East was reduced to his three trumps. When South led a diamond and discarded from the dummy, East was obliged to ruff. Then East had to lead from his K-J of trumps, giving dummy the last two tricks by way of a free finesse.

You can well afford to bid five of your partner's suit if you can rely on him to play the cards this well. Otherwise, jump to four spades with this kind of hand on the theory that any jump after an opening two-bid is a mild slam invitation.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold: S- A Q 4, H- A K 8 3 2, D- A C- K Q 10 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts (forcing to game). If you use "weak two-bids," open with two clubs to show game-forcing strength.

Nursing Care Lightened By Mother's Imagination

Have you ever been sick in bed an felt the whole family had forgotten you? Not true, of course, but sickness does cloud our feelings. And this is even more true of children.

Ingenuity and imagination can go a long way to help ease the burdens for the next "patient" in your house — and help make life more pleasant, too, for mother in her home-nurse occupation according to the Council on Family Health.

Fit your nursing chores into the routine of running your home and caring for the rest of the family. Disrupted family life and neglected children can lead to accidents in the home.

Organization Important

Assemble the articles needed to care for the patient in the sickroom, so you will not have to leave the room while giving nursing care.

Use disposable dishes if the patient has a communicable disease.

Try the professional nurse's way of carrying a sick child if you must move a child from the bed to a chair and back again. Have the child flex his knees. Place your arm across the child's back until your hand reaches the armpit, if possible. Pass your other arm under the knees. Then ask the child to put one arm across your back to your shoulder, and the other arm across your chest until it clasps his hand on your shoulder. Lift and carry.

Don't let a child whose sick in bed feel he has been forgotten by the family Arrange a call device beside the bed such as a small bell or a buzer. For little children try a pot cover and spoon or a tin can and a stick. If the sickroom is upstairs, provide the patient with a cane or stick for tapping on the floor.

Morale Brighteners

A shoe bag, hung on the wall beside the bed, may be used to hold play materials for a child and serve as a means of keeping the bed area neat.

If the patient is well enough to sit up and play or work at a hobby and you do not have a bedtable, use an ironing board. The narrow end of the board is turned so it projects across part of the bed and serves as a table.

Nourishing the patient is often the most trying and discouraging task for the home nurse.

Little children may be amused and tempted if their meals are served in small portions in muffin tins. You might brighten the portions with amusing garnishes. Serve soup in a mug rather than a bowl. Both adults and children will find it easier to drink from a mug than to spoon from a bowl.

Administering Medicine

Mom should take a clue from professional nursing techniques. It is much easier to administer the correct amount of medicine if you provide yourself with a medicine glass that has graduated measurements on it. Also have on hand a medicine dropper and a set of measuring spoons.

Hold the medicine glass at eye level when measuring. Pour out of the container on the side opposite the label so the label will not be damaged by drippings. Close the bottle tightly immediately after pouring.

Whether you are nursing a small child, teen-ager or adult, never leave the medicine beside the bed. A small child may decide to help himself and aggravate his condition. An adult patient may take extra dosages in the mistaken idea that he can hurry his way to health.

Whether the patient is mildly ill or seriously ill, he will appreciate a cheerful face, unhurried nursing care and anything that is done to brighten the sick room.

An Ironing Board dressed up in a bright covering serves as a bedtable to keep active little patients busy. Since the board usually can be raised or lowered, it also can be adjusted to fit the needs of adults as well as children.

"Newspaper clippings," they call them . . . people who cut them out of the paper . . . and they obviously contain historical, social, economic, educational or other data for the reference file. They are part of the values inherent in reading the newspaper consistantly providing, as it does the printed word for tomorrow's reference in contrast to the spoken word which is easily heard, easier forgotten.

Recently, John Wyngaard, Chief of our Madison News Bureau, was informed that more copies of The Post-Crescent are used for reference at the Wisconsin Press Association Clipping Bureau in Madison than any other newspapers in the state except those of Milwaukee and Madison. Quoting the Bureau, "it is simply a question of customer demand and the volume and variety of our news coverage including the in-depth reporting and analysis of state issues contained in the featured columns of John and Tim Wyngaard." That's nice to know.

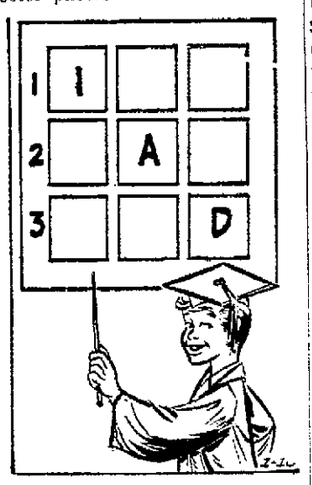
Complete the Squares and Win True-to-Life Books

BY CAPPY DICK

How would you like to become the owner of a set of 10 Encyclopedia Britannica "True-to-Life" Books relating stories about boys and girls, animals and nature and beautifully illustrated with reproductions of color photos?



Complete the Square

Here's your opportunity. Five sets of these books, each 8½-by-11 inches in size, will be given as the national grand prizes in today's word-square puzzle contest. Titles of the 10 books indicate the wide range of interesting material they contain: "Pablo, Boy of Mexico," "Adventures of a Squirrel," "Land of Coffee," "Joey's Horse," "The Trail to Santa Fe," "Jamie's Dog," "Tom Savage, a Story of Colonial Virginia," "Yasin of Arabia," "Birds in Summer" and "Sioux Buffalo Hunter."

To qualify for a chance to win one of the five sets, a boy or girl must first win a local qualifying prize. In today's contest this prize is a magic trick called "Coin Changer." The apparatus and secret instructions each winner will receive enable him or her to cause a penny to change to a dime, the dime to a quarter, the quarter to vanish and be replaced by other coins.

Five Coin Changers will be given away, one to each boy or girl of the Appleton area who sends in one of the 5 neatest, correct and most original contest entries. Entries winning local prizes in all cities where this column is published will be reviewed by the judges to find the five neatest and most original of all. These national winners will win the sets of Encyclopedia Britannica "True-to-Life" Books.

For the top row the word to use is something cold. For the second row the word is a container. For the third row the word is the last part of anything. Print the missing letters in the spaces, then clip out the picture, paste it on a sheet of paper, print your name, age, address and Zip number beneath it and finally decorate it in any neat, original way with crayons, paints, cutouts or other means.

Address the entry to Cappy Dick's "True-to-Life" Contest at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Prize winners' names will be published here. Their prizes will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

Tomorrow: How to stage a "21 Twigs" race for party fun!

Avengers And Little Things

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 — Channels 11-9 — Another mid-season shift becomes effective with the return of Emma Peel and John Steed as The Avengers take over this time period. Everthing is much the same as when the series left the air last summer with Diana Rigg starring as Mrs. Peel (for the time being) and Patrick Macnee as Steed. This episode is titled "Mission: Highly Improbable" and that's it exactly. While searching for a missing government official, Steed discovers a miniature Rolls-Royce which on careful examination turns out to be the official's own car, shrunken. Before long, Emma and Steed learn that the evil genius who shrank the car can also shrink humans, and does. (C)

8-9 — Channel 5 — The Kraft Music Hall presents one of the better and bouncier of its offerings titled "A Grand Night For Swinging" and starring Bobby Darin, George Kirby, Bobbie Gentry and Bobby Van. (C)

6:30-7:30 — Channels 2-7 — Lost in Space is a weird collection of old and new ploys including a plot stolen from the legend of Princess Anastasia and a space ship wandering through the heavens for five years looking for the missing princess and captained by a pirate of the Spanish Main era. (C)

* * *

6:30-8 — Channel 5 — The acting honors and the major portion of the story on The Virginian, goes to guest star Steve Ihnat. Of the regulars, Doug McClure gets the call as an old friend of a new hand, Ihnat. (C)

7:30-8 — Channel 2-7 — Jethro on The Beverly Hillbillies seems to be getting more and more boobish with each episode. We remember when he made even a little bit of sense. This is about his enormous appetite and ability to gorge himself. The ever helpful Jed feels he can do something for the boy by buying him a little restaurant where he can work at his avocation, gluttony. (C)

8-10 — Channels 11-9 — You will see many similarities between "The Pleasure Seekers" on The Wednesday Night Movie and "Three Coins in the Fountain". The big difference is the location, which is Spain for this presentation. But the theme is the same. The three girls are Ann-Margret, Carol Lynley and Pamela Tiffin. Gardner McKay, Tony Franciosa, Andre Lawrence and Gene Tierney are featured in this 1965 film. (C)

9-10 — Channels 2-7 — Carol Burnett and Ed Ames brighten up The Jonathan Winters Show particularly in a musical manner. Carol is great with "What Did I Have" and Ed steals much of it with "Luck Be a Lady" and "When the Snow Is On the Roses." In addition, the singing duo Peaches and Herb are present with "Two Little Children." Jonny's comedy skits include a good one with Carol spoofing "A Man and a Woman," and in another Elwood P. Suggins copes with the problems of a runaway teen-ager. (C)

9-10—Channel 5—Warren Oates and Bert Freed help make this Run For Your Life one of the most vicious of the season. Paul Bryan meets the two, a deputy (Oates) and his sheriff (Freed) in a small prairie town when he interferes with an arrest being made. The result is they jail him and during his incarceration he fights back against the sadistic deputy and then faces a long prison term. Anne Helm is featured and if you wonder why you're not seeing too much of Ben Gazara, it's because he also directed this. (C)

Film Unionists Plan Action on 'Runaways'

California Senators, All Segments of Studio Labor to Consider Problem Jan. 18

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For years Hollywood's labor leaders have been complaining about "runaway production"—the flight of film making to foreign countries. Now they are planning to do something about it.

On Jan. 18, the labor men will meet in Washington with California Sens. Thomas Kuchel and George Murphy and present proposals to halt the overseas drift of film production. The leaders will represent virtually all segments of studio labor—actors, writers, directors, musicians, plus the craft unions.

The cause for their concern was illustrated in a recent survey by Daily Variety. The trade paper reported that 54 per cent of the 210 feature movies filmed by the 13 principal companies were made in foreign lands. In addition, 29 others filmed abroad were picked up for release by the companies.

These figures can be translated into the loss of many jobs for Hollywood's film workers. Last year only 97 features were filmed in the United States, and many were shot on location in New York. Ten years ago, American companies released 533 features, most filmed in Hollywood.

In recent years television production took up much of the slack created by overseas filming.

"But now TV filming has been cut 'way down," says a labor leader. "The networks have been putting on old movies six nights a week—next season they'll be on every night. That means the elimination of many filmed series that could be filling that time.

Long TV Shows Popular

"Also, the trend has been to more hour- and 90-minute shows, which means fewer jobs. Two half-hour series employ twice the number of workers than an hour show does."

Another reason for the loss of jobs in filmed television: the upsurge of variety shows, produced on tape. And some of the network series have been filmed in foreign countries—"Tarzan," "Maya," etc.

The labor leaders plan to tell the California senators that action must be taken to restore Hollywood's pre-eminence in the film world.

Made in England

Nearly every film-making country offers some form of inducement for film makers. The most notable is England, with its famed Eady plan. Since England provides bountiful talent, cheaper labor and no language barrier, American companies are naturally inclined to make films there. But the biggest inducement is the government-sponsored subsidy, which often pays production costs by receipts in England alone.

The result: 80 per cent of the features produced in England are financed by American companies.

No one yet knows whether President Johnson's recent moves to prevent the gold outflow will diminish the American investment in overseas filming. But Hollywood's labor isn't waiting to find out. The leaders believe action should be taken now for an American film subsidy or some other means to restore prosperity to the Hollywood studios.

Not Really Females

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When 46-year-old Henry Slaughter stopped his car to pick up the pair—one in a miniskirt and the other in tight slacks and a sweater—he didn't realize the two were not what they seemed to be, he told police.

The result: The female impersonators strongarmed him and escaped with $80.

Police, using a more discerning eye, spotted two men dressed in women's clothes and charged them with robbery.

State Contest Next

Appleton Seniors Win Elk Leadership Honor

Two high school seniors — Sara Jo Solie of Xavier High School and Ralph S. Watts of Appleton High School—West, recently were named first place winners in the annual Elks Youth Leadership Contest.

Sara Jo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Solie, 914 E Hancock St., and Ralph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Watts, 1419

Miss Solie

Watts

S. Outagamie St., each will receive cash awards of $75. Their experience brochures will be entered in the Wisconsin Elks Association State-wide Youth Leadership Contest.

State-level awards are $300 each to the first place boy and girl. The second place winners each receive $200.

National Contest

First place winners at the state level enter nation-wide competition. National awards are made in U.S. Savings Bonds as the first place boy and girl each received $1,400, second place each $1,200 and third place each $1,000.

Local second place winners of $50 each were Karen Kay St John, daughter of Mr and Mrs W. C. St. John, 1820 N Edgewood Ave. and Tim Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Higgins, 1606 Hillcrest Drive. Karen is a senior at AHS—W and Tim XHS.

Third place awards of $25 each will go to Susan Jollie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Harry Jollie, 419 W Pershing St. and Richard E. Byrne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Byrne, 1710 S Connell St., both of XHS.

Miss Solie has been active in both school and civic affairs, including being a member of the school council, student council service commissioner, and publicity director for the Xavier Drama Club.

Worked With Retarded

Her other activities include working with retarded children at the Christ Child Camp, helping migrant workers children classes at the Migrant Apostolate, Wautoma, Attic Theater, Girl Scouts and many others.

Watts is presently serving as president of the student council at AHS—W and has been active in several school clubs throughout his high school career.

He is an Eagle Scout with Bronze Palm and has devoted much time to helping younger scouts become proficient. He has been a troop leader and assistant scoutmaster.

He was selected as one of four boys of more than 1,000 to attend Boys Nation in Washington, D. C.

The judging committee gauged contest participants on leadership, citizenship appreciation, perseverance, resourcefulness, sense of honor and neatness, and arrangement of the brochure.

Because of the excellent brochures submitted, the judges found it difficult to select specific winners, according to Edward R Pierre, Appleton Elks Youth Activities chairman.

If your stockbroker doesn't make sure that you set aside money for emergencies, get yourself another broker.

The first principle of investment is: set aside emergency money in a risk-free place. Before you invest in securities, stop at the bank or savings and loan and deposit some money for a rainy day.

We can't tell what amount is right for you. However, one investment counselor recommends that a couple with 2 children should have six months' salary ready for spending. Some have said that $500 to $1,000 is enough to tide anyone over for emergencies that have to be paid within thirty days (not many jams require this quick a payment).

Whatever the sum, we recommend that you check with your man at the bank or savings and loan. The money can safely rest there, earning interest all the while.

Your bank has a lot of other services going for you. We won't describe them here, but we ask that you stop by and see a customer service man. Ask him what his bank can do for you. Then leave your rainy day fund. We're sure you'll be surprised at how many ways your bank or savings and loan can help you save money and solve problems.

We're just as sure you'll be surprised at what our company can do for you. On your first visit with The Milwaukee Company, our broker won't push a security at you. He'll ask some solid questions which will lead to a financial survey.

You may need securities that grow quickly in value, or the kind that yield stable income, or a combination of these characteristics. So this survey does three things: outlines your financial situation; tells you if you can afford investment securities and estimates the amount; provides information for setting up financial goals.

Give us a call for that check-up.

Our telephone number is 414/739-6311, or stop in at our office at 301 First National Bank Building, Appleton.

Find out about this broker who recommends a cash reserve before he recommends a stock.

Some people don't save for a rainy day.

Swashbuckling Days

Spirits of Battle Call Mercenaries

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE
Associated Press Writer

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The men sipping drinks at the bar don't look like killers—or saviors. Their conversation drifts from the stock market to business deals to the number of dead they left at Stanleyville.

Impeccably dressed, some are highly respected businessmen. Most have a yearning to get back to the Congo and their swashbuckling days as soldiers for hire.

Three years ago they and associates rescued hundreds of whites from possible death, killed thousands of blacks, and left a trail of empty banks and looted shops.

Moise Tshombe, the onetime president of breakaway Katanga, hired white mercenaries in 1960. Together with Katangan troops, they held at bay for months the Congolese army and the United Nations.

Tshombe was later named premier of the Congo. His faithful white mercenaries followed him, spearheading the reluctant Congo army in its fight against a rebel uprising which plunged the Congo into chaos and bloodshed.

Tshombes reign was short-lived. Joseph D. Mobutu, a former army sergeant, named himself president and ousted the white soldiers of fortune.

Some returned to their homes, mostly in whiet-ruled Rhodesia and South Africa. A handful had amassed fortunes in looted foreign currency, diamonds and gold but others had little to show except a few battle scars.

Many mercenaries readily admit that commuting to the office doesn't really satisfy them. They miss the excitement of jungle battles, the whine of bullets and the prospect of a well-stocked bank waiting to be opened.

Ad Executive

"The smell of cordite is like perfume to me," said one ex-mercenary, now an advertising executive trying to promote toothpaste.

South Africa has hundreds of would-be white volunteers of all nationalities and ages, ready to sell their services any time, any place—providing the pay is good enough.

Many have offered to fight for pay in Vietnam. Yemen and Nigeria, but with little success.

Some are listed by the Organization of African Unity as war criminals and warned that they will be tried if they are found in black states.

Col. Mike Hoare, known as "Mad Mike," was a former secretary of the elite Durban Yacht Club in this country. He led the famous No. 5 Commando in the assault on Stanleyville in the Congo and saved dozens of white lives. Few doubt that he could muster over 1,000 soldiers of fortune in a few hours, men eager to reach Nigeria to fight for Biafra.

Avoid Army

Another mercenary leader, Col. John Peters, has been recruiting mercenaries ostensibly to fight for the federal Nigerian forces. He warns South Africans not to join the Biafran army lest white comrades find themselves shooting at each other

South Africa, hoping to stem the enthusiasm of mercenaries and end criticism from black states, seeks to keep white mercenaries from leaving the country.

Foremost in the minds of many of the private soldiers is the fate of their former employer, Moise Tshombe.

Hijacked during a flight from Spain, where he was living in exile and planning a Congo comeback, he has been imprisoned in Algiers for months. He faces death if extradited to the Congo.

Tshombe Toasted

During a reunion of former Tshombe mercenaries in Johannesburg, Tshombe's picture smiled from the walls and toasts were drunk to him.

"Find us enough money and we'll organize a rescue attempt," said one former captain. "It's not impossible. We faced tougher odds in the Congo.

"All we need is a handful of tough dedicated men, some careful planning and the kind of luck we had fighting rebels in the Congo jungle."

"Seig heil," shouted a bemedaled, former German SS officer. "We are ready to fight together again."

Fritz, as he likes to be known among his colleagues, was a familiar sight in the Congo. He had an Iron Cross, a Luger pis-

Times Aren't Normal

It's Hard to Assess Image of President

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is the year of judgment for President Johnson, making everything that he has done or that has happened to him in 37 years of public life a preparation for the 1968 test which can be briefly stated:

Do the people have enough confidence in him to want him for president again?

Even in 1968 the test could be less than clear-cut if Republicans produce a mediocre candidate to run against him, for then the public reaction might hardly be more than 'Better Johnson than that other guy."

And the test might well have been in 1964, instead of 1968, when he beat Barry Goldwater for the presidency so overwhelmingly

Reasonably Good

After that victory, if the times had been normal and his presidency had been reasonably good, he could have looked forward to re-election this year rather comfortably.

But the Vietnam war has divided the country so badly, with a multitude of ill will dumped on Johnson for failing somehow to abandon the war, that it is the major issue now and Johnson is inescapably identified with it.

Just as much of a handicap to him is that his performance in the presidency, aside from the war, has been blurred in the public mind by the war itself, which has consumed time and energy he could have devoted to other fields and other needs.

This in turn put a huge dent in his image as the master politician who had Congress eating out of his hand, for the time he had to spend on the war diminished his contact and influence with the men in the Capitol.

Foggy Picture

Thus the four years between the 1964 and 1968 elections can give only a foggy picture of what the Johnson presidency might have been if there had been no war.

No one seems to doubt he will run again. But only if he is re-elected and the war disappears and he has then four fairly tranquil years can his performance in the presidency be fairly and fully appraised

Meanwhile, in the hurly-burly of the years he has already spent in the White House Johnson has had time to examine his virtues and defects as a leader in contact with the people.

His greatest failure, perhaps, is in communication He has been too stiff, too unskilled in public speaking to arouse deep feeling or personal devotion although it could mean life or death for him politically.

He apparently realizes this for his performance before the television cameras has greatly improved. The best example of this was at his news conference not long ago when he was his free-wheeling self.

So getting across to the people will be one of his major problems. But another may very well be just trying to make public speeches unmolested by cranks and demonstrators.

The New York Times recently reported the number of persons arrested each year for threatening a president has risen more than 500 per cent since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in 1963.

The Secret Service, whose job is guarding the president, released figures showing the number of arrests for threats against the president rose from a one-year total of about 80 against Kennedy to about 425 against Johnson last year.

Is there a cure for hemorrhoids?

Many leading authorities say there is no cure for hemorrhoids short of surgery. But in some cases there is a product that may relieve hemorrhoid pain. Its name is M.P.O.—Mentholatum Pile Ointment. M.P.O. contains Benzocaine, a topical anesthetic hospitals use to soothe burns and skin rash. It can give relief for hours. Get M.P.O. at your drug counter, in ointment or suppositories.

EXCEPTIONAL

Tired of paying high taxes? You won't be with this fine suburban split level home. The age is young and condition very good. The lot offers plenty of space for the children to play. The three bedrooms, den and paneled family room offer most adequate family living. The carpeted living room and dining room are perfect for entertaining. The 2 car attached garage is great for storage. Owner transferred and wants to sell—fast! $21,500.

You don't like your children to walk too far in the cold snowy weather, do you? They don't have to with this well located home near schools. There is two full ceramic tile baths, large living room, family size kitchen and three bedrooms. Good condition. $450 down payment — monthly payments better than rent payments.

Would you like a little help with your house payments? This duplex would assist you. You may live in the large living quarters downstairs and collect the rent payments from the upstairs. This home needs a little loving care and attention—but not too much. The location is very good and the price most fair. $350 down payment - monthly payments almost too low to believe.

Thinking of retiring in a well established area with a home that offers no maintenance? Here it is! A well kept two bedroom all brick ranch. The bedrooms are large. The living room carpeted and the kitchen and dining area well planned. This is a real nice home — be sure to see it.

Have you thought about buying a large two bedroom expandable home where you can finish the upstairs when needed and when you have the money? Darn good idea! You can buy this house now and remodel later. This house is in excellent condition. Painted. poured basement, 2 car garage, country kitchen. Call and at least take a look!

You know we have Four new homes under construction, ranging from Three Bedroom Ranches to spacious Four Bedroom Colonials.

Fifth Heart Patient Dies

Man Succumbs in Brooklyn 10 Hours After Transplant

NEW YORK (AP) — Louis Block, the world's fifth heart transplant recipient, died today just 10 hours after a surgical team had implanted a much smaller woman's heart into the 170-pound man.

Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn said the death occurred at 4:35 a.m. and attributed it to the "pumping capacity of the transplanted heart and the poor condition of the lungs due to the patient's long standing heart disease."

A hospital statement said, "It is with a deep sense of regret that we must report the loss of our heart transplant patient. He was a brave and courageous man whose only real opportunity for life was through this procedure."

Block, a 57-year-old retired fireman, was put on the hospital's critical list at 12:40 a.m. when the hospital noted doctors were having "difficulty in maintaining his blood pressure." He was reported in "reasonably satisfactory condition" shortly after the surgery.

The hospital released word of the death shortly after 6 a.m. Its statement said, "It was an invaluable effort by the medical team" headed by Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz—the second transplant the team has performed.

'Great Hope'

It was the fifth such operation in 37 days. "Much has been learned from this experience and we still hold out great hope for this procedure in patients with severe heart disease," said the statement.

Dr. Kantrowitz — Block

Kantrowitz, speaking to newsmen after the 8-hour-and-20-minute operation, indicated that the relative size of the two hearts—donor's and recipient's—could cause difficulty. "We have had some problems," he said.

The heart of the donor, Miss Helen Krouch of East Peterson, N.J., was "rather small—about half of the size we would have thought best," he said. She weighed less than 100 pounds, he said.

Because of this, the heart could not maintain the body's circulation by itself, Kantrowitz said, and an auxiliary pump was brought into use. The doctors thus performed two bold procedures in the same operation.

Meanwhile, preparations for another heart transplant operation were under way at Baptist Memorial Hospital in Oklahoma

Kasperak Critical But 'Improving'

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — The world's fourth heart transplant patient, Mike Kasperak, has been able to sit up and dangle his legs over the edge of his bed at Stanford Medical Center, doctors said today.

They advised the exercise to maintain circulation.

Kasperak's condition was listed as critical "but improving" on the fourth day after his operation, following complications and a setback.

The 59-year-old steelworker's condition had been considered satisfactory until Monday, when internal bleeding developed. Physicians said six pints of blood were transfused.

"Gastro-intestinal bleeding has stopped, and liver and kidney functions have slightly improved," the bulletin said.

Mrs. White Buried

Meanwhile the body of Mrs. Virginia White, 43, donor of the heart transplanted to Kasperak, was buried in Palo Alto.

"This was a humble yet famous thing, a history-making event," said the Rev. Watten R. Cheatham of the Church of Christ to 250 persons in a funeral home chapel.

"Around the world people now know of the willingness of the White family."

Mrs. White's husband Charles 'Bill" White, 43, told a crowded news conference how that willingness came about. Sitting with his two children, Judy, 18, and Rickey, 12, in their brown and white stucco home in Santa Clara, White said the heart transplant was not his idea.

His wife suffered a massive brain hemorrhage, he related, and after he got her to the hospital doctors told him there was no hope of saving her life.

He said he learned later that

Nine Die in Gas Blast in Pennsylvania

READING, Pa. (AP) — An explosion shattered two houses Tuesday night, killing nine persons.

Firemen, working all night, pulled the bodies from the tangled, blackened wreckage. Some were burned beyond recognition.

Authorities tentatively identified the victims as Mrs. Frank Stanislaw, her children, Robert 17, and Linda, 12, occupants of one house, and Robert Geiser, his wife, Shirley, his mother, Ethel, 64, and three children, Robert, 15, Bonnie 5, and Karen, 3.

The only resident of the attached houses who escaped was Frank Stanislaw. He was walking home from a garage, where he had taken the family car, when the explosion rocked the neighborhood. Stanislaw, 48, was treated for shock at Community General Hospital.

Fire Chief Russell Bowers said a two-man city water crew had been digging in the front of the houses. Bowers said he was checking to see if they could have hit a gas line. The men, who had earlier been served coffee by Mrs. Stanislaw, were still working in the excavation when the explosion occurred.

A neighbor, Edgar M. Reidel Jr., said he had just gone to bed when he heard the blast and children screaming. He raced outside and bumped into Stanislaw, who was running toward home.

Reidel said the house interiors were blown apart and the upper floors were sinking into the lower floors. A sinking bed bore the woman, who cried out for help, neighbors said.

Reidel and another neighbor, Ervin Lindinger, tried to pull her out, but were driven back by flames.

Pentagon to Increase Army Draftee Quota

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON (AP) — Vietnam's Communist high command has committed its military forces to a burgeoning, nationwide offensive in the first days of 1968. It has two major objectives, the most experienced observers believe.

One is to undermine rural people's confidence in the Saigon government, particularly in regions where pacification has been a priority.

The second objective is the severe punishment of allied forces, testing their morale and writing headlines in the world's press. Three times more Americans were killed in the first week of 1968 than in the first week of 1967.

The objective of punishing allied forces was sought and partly gained by the Communists in the vicious border fighting at Dak To, Loc Ninh and at the demilitarized zone in the closing months of 1967.

Continue Strategy

This strategy has been continued into 1968 with a series of violent Communist actions against allied troops along the central coast where three North Vietnamese divisions are conducting forays into the rich coastal valleys. An omen came with the savage attack on two South Vietnamese marine battalions by the Viet Cong just 10 minutes after the new year began.

Allied commanders expected the regimental-size assaults along the Cambodian border in November and December. They had plenty of intelligence on the enemy intentions.

Allied field commanders did not expect the resurgence of North Vietnamese divisions thought to have been destroyed earlier in the year along the central coast, and the sudden appearance of locally recruited hard-core Viet Cong battalions that had been lying low through 1967 and appeared to have disintegrated.

Two of these local battalions occupied the provincial capital of Hau Nghia, west of Saigon, Monday morning and raised the red and gold Communist flag on a building. Another battalion overran the district town of Tuy Phuoc, near Qui Nhon, reputedly the most pacified district in the country. The Communists dragged the district chief from his house and killed him.

Back to Life

Other battalions long thought dead bounced back to life in the central highlands and the Mekong Delta.

Senior U.S. officers have described the past week as one of the most intense of the war.

Communist forces have taken heavy losses, particularly in the border battles. American forces generally dish out much more than they get, and while some U.S. units have been severely punished, morale remains high.

The Communists have had more success in undermining the confidence of the population in the central government. This was particularly obvious in the villages around Tan Uyen, the district town occupied north of Bien Hoa, and at Hau Nghia, the provincial capital similarly occupied.

People in both these areas were sullen and worried. Shop owners started sleeping nights in Saigon. Chiefs of hamlets stayed away from their villages.

The effect of a large enemy force entering a pacified region was nowhere more pronounced than in Tuy Phuoc, the cradle of pacification in Vietnam, a region which serves as a pilot project for the revolutionary development programs all over Vietnam.

Government Control

This district, just north of Qui Nhon on the central coast, had 100 of its 114 villages not only under government control but actively defending themselves with locally recruited home guardsmen.

Then a North Vietnamese battalion moved in in late October. Soon came a local Viet Cong battalion that had hidden on the outskirts of the district for three years.

Within one month Tuy Phuoc began slipping from the Saigon government's grasp, according to U.S. advisers based there. The district town was overrun

40,000 to Be Inducted For March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources say the 39,000-man draft call announced for March is a sign of things to come this sprung and summer—with monthly manpower requests of about 40,000 or more likely in April, May and June.

Last year's draft summons in the same four-month period averaged only about 15,300 per month

As one manpower planner put it in describing the upswing: "We're dealing entirely with mechanics here."

The mechanics are that the Army is now in the midst of what the Pentagon calls a major replacement cycle involving the rotation out of service of thousands of men drafted when the Southeast Asia buildup was launched

Really Soaring

By August replacement needs will really be soaring. The reason In August 1966, when U.S. manpower for the war was escalated, 36,600 men were ordered to duty, followed by 37,300 in September, 49,200 in October and 37,600 in November.

Those men will be ending their two-year tours this fall, and the Pentagon has to allow about five months for the induction process and training in lining up ready replacements. Thus, March inductees actually will be August replacements.

Pentagon planners say it would be somewhat misleading to try to project 1968's April, May and June manpower needs simply by looking at the draft calls of September, October and November 1967. This is because enlistments and re-enlistments—over which the Pentagon has no control—help determine replacement needs and because the overall planned level of the armed forces must be considered.

The Army strength stood at 1.47 million at the last accounting Nov. 30. A new force level may be set for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The Pentagon declined to predict officially monthly draft calls for 1968's second quarter, but said in response to questions, "We can expect a relatively high level of draft calls to be required during the balance of the current fiscal year" ending June 30.

Tapering Off

After that there could be a tapering off in Pentagon requests to the Selective Service System. This would reflect the dip in December 1966 to 12,100 inductions and average monthly inductions in 1967 of only 18,200

The 39,000-man call for March—second highest of the Vietnam war—compares with January's 34,000 and February's 23,300

Calls in the Vietnam war reached a high of 49,200 in October 1966. Actually, 50,576 men were drafted then—there is always a difference between manpower request and the number brought in—making it the biggest month for inductions since 54,981 men were put in uniform in May 1953 near the end of the Korean War.

Rocket Has Close Call, Lands Safely on Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Narrowly missing a dangerous rock with what a space official called "divine guidance," Surveyor 7 settled down gently on the moon Tuesday night and televised the wildest scene yet found by U.S. lunar probes.

The three-legged craft, last of a $500-million series which has already certified four equatorial sites as safe for astronaut landing, was on a purely scientific mission to the 15,000-foot crater Tycho near the south-central edge of the lunar disc.

Given at best a 43 per cent chance of success, the unmanned Surveyor 7 surprised scientists by making an almost flat landing on a crater-pocked, boulder-strewn plateau not far from a ragged ridge 18 miles north of Tycho's rim.

Desolate Scene

Between the craft and the rim was a desolate scene, reminiscent of the crater Copernicus photographed earlier by lunar orbiters.

Pictures televised shortly after touchdown showed a landscape littered with rocks ejected from miles deep when the 50-mile wide Tycho was formed by a meteor impact ages ago.

One of the craft's three padded feet was only a fraction of an inch from a rock six to eight inches in diameter—big enough to have broken the skeletal metal leg.

Lee Shearer, assistant director of the U.S. space agency's lunar program, told a news conference: "The final 13 feet of the quarter-million mile flight was under divine guidance." That was the height from which Surveyor 7 dropped free after breaking rockets slowed its 6,000-mile-an-hour plunge toward the surface.

The rugged site was chosen deliberately by scientists hoping to determine whether there is any geological difference between the highlands where Surveyor 7 came down and the plains where manned landings are planned as early as next year

Surveyor 7, launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Sunday, carries a small scoop to dig trenches as deep as 18 inches and a device to analyze lunar soil.

Flight controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said these probably would go into operation sometime today.

Dr. Barnard May Practice in U.S.

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard, who headed the South African team that performed the world's first human heart transplant, was reported today considering an offer to practice in the United States.

The London Evening Standard reported Barnard said in a telephone interview from Cape Town that he has had "quite a few" offers of jobs from the United States since the Dec. 3 heart transplant on Louis Washkansky. On Jan. 2 Barnard's 30-member team made a second heart transplant on Dr. Philip Blaiberg.

"There is one particular one which I am interested in," Barnard said. He did not elaborate beyond saying the offer was for himself and as many members of his medical team as he wanted to take along.

But Barnard stressed that he was not actively trying to leave South Africa, the newspaper said. "The trouble is," he said, "that out here you are a little isolated. For instance if there is a problem that you want to discuss with other experts in your field you have to contact London or the United States."

Barnard disclosed that he was rejected for a London hospital post four months before the historic operation.

The surgeon said an application he made last July for the post of consultant surgeon at the National Heart Hospital in London was turned down

He said he cabled his application because he heard of the vacancy at the last minute.

A spokesman for the National Heart Hospital commented: "We did receive a cable from Dr Barnard, but it arrived only 10 minutes before an advisory committee on appointments was due to sit. The post had been advertized since June 24, and this was July 28. The cable ended, 'letter following,' but no letter has followed from Chris Barnard."

Questioned about this by the Evening Standard's Peter Fairley, Barnard said, "I did not send a followup letter because I was told that my application had been unsuccessful and that the post had been filled. There seemed little point in sending a letter after that."

Killed in Action

Miniskirts in Cold Weather

Freezy Kneesies

BY DINITIA SMITH
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — How're you gonna keep her cozy and warm, after she's bared her knees? A chick, that is, in a miniskirt amidst a cold wave.

"I run," confessed Kathe Graham, discussing the problem of freezy kneesies on New York's windswept avenues when the temperature flirts with zero.

"My legs don't even get cold," insisted Judith Christian, 21, a secretary. "If I don't think about it I'm not cold. Besides, my boy friend doesn't think about how cold it is, just how it looks."

Madi Heller, 25, defies the elements on a considerably higher level than some girls. She said: "I always wear bikini underwear and so do all my friends."

A brunette model claims to find comfort in a "warm sweater." Another lass borrows her brother's heavy sweat socks. Neither seemed too coherent about the relationship, if any, with knees.

"I wore levis to work this morning under my miniskirt,' explained Ruth Pennesch, 24.

A school girl, Joan Grabel, 17, with knee socks and little else for some distance above assured an interviewer: "The cold doesn't bother me really. One teacher told me I'll get arthritis when I get old because my knees will get cold."

Miniskirted Marjorie Brenn, 22, won't wear woolen underwear because "it itches." Her solution, instead, is to ride rather than walk in cold weather. She said: "I depend on my boy friends to take care of me with transportation. But you have to choose your boy friends discriminately."

"I like to show my knees," said one unmarried 25-year-old, impervious to the cold and unwilling to give her name.

Summing it up for the girls was Patricia Fedas, 24, who declared: "After all, you can't lengthen your skirt because of the weather."

Summing it up for the boys was a girl watcher on Fifth Avenue, who observed with delight: "Crazy, man, crazy!"

Artist, Photographer Escape Execution

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — "Take them outside and shoot them," a Nigerian army major ordered, but American artist Larry Rivers and French movie photographer Pierre Gaisseau escaped death when Gaisseau persuaded the major to change his mind.

Rivers and Gaisseau, at first accused by the officer of being mercenaries fighting for breakaway Biafra in Nigeria's civil war, were to get their passports back today and planned to leave the country when they recover 10 rolls of film confiscated by police.

Rivers, 44, of Southampton, N.Y., whose pop paintings of such subjects as cigarette packages sell for $5,000 and up, arrived with Gaisseau Dec. 29 to film scenes for an African television documentary.

Search Ordered

Rivers said they were filming artists last week in Benin, a city 200 miles east of Lagos known for its bronzes. The major approached them in a hotel, accused them of being mercenaries and ordered them searched.

The search turned up a map of Africa that the artist had sketched.

Rivers said he lowered his arms and the major slapped him twice, declaring: "You move and I will shoot you, white man." Then he ordered his men to shoot the two.

Gaisseau started talking to the major and discovered they shared memories of the Left Bank in Paris.

After sleeping two nights on desks at the Benin police station, Rivers and Gaisseau spent two days in prison in Lagos, but the American and French Embassies persuaded authorities to release them Monday.

Rivers said the authorities took his sketch of the sacrificial altar of the Palace of Oba at Benin.

"I could get $900 for that," he said.

Bank Directors All Re-Elected At Clintonville

Officers Renamed; Firms Shows Gain In Resources

The directors are Clarence H. Barker, C. W. Binder, D. J. Flanagan, W. L. Harrison, Stewart G. Huber, Rudolph Schmiedeke and A. Don. Zwickey.

At the organizational meeting following the annual meeting, all officers also were re-elected, including Harrison as president; Zwickey, vice president, and Milton R. Boehlke, cashier. Dennis Carter was elected assistant cashier.

In the comparative statement of financial condition as of Dec. 31, 1967 compared with the previous year, resources totalled $5,822,305, up $226,120; loans and discounts, $1,831,393, down $269,964; U. S. bonds and securities, $2,763,052, up $502,178; municipal and other bonds, $461,957, up $127,089; Federal Reserve Bank stock, $6,000, unchanged; bank building, furniture and fixtures, $64,000, up $11,000; cash on hand and in banks, $693,614, down $142,984, and other resources, $2,287, down $1,198.

The usual dividend of 80 cents per share was declared, payable Jan. 9, 1968, plus an extra dividend of 20 cents per share. All earnings in excess of the dividends are being added to Undivided Profits account, according to Harrison.

Airport Manager Hiring Upheld After Board Debate

After nearly three hours of debate and argument, the Outagamie County Board confirmed the hiring of Charles Olson as county airport manager.

The vote Tuesday afternoon to sustain the action of the board's Airport Committee was 29-16 with two supervisors absent

Before the vote came, confusion again reigned in regard to County Corporation Counsel A W. Ponath's opinion on the legal rights of the Airport Committee to hire a manager without county board approval.

Under questioning by Supv. Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna Ponath said that based on past actions of the committee he believed it had the right to hire a manager but advised members to bring in a resolution for board confirmation to eliminate any questions.

Ruling Right

"Nothing transpired today that changes my original ruling," Ponath told the board "I still maintain my position is right I condescended to bringing in a resolution today to eliminate the wrangling over contracts"

Olson was introduced to the board after the issue had been settled "I feel beat, battered and torn," he said, "but I'm ready to go." He promised to work with the Airport Committee and said he believed the Outagamie County Airport would eventually become a regional airport.

Olson added that other businesses are interested in locating facilities at the airport and that in the next 10 years the airport would be the second or third largest in the state

Petition Read

Prior to the vote, a petition submitted by Supv Allen Bubolz Appleton, calling for readvertising for applicants for the job and for setting job qualifications and duties were read

Board Chairman Sylvester Esler sought to rule reading of the petition out of order but consented after Supvs Marvin Babbitt, Seymour and Joseph DeBruin Town of Buchanan, backed Bubolz

After the petition was read, Babbitt commented, "Now make up your minds and vote"

An earlier motion by Supv. Herbert Helble, Appleton, to limit further debate on the issue had lost in a voice vote

Olson's contract calls for renegotiation of salary and other conditions at the end of each year. The contract also will continue "from year to year according to the desire of the parties unless cancelled by giving 60 day written notice before [illegible] following by either party"

Ponath had earlier ruled that state statutes prohibited the county from entering into personal contracts that extended beyond two years and that the

Dispute Over the Hiring of a new airport manager produced spirited debate on the Outagamie County Board floor Tuesday morning. County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath, left, explains his legal ruling in regard to the contract dispute while former Supv. Al Fischer, speaks in support of Charles Olson. Airport Committee member Stanley Gillespie, center, objects to the board dragging personalities into the open. Supv. Discuss Expansion Needs

What may be the initial step toward either a new University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center or expansion of the existing facility was taken when Outagamie County supervisors voted Tuesday afternoon to study the possibility of federal funds for construction.

The county board's Health, Education and Institutions Committee, in a tersely-worded resolution supported by a voice vote, stated that a review had been made of federal funds possibly available for supplementary education centers and services. Application would be made through the university's board of regents, supervisors were told.

Under terms of Tuesday's resolution, the committee will proceed with the request through the board of regents for funds "to construct a new university center."

Kaukauna Supv. Russell DeLa Hunt, Education Committee chairman, said that a $3 million facility probably would be needed to accommodate the center enrollment anticipated for 1970.

"Are we willing to proceed or wait until 1970 when the first student is turned away?" DeLa Hunt asked supervisors. He said that projected enrollment figures for 1970 are based on present high school enrollment in the area.

Helps Build Centers

DeLaHunt said that federal aid helped build centers in Waukesha and Janesville.

The Kaukauna supervisor said his committee was bringing the matter to the board now "so supervisors could get in on the ground floor in the discussions" and so that emergency measures can be avoided when the Fox Valley Center reaches full capacity.

Appleton Supv. G. Allen Bubolz said "In some ways, the school (Fox Valley Center) is now busting at the seams" Some of the present facilities at the center are adequate for the enrollment, but some, including the library, are not, he explained

He said that while Winnebago and Outagamie Counties shared the cost of constructing the facility and share in its maintenance, most of the students there are from Outagamie County. He added that Winnebago County also is reluctant to share in expanding the facility because of the rapidly-growing Wisconsin State University at Oshkosh.

Appleton Supv. Herbert Helble reminded supervisors that if they passed Tuesday's resolution, they were not committing the county to a new building or expansion of the present facility. "It's just a feeler to the Board of Regents to see if federal aid might be available," Helble remarked. If it is, "then we'll come in with step two," he added. He said the project would require about $500,000 in aid

Although discussion on the education committee proposal was relatively short, Supv. Emmett Root of rural Hortonville said he did not believe Outaga-

CLINTONVILLE — Business is slow in the obstetrics department at the Community Hospital.

Doctors and nurses are hopefully awaiting the birth of the first baby to be born in Clintonville in 1968. None has arrived since the first of the year.

Joseph Weyers To Relinquish Supervisor Seat

A long-time Outagamie County Board member and former Town of Freedom chairman, Joseph Weyers, route 1, Kaukauna, has indicated he will not seek re-election. He had requested nomination papers from the county clerk's office but then changed his mind.

George Schroeder, route 3, Appleton, present Town of Freedom chairman, took out papers for Weyers' post Tuesday.

A contest is developing in the Town of Oneida, District 42, where Richard A. Peterson, route 2, West De Pere, took out papers to oppose Supv. Norman Austin.

Supv. Jerome Hiler, 1909 N. Charlotte St., Appleton, District 16, also has taken out his nomination papers.

Supervisors Less Than Cool

Supervisors debated for nearly two hours Tuesday morning on the hiring of a new airport manager before deciding to use the noon recess as a cooling off period before taking a vote.

The submission of a resolution by the Airport Committee asking confirmation of their hiring of Charles Olson caught some supervisors by surprise in view of the ruling issued by County Corporation Counsel A W Ponath last week that board action was not necessary.

Tuesday's debate included appearances by attorney Mark Catlin and Al Fischer, both former county board members and former chairmen of the board's Airport Committee.

Two Resolutions

Catlin drew up the resolution asking that prior Airport Committee action be voided on the grounds the committee signing of Olson's contract last week was contrary to county board rules This came before Ponath's new ruling and the submission of a new resolution by the Airport Committee asking county board confirmation

Fischer appeared in support of Olson.

Supv. Arthur Hoolihan, Appleton, submitted the resolution prepared by Catlin, carrying signatures of eight board members, under suspension of county board rules after Board Chairman Sylvester Esler ruled the resolution was out of order because it had not been submitted five days prior to the board meeting.

However, Esler accepted the Airport Committee's resolution which was drawn up prior to the board meeting this morning without the knowledge of committee chairman Supv. Paul Kostka, Little Chute, who has opposed the hiring of Olson

'Actions Illegal'

Catlin told the board he was representing only himself and was appearing only because of his "past interest in the airport." He said he personally favored giving the Airport Committee the authority to hire the manager and had sought this authority when he was committee chairman but was overruled by the board. "On this issue which was signed by three (hiring of Olson) your (the members of the Airport Committee) opinion hasn't even been asked," Catlin said.

"The actions taken to date are illegal in that they violate state statute, county board rules and the contract with Sagunsky," the former supervisor charged.

His resolution called for restoring Sagunsky's contract, and voiding the contract with Olson

Ponath, in answering Catlin, said his original ruling that the Airport Committee had the authority to hire the manager was based on language in Sagunsky's contract which was written by Catlin. However, Ponath said that since state statutes forbid contracts for more than two years, Sagunsky's contract automatically ended Jan 1 and Catlin's resolution was a "moot question."

The question is, Ponath said, whether the board wants to hire Olson or Sagunsky as the manager.

Pro And Con

Supv. Robert Weyenberg, Kimberly, a member of the Airport Committee, said he had no objections to Sagunsky as a fixed base operator at the airport but said he had objections to him as a manager. He listed a number of instances in which he said Sagunsky failed to properly perform his duties as manager He also said Sagunsky's incorporation as Maxair without the consent of the county board was in violation of his contract

Appleton Supv. Clarence Miller defended Sagunsky, saying, Let's consider Max's 14 years as manager If there were grievances why wasn't this brought out earlier? Why didn't the Airport Committee come before the board if they wanted to terminate Max's contract?"

Another member of the Airport Committee, Supv. Stanley Gillespie Town of Grand Chute, deplored the issue developing into a personality fight on the board floor "The committee acted in good faith," he said.

Proposed Calumet Water Law Ready

Meetings, Hearing to Precede Adoption Expected in March

A proposed floodplain zoning ordinance, including sanitary provisions and a subdivision regulations, has been presented for study to the Calumet County Board and its planning and zoning committee.

This is to meet the state water law, which under the extended deadline, requires Wisconsin counties to adopt suitable ordinances by April 1.

The Calumet ordinances prepared by Orrin Meyer, county agent, also have been submitted for study to the State Department of Natural Resources. Flood plain maps are being prepared by the Clarkson Map Co., Kaukauna.

Calumet will hold public informational meetings in March to discuss the proposed ordinances and make changes where feasible.

An official hearing will precede final adoption by the county board

The State Water Quality Law, passed in 1965 stipulated that if the counties failed to adopt an adequate ordinance by Jan. 1, the state would do the job at county expense

Calumet was one of several counties which requested an extension of the deadline when it was determined that the three-part compliance could not be completed by Jan 1

Freeman Holmer, Department of Natural Resources administrator, has said that if counties indicated an effort to comply with the law and formally requested more time, his department will probably allow the extension.

Meyer was assigned by the

Many Students Absent

Clintonville Hit By Flu Outbreak

CLINTONVILLE — About 10 per cent of the student enrollment in the grade and high schools was absent on Tuesday, according to Mrs. Mattie Stoehr, R.N., city-school nurse.

Causes of the absenteeism were given as the "flu," chicken pox and mumps. However, in checking with Dr. Irving Auld, city health officer, late Tuesday, he said no cases of chicken pox or mumps had been reported to him.

Dr. Auld also said a meeting of the medical staff was scheduled for this morning at Clintonville Community Hospital and it was expected the high incidence of illness would be discussed.

Mrs. Stoehr said 100 students were absent at senior high school, 43 at junior high school, and 89 in the grades, for a total of 232 on Tuesday.

Principal Florian Felts reported that at St. Martin Lutheran Grade School, there were 23 absent, or 9 per cent, on Friday; 35, or 13 per cent, on Monday, and 29, or 11 per cent, on Tuesday.

Sister Julius, principal of St. Rose Catholic Grade School, did not have the number of students absent but commented that the "flu" accounted for the absences in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, while reports of chicken pox and mumps were given as causes for the lower grades.

Waupaca to Have First Ward Race

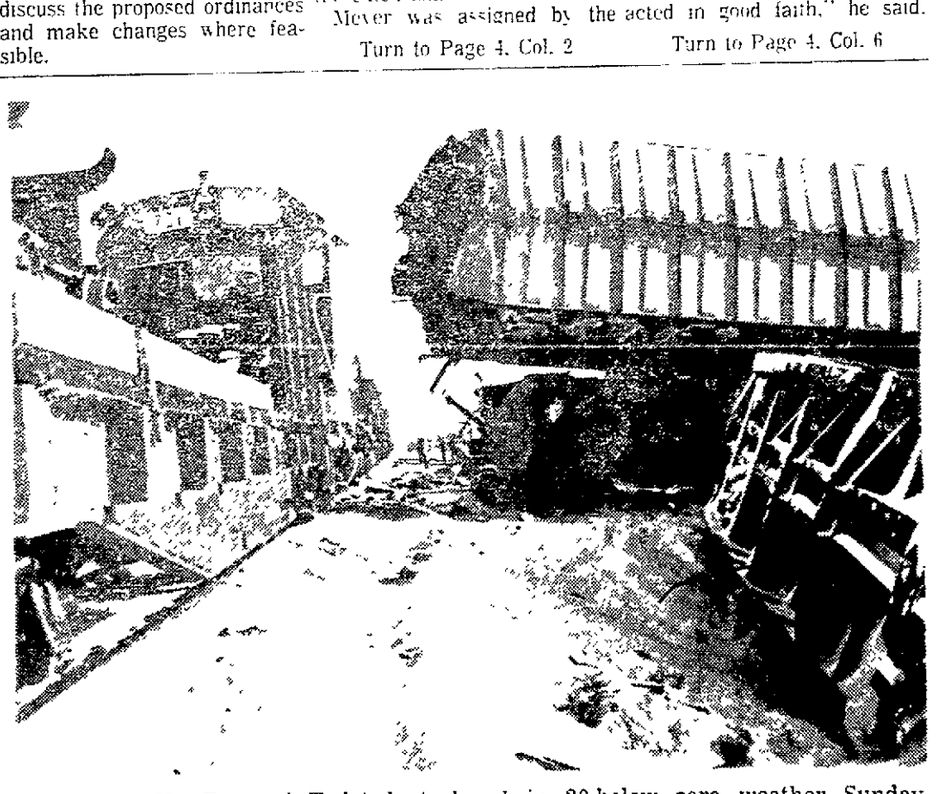
Damage Reaches $225 In New London Crash

NEW LONDON — An estimated $225 damage resulted from a two-car line of traffic accident at 11:50 a.m. Tuesday at Waupaca and State Streets.

City police said a car driven by Kenneth A. Williams, 37, 620 W Spring St., was headed west on Waupaca Street and slowing to make a right turn when it was struck from behind by a car driven by Vilas D. Wichmann, 45, Green Bay.

Police said the stop lights of the Williams vehicle were burned out and that Wichmann was unable to stop because of slippery conditions.



Cleaning Up Tons of Twisted steel and wreckage of freight cars was started Tuesday by Soo Line Railroad Company crews east of Waupaca. Eighteen cars of an 88-car freight train derailed Saturday night and railroad crews worked in 20-below zero weather Sunday repairing the tracks. Outagamie Organization

Top Diaryman Recognized

SHIOCTON — Outagamie County Holstein Breeders Association recognized one of its outstanding dairymen members Tuesday, one who has made his family name synonymous with top quality dairy herds in the county.

Recipient of the 1968 Swiss Cow Bell award was Len Voight of Shiocton.

The Voights purchased a 65-acre farm in the Town of Ellington, in January, 1929. They started with 13 cows, a team of horses and a few pigs and chickens. The deal included a chattel mortgage of $1,300 at 3 per cent interest plus the real estate mortgage. His first bank deposit was $15.

His goal of 20 good Holstein cows was sidetracked by the Depression. Milk in 1932 sold for 60 cents per hundredweight. After a few years, times began to pick up and his first big purchase was a 10-20 McCormick tractor in 1936.

By 1940, the Voights were milking 27 head and using their first milking machine. They also added 15 acres to the farm.

The pigs and chickens had to go in 1949 as the Voights converted their operation to a Grade A dairy enterprise. They purchased three bulls from the Wisconsin State Reformatory herd at Green Bay and doubled their acreage making a total of 160 acres.

Through the years the buildings took on a new look. A new home was built in 1950, the barn modernized and enlarged and a machine shed and corn crib were added.

Standard Testing

Voight started standard testing with the county Dairy Herd Improvement Association after being on an owner-sampler system. They were anxious to know how the daughters of the reformatory sire were producing. The first herd average was 544 pounds of butterfat. The best of the daughters had a lifetime record of 875 pounds of butterfat and 150,000 pounds of milk.

In 1953 Voight purchased his first purebred cow. Today a third of the herd is registered.

The next year, 1954, they purchased Mrs. Voight's old family farm to boost their total acreage to 200.

Voight was on the school board for nine years at the school he, his children and some of his grandchildren attended. He also served on the council of his church for nine years.

Farm Purchased

The Voights lived on the same farm for 36 years. He has built a new home about a mile from the farm along State 76. His two sons purchased the farm in 1965 and operate under the Voight Brothers name.

When the elder Voight retired, one cow in the herd remained on for another two years so she could boost her lifetime production to 212,000 pounds of milk. In the 12 years of testing the herd averaged 559 pounds of butterfat.

While the elder Voight still maintains an interest in the farm, the lure of walleye pike in the spring have been known to draw him to the banks of the Wolf River. But, meanwhile, his tradition of quality cattle is carried on by his sons who regularly dominate the monthly county DHIA reports with high production records set by the herd.

Panther Rally Tips Valders Quint, 74-62

REEDSVILLE — The Panthers of Reedsville mauled Valders' Vikings with a big third quarter to rally to a 74-62 non-conference victory Tuesday night. Reedsville outscored the Vikings, 24-12, in the third period.

Valders jumped off to a 21-18 first quarter lead and took an 34-30 half margin. Jay Barnard and Steve Zirbel let loose in the third period to move the Panthers to a 54-46 edge. Barnard tallied nine points in the period and Zirbel added seven markers. In the period, Reedsville hit 61 per cent — 11 of 18 — from the floor.

The Panthers collected 20 of 32 charity tosses to add to their 27 of 55 field goals. Valders hit on 10 of 15 from the line and 26 of 62 from the floor.

Zirbel finished the night with 21 points while Greg Ebert tallied 18 and Barnard ended with 16. The Panthers are now 6-3 on the season. Terry Ruh led the losers (7-4) with 17 points.

Airport Lease, ILS Okayed by Board

Contract With Kimberly-Clark Expected to be Signed Today

Only the formality of adding the signatures remained today as the Outagamie County Board Tuesday voted 38-5 to approve the lease with Kimberly-Clark Corp. for the firm to move its corporate aircraft to the Outagamie County Airport from the Winnebago County field.

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler, Appleton, said it was possible the lease would be signed today. Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath said Tuesday he had a letter from Kimberly-Clark accepting the lease terms.

The signing would culminate several months of negotiations between the county and Kimberly-Clark during which time the name of the firm was one of the more loosely guarded secrets in the county.

In a companion resolution, the board unanimously gave the go-ahead on the purchase and installation of an instrument landing system (ILS) at a cost of approximately $125,000, a figure somewhat lower than first had been estimated. Esler again assured the board the project could be financed through existing available funds and that further appropriations would not be necessary.

Supv. Eugene Kloes, Appleton, criticized some of the provisions of the lease as putting the county at a disadvantage, particularly provisions for maintenance of the hangar building.

Kloes said he understood the lease calls for the county being responsible for all exterior maintenance, all interior maintenance in excess of $200 and maintenance of underground facilities in excess of $200, including fuel storage tanks.

Ponath and County Executive Secretary Alvin Woehler said the maintenance provisions only pertained to the hangar building proper and did not include the underground storage tanks. Kloes, however, contended this was not spelled out in the lease.

Esler asked Kloes, "Do you think Kimberly-Clark is out to beat us?" Kloes said "no," but that he felt they should be responsible for all maintenance.

Joining Kloes in voting against the lease were Supvs. Norman Austin, Emil Diestler, Ralph Schwartz and Clayton Van Dyke.

Exact Cost Undetermined

Esler said the exact cost would not be known until the second bid is received on the project. Only two companies manufacture the type recommended for installation. One firm has submitted a bid and the second firm is scheduled to inspect the airport today and then submit its bid.

Supv. John Dietz, Appleton, a member of the Airport Committee, said Outagamie County is the only county in the country which has been given approval by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) to install its own ILS. After the system is installed, the FAA will take it over for maintenance and operation.

Dietz added that the ILS was not only for Kimberly-Clark but would also greatly benefit Air Wisconsin by permitting it to complete a higher percentage of its flights and would help aviation in general at the airport.

The St. Martin Lutheran Grade School, Clintonville, has five eighth graders on its "A" cheerleaders' squad. They are, kneeling, Linda Fischer, left, and Vicki Meyers; and standing, Betty Stowell, Nancy Kirchner and Sue Donaldson.

Port Manager Battle Boils in County Board

"You don't hire a man on sentiment. Most of us are sure we have the better man (Olson). This fight is doing nothing but harming the image of the county and the two individuals involved."

Defends Action

Supv. John Dietz, Appleton, also on the committee, defended the action against complaints that Olson was recommended because he had submitted a lower salary request than Sagunsky. "We didn't recommend Olson because of the lower salary. If he had asked for more than Sagunsky, I still would have recommended him. You can't run a business on sentiment."

Fischer, who was asked to appear by Weyenberg, said the county must protect its investment in the airport with good management. He added he personally liked Sagunsky but did not feel he had done a good job as manager.

Petitions supporting Sagunsky, signed by "several hundred" people, were filed with County Clerk Mollie Pfeffer by Supv. Allen Bubolz. A petition supporting Olson had been filed earlier.

Airport Manager Hiring Upheld After Board Debate

contract with former airport manager Max Sagunsky was improper because it contained an automatic renewal clause.

The vote on the resolution endorsing the hiring of Olson automatically killed a resolution submitted by former Supv. Mark Catlin which sought to have the hiring voided.

Vote Tallied

Voting to hire Olson were Supvs. Norman Austin, Marvin Babbitt, Henry Bartz, Ervin Conradt, Russell DeLaHunt, Emil Diestler, John Dietz, Stanley Gillespie, Irving Grunwaldt, Herbert Helble, Jerome Hiler, Merritt Kavanaugh, Eugene Kloes, Kurt Koletzke, George Kroes, Sylvester Lenz, Patrick Mares, Emmett Root, Carl Runte, John Schreiter, Edward Spierings, Mrs. Barbara Steger, Bernard Tillman, R. Clayton Van Dyke, Matt Verfurth, Robert Weyenberg, Joseph Weyers Daniel Williams and Sylvester Esler.

Opposing the action were Supvs. Henry Breiting, G. Allen Bubolz, Joseph DeBruin, Walter Fredericks, George Griesch, Patrick Heenan, Arthur Hoolihan, Theodore Jens, Andrew Jimos, Theodore Kemps, Waldemar Klein, Paul Kostka, Clarence Miller, Stanley Perkins, Ralph Schwartz, and Arnold Welch.

mie County taxpayers wanted to "foot the bill" for another university, when plans are already being made for an area vocational, technical and adult University of Wisconsin campus at Green Bay. He said that the university at Oshkosh could relieve some of the student load from this area.

Outagamie County officials recently proposed purchasing Winnebago County's half of the Fox Valley Center. The proposal included selling the school to Vocational, Technical and Adult Education District 12 (VTE-12) and building a new university center in Outagamie County. The Fox Valley Center is located in Winnebago County.

VA Official To Talk at C of C Dinner

Grand Army Home Expected to be Topic at Waupaca

WAUPACA — John R. Moses, secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs, will speak at the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet at 7 p.m. Tuesday a tthe Waupaca Country Club.

A business meeting for members is scheduled for 6 p.m.

Moses comments will be pertinent because of recent developments at Grand Army Home, King, which resulted in closing Marston Hall and halting admissions to the home until funds for additional buildings are available or waiting lists decrease.

During the business meeting, directors will be elected and at a subsequent directors meeting, officers will be named.

C. Kenneth Peterson, general chairman, said non-members were invited to both the business and social meetings. Tickets may be secured from Peterson or any member of the board.

Youth Fined In Waupaca For Racing

WAUPACA — Eugene L. Snyder, 22, route 4, was fined $125 in Municipal Justice Court Tuesday after he pleaded guilty to a county police charge of racing.

A second charge of speeding was dismissed by motion of Steve Hanson, assistant district attorney. The racing and speeding offenses were alleged to have taken place Aug. 25, on U.S. 10.

Snyder's driver's license was revoked for 90 days. Hanson recommended that the license be revoked for only 90 days, but indicated the State Motor Vehicle Department would have the final determination in the case.

The driver had been assessed a total of more than 12 points under the point system and must give up his license for a period determined by the department.

Meeting Date Set At Chilton by D of I

CHILTON — The Joan of Arc Circle, Daughters of Isabella, will meet at 8 p.m. Jan. 16 at St. Mary's Church hall.

A card social is scheduled after the business meeting. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Leonard Carroll and Ruth Mueller.

New Calumet Shoreline Law Ready county board last October to prepare the ordinance. After studying several models, he decided to follow the pattern of the Fond du Lac ordinances.

These ordinances, prepared by David Carpenter who is working in Fond du Lac on a joint agreement between the county and the Division of Resource Development, include a combined ordinance for zoning and sanitary provisions, and subdivision regulations.

Law Requires

The state water law requires that a county zone an area 1,000 feet beyond the shoreline of any lake and 300 feet beyond the shor line of any navigable stream or the entire floodplain of the lake or stream, whichever is the greater.

The ordinance applies only to the unincorporated areas of each county. Incorporated villages and cities must adopt reasonable and effective floodplain zoning ordinances for all floodplains whthin their respective jurisdictions where appreciable damage may occur.

Calumet has had a voluntary zoning ordinance since 1948 which is in effect in Brillion, Charlestown, Town of Harrison, New Holstein and the Town of Rantoul.

The towns of Brothertown and Stockbridge have their own zoning.

Lions at Amherst Plan Program for Guests

AMHERST — Amherst Lions Club members are making preparations for the annual guest night meeting scheduled for next month and the athletic banquet in spring. The first meeting of the year was held Thursday night in the Fellowship Room of the Methodist Church. Charles Iverson reported on last week's state fair association meeting in Milwaukee.

Combine PTA Meetings

AMHERST — January and February meetings of the Tomorrow River Schools Parent Teachers Association will be combined this year. The combined meeting is being planned for the end of January following the distribution of report cards. Final program arrangements have not been made.

Plan Letter Each Month

Program Speedup Demands Frequent Progress Reports

Newsletters of the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission will be published monthly, instead of quarterly, as the complexity and deadlines of programs become more pronounced William Morris, executive director, said today.

He anticipated printing an issue late in January and then moving to a monthly schedule in early February.

The newsletter, which was started about two years ago, is geared to keep persons in the nine member counties informed on the commission's activities.

About 900 copies are sent to county, city and town officials to brief them on the current and continuing programs.

The monthly issue will deal in more detail with the programs which are important at the time, Morris said.

The quarterly newsletter was an 11½ by 16-inch pamphlet of four or five pages printed on both sides. The monthly issue will be about half that size, Morris said.

Appleton Pair Hurt In New Year's Mishap Is Out of Hospital

KAUKAUNA — Two Appleton residents, injured in an accident at 2 30 a.m on Jan 1, have been released from the Kaukauna Community Hospital after treatment.

Injured were William Peotter, 54, 2528 Viola Ave., and Mrs Norbert McDonald, 1842 S. Telulah Ave. Examined and released on the night of the accident were Mrs. Peotter and Mr. McDonald. The driver of the second car was not injured, but was fined for reckless driving.

One-Year-Old Dies of Respiratory Infection

Michael J Hopfensperger, 1-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hopfensperger, 717 N. Meade St., was found dead in his bed shortly before noon Tuesday.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said the boy died of acute respiratory infection. The baby had been ill with a cold, according to his parents.

The body was released to the Wichmann Funeral Home.

Kimberly Man Suffers Cut on Head in Mishap

KIMBERLY — James Ver Voort, 31, 305 S. John St., Kimberly, suffered scalp lacerations and was taken to Appleton's St Elizabeth Hospital in a police car following an accident on W. Kimberly Avenue about 1:15 a.m. Tuesday.

Los Angeles County Adds to Population

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Since the 1960 census 1,020,330 people have been added to Los Angeles County's population.

The Regional Planning Commission said today the county's population as of last Oct. 1 was 7,073,030. The increase since 1960 averages 375 people a day for the 7½ years.

The City of Los Angeles included an estimated 2,818,692 residents by October.

SALUTE

A COLUMN FOR DRAFTEES, SERVICEMEN AND VETERANS

Vets Pension Due for Change

BY JERRY T. BAULCH

WASHINGTON — Almost unnoticed in the final go-home rush of Congress was House passage of a major overhaul of the Veterans Administration pension system. And the Senate seems likely to approve the bill in similar form next year.

It would increase monthly payments for nearly 1.5 million pensioners now on the VA rolls and make eligible for the first time 10,000 newcomers by raising the maximum annual income eligibility requirements.

Included in the raises would be nearly everyone who is eligible for nonservice connected pension — veterans, widows, dependents — and for service-connected dependency and indemnity of parents. Those still under the pre-1960 VA pension plan were left out of the 1967 pension increase but they would be included in this new system.

In answer to the constant cries for raising the annual income level that determines if a person is eligible if he otherwise qualifies, the bill would jump this by $100 in some categories and $200 in others. The current maximums range from $600 to $3,000.

Biggest Change

The most revolutionary change — and a potential major paperwork headache for the Veterans Administration — would do away with the current three plateaus of annual income (five in dependent parent DIC categories) in determining how much pension a person is paid by the VA.

For instance, a veteran with a wife at present receives $109 a month no matter where between zero and $1,000 his income hits; he get $85 if his income is anywhere between $1,000 and $2,000; $50 anywhere between $2,000 and $3,000; nothing with income above that.

That would be changed by the House bill in this fashion. Setups or stepdowns in pension benefits would be geared to each $100 change in annual income — which would mean as low as a $2 loss or gain, no higher than $8 — rather than the startling $15 to $50 change in income that can occur now.

As many as 28 income limit levels would replace the present three in one category of pensions.

There would be no general increase in pensions, as such, but an adjustment. However, the rates for those in the lowest brackets would go up $4 to $11 a month. And for about 248,000 on the borders of the present plateaus there could be no change.

Social Security Blow Softer

A lot of pensioners are worried that the new Social Security benefit increases that go into effect in 1968 mean Uncle Sam is giving with one hand and taking with the other, raising their income levels so as to take away some or all their VA pensions. But don't worry for now — there's a breather.

Even as things stand you've got one year's grace. Your VA pensions for 1968 are based on your 1967 income.

Also the House passed VA pension bill has a softener provision to waive any effect of Social Security increases on VA pensions over 1968 and 1969 to provide for a period of later gradual adjustment to the newly proposed eligibility ladder. A move to exempt the increase was rejected as discriminatory to other pension plans.

The income limitation now takes into account retirement income — except VA benefits — plus Social Security payments with 10 per cent deducted from the total.

Included in the Social Security bill signed by President Johnson is a provision which automatically credits active duty service people with $100 per month of accumulated earnings when computing survivors or retirement benefits under the Social Security program.

Pay Raise Bonuses

The pay raise Congress voted for the military services contains some extra Christmas tree stocking goodies for short termers not provided quarters, for career bachelors and some hard-to-keep medical specialists.

Of course, they also get the 5.6 per cent pay increase in base pay retroactive to Oct. 1, like all other men and women in service.

Men in the lowest four grades — in the Army, these are recruits, privates and corporals with less than four years' service — who are not provided quarters get about 9 per cent cost-of-living increases in their quarters allowance.

Most of these 270,000 are first-term enlistees or draftees with one or two dependents, who come into service mainly because of Vietnam.

The biggest group is the 73,000 privates first class with one dependent, who were raised from $55.20 to $60 a month. The same amount went to 50,000 corporals.

The raises range from $4.80 a month to $7.50, but there is no increase in the $105 maximum for a man with three or more dependents.

Bachelors Aided

The break for bachelors in the pay bill will go to those in grade E4 — corporals — with four years of service or higher when they're transferred to a new post. No longer will they lose their quarters allowance between permanent changes of station.

Also, a bachelor moving to a new post where government quarters are not furnished will get a dislocation allowance like men with dependents, equal to one month's basic quarters allowance.

The military services were allowed to offer a bonus of up to four months base pay for each year that selected hard-to-get doctors in critical specialties agree to stay in service beyond their obligated duty. A suggestion to include dentists was turned down by the Pentagon, which said the shortage of these isn't so drastic.

In addition, there's a provision for the government to pay the fare home for men wounded in Vietnam, going home to convalesce.

Congress Wrapup

It was one of the busiest of years in Congress for legislation affecting men in service, with the new draft law, and other measures. Here is what a few of the laws passed in the final rush will do:

— Permit the government to pay storage costs for a year or longer on household goods of military personnel listed as missing in action or as prisoner of war. The old limit was 180 days in some instances.

— Permit military personnel in Vietnam or other hostile areas to accumulate 30 more days leave time beyond the old limit of 60 days without losing it. Such excess leave in the past was lost if a man ended the fiscal year without using it.

— Authorize air shipments of parcels weighing up to 30 pounts both to and from military post offices overseas, raising the old 5 pound limit. There'll be a slight extra charge beyond the usual surface rate across the U. S. Extends beyond Vietnam airlift for hometown newspapers and magazines — to "Isolated hardship or combat support areas where adequate surface transportation is not available." instance.

— Raise the trailer mileage allowance from 51 cents to 74 cents a mile.

— Provide for more liberal promotion systems for medical and dental officers in the armed services to try and keep them in service.

— Repeal an old law which permitted the Navy to enlist youths of 14, with parental consent. This ses tthe age at 17 for all the armed services now. The bill also untangles a mass of regulations dealing with enlistments, active duty periods and other subjects.

G.I. Q. BOX

Dear Jerry:

I have a very good friend whose daughter was dating a boy and had plans to marry. He up and was sent to Vietnam. Two days before he left she thought she was pregnant but they did not have time to get married. He was only in Vietnam seven weeks and was killed in action. His insurance was made to his parents and they collected. The girl sure enough was pregnant and in June she had a baby girl. It seems to me this little mother is entitled to this man's insurance. I know there is a problem because they were not married and all the proof she has is a letter he wrote to her of plans to be married the first day he was home.

Mrs. EK, Ridgway, Ill.

Dear Mrs. EK:

A serviceman's insurance is paid to whomever he names as the beneficiary and no one else is entitled to it. However, if the letter or other evidence can prove he is the parent of the child it's possible she may be entitled to veterans administration benefits.

Dear Jerry:

My husband served three years in the regular Army — 1923 to 1926 — and received an honorable discharge. We would like to know if he and I would be entitled to burial in the National Cemetery in our state.

JWM, St. Louis, Mo.

Dear JWM:

Any veteran, wartime or peacetime, with an honorable discharge may be buried in a national cemetery. So may his wife or dependent minor children. An exception is Arlington National Cemetery, which is limited to those who die on active duty, are on military pension rolls or had special distinguished government service.

Panamanians Scheduled to Pick President

Arnulfo Arias Favored but May Not Last Very Long

By ROBERT BERRELEZ
Associated Press Writer

PANAMA (AP) — It seems certain Arnulfo Arias will be elected president next May—his supporters are said to be already plotting his overthrow.

That's precisely the way the

Arnulfo Arias

1968 election scene is currently portrayed in this capital of political intrigue.

Arias, it is being said openly, has more to fear from his new political allies than from his old enemies. It's the kind of situation that once inspired someone to call Panama the "double-crossroads of the world."

As a result, apprehensions over another political explosion are growing here and next door in the U.S.-governed Canal Zone.

New Treaty in Making

Disturbances in January 1964, involving Panamanian rioters and Canal Zone police and U.S. troops, aroused strong nationalistic pressures that subsequently led to negotiations for a new Panama Canal treaty. Still not ratified by either country, the new accord partly meets Panamanian demands for changes in the Canal Zone status and administration of the strategic waterway.

Current pre-election anxiety is the product of an alliance in December between Arias and the powerful president-makers of Panamanian politics—the same ones who violently opposed and defeated him in 1964 elections. Many who hailed the coups d'etat against a constitutionally elected Arias in 1941 and 1951 are now behind him. The question is why.

This tiny republic connecting North and South America has known unusual alliances in the past, but none perhaps like this one.

It had its beginnings in late October when the eight-party government coalition began shopping for a successor to President Marco Robles.

Robles fissured the coalition by picking David Samudio, his reform-minded finance minister. Four groups, in which most of the powerful elite is concentrated, refused to go along. In the weeks after, Robles changed his mind several times, even rejecting his first choice, Samudio, at one point. He and four other factions in the government coalition finally agreed to stay with Samudio.

Won 70 Pct. of Vote

The rebel elite groups at first gave some consideration to Raul Arango, first vice president, as their standard bearer. Then in a move that rocked the political community they chose Arias, archrival of past elections, and formed a formidable combine called National Union. These factions and Arias' own Panamenista party polled some 70 per cent of the vote in 1964.

Powerful conservatives in the government coalition found Samudio unpalatable, it is said, because he was "too radically reformist" and advocated changes in the banking and tax system that could frighten foreign and domestic investors.

Disputing this, persons in a position to know say the president-makers unhestitatingly and successfully backed a luckluster but pliant Robles in 1964. They were really fearful, these sources say, of Samudio's tax reforms and the probability they might not be able to extract from him "an adequate working arrangement."

They were finally forced into the Arias alliance, it is said, by a conviction that without the help of other parties in the government coalition they could elect no one.

Like Their Intrigue

Samudio aroused the antipathy of Panama's wealthy ruling classes by taking Alliance for Progress tax recommendations and applying part of them to Panama.

Intrigue-prone Panamanians, noting the new National Union only papered over bitter personal and political rivalries, point out ominously that Arias' No. 1 running mate is Arango, original choice of the rebel elite, and that a simple congressional majority can impeach a president. They are saying Arias will not survive the first serious confrontation and will be eliminat- means.

Many are convinced the alliance is more than one of convenience. The elite, it is said, has merely thrown in with one of their own. Arias, Harvard-educated medical doctor, is a millionaire farmer of middle-class origin and lower-class charisma. His former enemies now regard him as a time-mellowed maverick of 66 who isn't likely to return to World War II extremisms that caused critics to call him, even as late as 1964, "racist" and "Nazist".

He was also called a "pro-U.S. traitor" for muting criticism of America during the 1964 riots while censuring the government for failing to call out the National Guard to stop the fighting.

Scout Leader Gets New Post

John R. Nebel Jr., Tri-City Aide, Moves to Wausau

John R. Nebel Jr., assistant district executive, Tri-City District, Boy Scouts of America, has been named district executive of the Samoset Council, with headquarters in Wausau and will assume his duties Feb. 1.

Earl Kubale, scout executive of the Valley Council, who made the announcement, said that plans were underway to secure a replacement but that services would continue in the interim.

Nebel, who has been with the

Nebel

Valley Council since 1966, served the East District before his appointment to the Tri-City District.

Under his leadership the Tri-City South increased from 39 to 49 units and the boy enrollment rose from 1,550 to 1,800.

His staff assignment included the Scout Camporee, Dam Buster Days, Webelos Days, World Jamboree, the council's first roundup and the initiation of a council bulletin.

He also was advisor to the Order of the Arrow, an honor campers society, rejuvenated Cub Scout Roundtables in the district and was designated a Region Seven Pacemaker in 1967.

Juror Appears Sick, Turns Out to be Drunk

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A note was sent asking the judge to look at juror No. 1 in the jury box because the man appeared to be ill Monday.

The judge took a long look, cited the man for contempt of court and sentenced him to 30 days in jail for being drunk.

A mistrial was declared and the juror was led to jail handcuffed to the defendant in the rape case he was supposed to help decide.

Little Girl Learns Not To Stick Out Tongue

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) —Six-year-old Bryndl Reid of Southbridge touched her tongue to a metal bridge railing Monday in the zero-degree cold—and it stuck there.

The girl was stuck for almost half an hour until two women were able to free her tongue by breathing on it.

She was treated at Harrington Memorial Hospital and released.

Supervisors Give Okay to County Employes Insurance

Schreiter Objects, Claims Bids Should Have Been Let on Contract

Over objections by Appleton Supv. John R. Schreiter, who contended it should have been let for bids, the Outagamie County Board, by a 42-2 vote Tuesday afternoon approved an employes' group insurance contract for 1968

The North American Life and Casualty Co. was once again named to handle the county's group insurance needs There were several major revisions in the coverage provisions for the new year, according to members of the board's public Property and Insurance Committee.

Schreiter maintained that even insurance, when it is up for renewal, must be rebid. He reminded supervisors that each year the county must advertise for bids for the squad car contract, even if no changes were made in specifications from the previous year. "Now we change the insurance provisions and do no re-bid." Schreiter said.

Ponath Rules

However, Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath, in reply to a question by Schreiter, said that the county could legally let the insurance contract without taking bids. He did not elaborate on the opinion. In spite of his questioning of the proposal, Schreiter voted with the majority. The only two dissenting votes were cast by Appleton supervisors Patrick Mares and Ralph Schwartz.

The group insurance plan approved Tuesday provides a combination of basic hospitalization provisions and a major medical supplement for county employes and their dependents.

There were several major adjustments in benefits from last year's plan. The new plan provides $30 a day maximum for 120 days room and board in a hospital, while the old plan allowed up to $18 per day for 70 days in a semi-private room.

Car Allowance

Miscellaneous hospital expense coverage increases from $360 to $500; ambulance expenses are now fully covered, compared with a $36 previously; there is a $50 maximum for emegency first aid other than in a hospital, while there was no such provision before; and outpatient hospital emergency expense coverage increased from $360 to $500.

In other business Tuesday afternoon, supervisors:

—Approved raising car allowance for county business to 10 cents per mile for all but welfare department caseworkers, with whom an agreement has not yet been reached. The old rate was eight cents per mile.

—Approved raising the ceiling on per-meal expenditures to $3 for employes while on county business. The old rate was $2.50.

—Approved sending either Board Chairman Sylvester Esler or Vice Chairman Marvin Babbitt to the Highway Road School in Milwaukee Jan. 30 to Feb. 1.

Kimberly Alters School Board Election Date

Members Previously Selected on Day Of Annual Meeting

KIMBERLY — The board of education Monday night took the necessary steps to permit election of school board members at the general election April 2.

The change was approved during the annual school meeting last summer.

Previously members were elected on the day of the annual meeting District residents favored holding the election in conjunction with local, state and judicial elections.

Candidates whose terms expire this year are Mrs. Marie Ruys and Harold Wentzel, Kimberly, and Maurice Biersteker, Combined Locks. Those elected will serve 3-year terms.

All candidates must file a written declaration with the school district's clerk not less than 45 days prior to the first Tuesday in April.

If there are more than twice as many candidates as positions to be filled, a primary election four weeks prior to the general election will be required. If no primary is conducted, the candidates receiving a plurality of votes will be declared elected.

Polling Hours

Voting will be from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the village hall. Combined Locks voting is at the pavilion from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Town of Harrison voting will be at the town hall from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Town of Buchanan voters will vote at the fire house from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Eugene Schelfhout was named delegate to the state school board convention at Milwaukee Jan. 24 through 26 with Mrs. Marie Ruys as alternate. Ray Hamann, superintendent of schools, was instructed to advertise for a library clerk to replace the late Mrs. Marie Bauer at Ryan and Janssen Schools, Combined Locks.

Conflict of Interests

Boards Worried About Teachers and Politics

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Should the local school board be empowered to make rules governing the leaves of absence of its employes, such as teachers, who want to engage in political activities or to run for public office?

Reporting that there is an increasing concern about the matter among school authorities, the Wisconsin Association of School Boards will consider a resolution on the subject when it holds its annual convention in Milwaukee later this month.

The proposed resolution, as offered by the Association resolutions committee, would make it clear that the local school board has the authority to make such decisions according to its own judgment, and that enabling legislation may be sought if that is thought to be necessary.

Each recent legislative session has had several members who are professional teachers, and who took leaves from their teaching duties to serve in Madison. In at least one recent instance, the departure of a public school teacher from his teaching post for legislative work has been the cause of controversy.

(Under the state civil service law, a state employe cannot run for public office without resigning from his job.)

The boards association committee explained that instances of school employes involving themselves in politics as candidates or otherwise are growing more numerous and that the question will face the local governing officials "more frequently in the future."

The association said that the situations frequently differ, as it explained why it wants to clarify the local boards' powers to make decisions according to their own judgment of the local circumstances.

Board Okays Three Employe Work Contracts

Highway Dept. Agreement Passed Over Strong Protest

Three labor contracts with county employe unions were approved by the Outagamie County Board Tuesday afternoon but not before an effort was made to reject the recommended contract with the highway department employes and have it renegotiated.

Passed without dissent were new contracts with county hospital employes and unit 1 of the Courthouse Employes Association.

Efforts to send the highway department contract back to committee were defeated 34-9.

Negotiations are still in progress with welfare department employes.

Strong objections were raised by Supv. George Kroes, Town of Vandenbroek, to a provision in the highway contract which guaranteed employes a five-day, 45-hour week the year around. The old contract had been for a 5½ day, 45-hour week during winter months and the five day week during the summer.

Costs Would Soar

Kroes said the nine-hour day was impossible during the winter and would send highway maintenance costs soaring. He added it could force the townships to drop out of the county maintenance program.

Supv Eugene Kloes, Appleton, said one solution would be to let all of the road work out on bids to reduce the cost

Highway Committee Chairman Ervin Conradt, Shiocton, said he somewhat agreed with Kloes. "The employes are pricing themselves out of jobs."

Living Costs

Supvs Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna, and Marvin Babbitt, Seymour, defended the proposed contract. DeLaHunt noted that it costs county employes the same to live as it does industrial workers. "We can't legislate backwards," he said. Babbitt, who is a member of the negotiating committee, added, "you can't stick your head in the sand on the five-day week."

County Highway Commissioner Clarence Brownson said he would have preferred remaining under the old work system since the five-day week would leave county roads unpatrolled weekends during the winter except when crews had to be called in for snowplowing.

However, he added, he believed the contract was probably the most economical for the county in terms of concessions that would have had to be made to keep the 5½ day week. "If it doesn't work," Brownson said, "we can try to change it next year."

Enemy Troops Press Hit-and-Run Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — Communist troops kept up slashing, hit-and-run attacks today to maintain the initiative they have displayed since the New Year's truce ended eight days ago.

In one major attack, North Vietnamese raiders blasted a number of U.S. Army helicopters with satchel charges at Kontum airfield, 260 miles northeast of Saigon. But in another assault, the Communists took a bloody beating.

Enemy assault troops covering the demolition squad fired wildly into the tents of soldiers defending the airstrip, killing seven Americans and wounded 25. The GIs charged out as the first rounds went off, and later counted the bodies of 14 uniformed North Vietnamese within the compound.

The U.S Command would not say how many helicopters were destroyed or damaged but said damage was "moderate." This indicated a sizable number were destroyed or damaged heavily

The 57th Army Aviation Company is stationed at Kontum in the central highlands, but it was not known if all its 25 helicopters—"Huey" troop carriers and gunships—were on the flight line when the attack began at 3 a m.

An officer who flew into Kontum later said the enemy also got into the aviation company's motor pool "and destroyed a number of vehicles."

He said at least 25 assault troops snipped their way through the barbed wire surrounding the U.S. company's perimeter and then laid down a withering fire punctuated by grenades as the demolition men slipped by and went to work.

The last of an estimated 25 to 30 blasts went off 20 minutes after the attack began, and the raiders moved out the same way they went in North Vietnamese regulars or Viet Cong guerrillas also hit allied positions north and west of Saigon and in the Mekong Delta, inflicting almost as many casualties on civilians as on the military defenders.

One attack was disastrous for some 350 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong who tried to wipe out a battalion of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division bivouacked 31 miles northwest of Saigon but 105mm howitzers firing "killer juniors" cut down the attackers in waves.

Associated Press Correspondent George Esper reported from Cu Chi that at least two of the six howitzers in the overnight perimeter were charged with the delayed action "killer juniors" and fired so the shells would burst 20 feet above the incoming enemy.

The U.S Command said 103 of the Communists—a third of the force—were killed before the Reds broke off the attack after five hours of fighting American casualties were five killed and 28 wounded.

Two of the slain Americans were shot through the head when the North Vietnamese broke through one edge of the perimeter and leaped into a bunker.

In the Mekong Delta south of Saigon 22 civiligans, a policeman and three pacification workers were killed in a mortar and ground attack on the district village of Kien Son. About 100 militiamen repelled the attack, killing four guerrillas, but a government spokesman said the militiamen suffered moderate casualties—meaning they were fairly hard hit The attackers also burned down 44 houses

Communist gunners killed one civilian and wounded 67—including 47 prison inmates—in another mortar barrage early today on the provincial capital of Khiem Cuong, 21 miles northwest of Saigon. This was the town the guerrillas held for three hours in a daring predawn raid two days earlier. Government troops suffered light casualties in the shelling.

Communists Taking New War Offensive

Dec 22, the district chief of three years killed, and the Viet Cong flag run halfway up the district flag pole Hamlet and village chiefs rushed to sleep at Qui Nhon at night

"It was a shocking defeat for us," said the district adviser, Maj Elden Wright of Morgantown, W Va who had spent a year at Tuy Phuoc He told his superiors that unless troops were sent into his region pacification work of three years would be lost Wright says only time will tell whether the pacification program will survive the onslaught

Similar Tests

The Communists probably have similar tests in mind for other regions Hau Nghia province west of Saigon made more progress in 1967 than any other province in the 3rd Corps region The devastating attack against its capital is certain to have major consequences on government programs there, U S advisers at the scene said

Senior Americans are also mindful that all the priority pacification areas are defended by Vietnamese troops Their performance against Communist thrusts has been uneven

The Communist offensive has strained allied forces to a degree that cuts down their room for maneuver Every American division in the country has had a lot of fighting in the past three months

Field commanders are reluctant to move their battalions When the 1st Brigade of the U S 1st Air Cavalry Division moved to Dak To in November, two North Vietnamese battalions slipped into the vacuum left in the cavalry's tactical area of Bong Son It took 14 days of bloody fighting in December to drive the Communists into the mountains

Similar vacuums would be created if other American units were redeployed to help areas in trouble

Seize $4.1 Million Counterfeit Bills

NEW YORK (AP) — A Miami Beach lawyer was arraigned here today on charges of shipping $4 1 million in counterfeit $100 bills from Miami to New York

The Secret Service said two other men were arrested in Ohio as members of a ring which planned a deal for $50 million in fake money.

Asst. U.S. Atty Raymond B. Grunewald called the seizure of the $4.1 million the largest single seizure of counterfeit money in the history of the Secret Service.

The lawyer, Joel Lee, 39 was arrested Tuesday night at Kennedy Airport here as he was returning to Miami, Grunewald said The fake money had been seized at the airport on Dec 29 he stated

Mrs Vestal collapsed of an apparent heart attack while driving and her car struck one driven by Dr Louis Ludington The heart specialist immediately applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and began heart massage.

Doctors at Glendale Memorial Hospital said Tuesday the efforts of Ludington saved the 45-year-old women's life and probably prevented brain damage as well.

City, the Daily Oklahoman reported

The world's first heart transplant came on Dec 3 when Dr Christiaan N. Barnard of Groote Schuur Hospital, Cape Town, South Africa, gave the heart of a young female accident victim to Louis Washkansky, 53, who died of pneumonia after 18 days.

Second Transplant

Three days after that operation, Dr Kantrowitz made the second transplant, this time with infant boys The baby who received the heart from a baby with fatal brain damage died 6½ hours after the operation.

In Cape Town, Dr Barnard's second heart recipient, Dr. Philip Blaiberg, a white dentist, received the heart of a mulatto man, Clive Haupt, on Jan. 2. Blaiberg has been progressing well.

Then in Stanford, Calif., last Saturday, Stanford University surgeon Dr Norman Shumway took the heart of a 43-year-old woman who died of a stroke and gave it to Mike Kasperak, a 54-year-old steelworker

Heart Valve From Calf Transferred to Woman

TEV AVIV (AP) — An Israeli doctor has replaced a damaged human heart valve with a valve from the heart of a calf and reports his young woman patient is progressing "quite well"

The valve came from a 2-month-old calf and was kosher-killed at the Tel Aviv municipal slaughter house in accordance with Jewish ritual slaughter practices.

Prof. Maurice Levi, a Bulgarian-born surgeon who has won acclaim for his skill in replacing damaged human organs, performed the operation several days ago at nearby Beilinson Hospital He did not identify the patient, who he said may be released from the hospital in two weeks.

Levi, 41, a fellow student of Dr Christiaan N. Barnard of Cape Town at the University of Minnesota, said his team had been doing about three to four successful heart valve operations a week using plastic valves

The operation with the calf's valve took four hours, Levi said. He said the valve had to be modified to fit in the patient's heart

Asked how he felt, he said: "Just like after any operation—relieved and thankful that we could help a patient"
